British Win Kolapore Cup In Bisley Shoot With Small Margin

Mother Country Team in Close Victory Over Canadians in Feature Team Event; Two Victorians Shot for Canada

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 14.—The Mother Country successfully defended the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challenge Cup to-day, the Canadian team winding up in second place, only four points behind.

The Canadian team had a lead of a single point to the third of the three distances in the shoot but the Englishmen were a trifle better at the longer range.

The Kolapore Cup, one of Bisley's two historic and coveted team trophies, was fired for by teams of eight from Canada, the Mother Country, Indian, Jersey and Guernsey. Each man fired ten shots at each of the 300, 500 and 600-yard distances.

The Mother Country finished up with a total of 1,106 out of a possible 1,200, while Canada amassed 1,102.

The Mother Country won the cup from the Canadians by seven points last year.

Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa.
Company-Sergeant-Major Emslie, Toronto.
Sergeant Regan, Victoria.
Sergeant Foam, Montreal.
Sergeant-Major Read, Victoria.
Sergeant Gray, Toronto.
Lieut. J. N. Dow, St. John.

A. STEINBERG HANGED TO-DAY IN TORONTO

Toronto, July 14.—"Go ahead and hang the Jew" were the last words of Abraham Steinberg as he paid with his life on the scaffold here this morning for the murder of his nephew, Samuel Goldberg. The trap was sprung at 8.03.

Retaining his equilibrium to the last, the prisoner kept repeating in his march from the death cell to the gallows, "Christ was the first. The Jew was the second. They hang the Jew for someone else."

TWO KILLED IN CLASH

Simla, India, July 14.—Two persons were killed and one was injured to-day when police fired on a crowd which was attacking revenue officials and seizing property at Mustafabad. An official was felled with a mallet and the police were attacked when they went to his rescue.

SEEKS LOCALE FOR MOVIE ON COAST OF B.C.

Douglas MacLean, Comedy Producer, Making Northern Cruise With Wife

Retired From Production Game But Fascination of "Talkies" Brought Him Back

"I expect to find along the coast of B.C. or Alaska a locale for a new sound picture which will be produced by the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, said Douglas MacLean, producer for the R.K.O., who arrived in the city from Hollywood yesterday evening with his wife, Lorraine Eddy, well-known movie star before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. MacLean are spending the day in Victoria and will leave this evening for Vancouver to catch a C.P.R. cruise boat for northern B.C. and Alaska.

"The cannery business, for instance, has not been touched by the movies to any great extent and it is possible that we may wrap a movie story around the fishing industry," said Mr. MacLean at the Empress Hotel to-day.

Mr. MacLean has a reputation for the production of comedies and he believes that he can find humor emanating from the fish canneries on this coast.

ROYAL ARCANUM CONVENTION IS GIVEN WELCOME

Supreme Council of International Fraternal Order Holds Sessions Here

Strong Financial Position and Home For Aged Feature Reports

The fifty-fourth annual international convention of the Royal Arcanum opened this afternoon at the Empress Hotel with an official welcome by Mayor Herbert Anscomb. The convention is being attended by 275 representatives and ladies, who arrived to-day on the afternoon steamer from Seattle. Most of the delegates are from the eastern United States, and traveled across the continent, in two special trains, by way of St. Louis, Santa Fe, Los Angeles and Portland. They will return by the Canadian Pacific Railway as far as Winnipeg and Chicago.

The convention is being presided over by Harold C. Knoeppel of New York, Supreme Regent, who has held that office for three consecutive terms of two years each. The biannual elections will take place at this convention and it is understood that a new chief executive will be elected this year.

HOME FOR AGED

One of the most important matters to be brought before the convention will be proposals for erection and endowment of a home for aged members. The matter has been under consideration for some years and it is expected that the convention will grant the executive authority to proceed with the scheme.

One of the highlights of the financial statement to be presented will deal with the notable reduction in suspension of members for non-payment of dues. Despite the widespread financial stress, the organization last year experienced a better record in this respect than had been known for more than twenty years. Supreme Treasurer Anthony S. Robinson is expected to present a number of new achievements in the financial position of the Royal Arcanum, and will report that the order has $110.65 for every $100 of liabilities.

L. R. Bergh, Tacoma, Grand Regent for Washington and British Columbia, and Sitting Past Grand Regent Arthur Schramm of Seattle, were prominent in the ceremonies of welcome to the Supreme Council. They were supported by Regent Carleton W. Stocker of Majestic Council of Victoria.

A grand initiation of new members will be held at the Shrine Auditorium on Thursday evening, forming one of a series which has marked the progress of the two special trains across the continent. John W. Caveney, Grand Regent of New York state, this afternoon stated that the initiations conducted at Los Angeles and at other centres this year have been outstanding in the number of candidates and the prominence of the initiates in their communities.

The convention will continue until Saturday evening. A strong programme of entertainment, for each day of the proceedings, has been arranged by the local members for the delegates.

Mills of Plains to Grind 450,000 Barrels of Flour Commons Informed To-day

Premier States Raw Material of Bread to be Made Available at Reasonable Price in Drought Districts of Prairies; Not Decided as Yet if Municipalities Will Carry Out Distribution

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 14.—The Dominion Government has decided o direct the purchase of 2,000,000 bushels of wheat to be ground into 450,000 barrels of flour which will be available at low prices, with bran and shorts, in drought areas on the prairies, Premier Bennett this afternoon informed the Commons of the plan.

"It is not improbable," the Prime Minister stated, "that members, especially those who reside in western Canada, may be interested in knowing the government has concluded, in view of the situation that obtains, to direct the purchase of 2,000,000 bushels of wheat which will be ground into flour in mills of the west, thereby enabling the municipalities and those requiring assistance to obtain flour at a very reasonable price, and where distribution has to be made we will be in a position to do so without delay. That will produce 450,000 barrels of flour and the bran and shorts that will remain will also be available if desired. I mention this at once in order that members who may be receiving communications from the west may be able to reassure those who are directly affected by the drought conditions in their provinces."

Hon. Charles Stewart, former Liberal Minister of the Interior, inquired if distribution would be made by the municipalities.

Make Mt. Douglas Peak Accessible Premier Suggests

Beautification of Mount Douglas Park Would Perpetuate Memory of Early B.C. Governor, Dr. Tolmie States; Mountain Road to Conform With Natural Setting Would Open Up Wonderful Vista; Great Opportunity for Improvement to Clover Point

"I have many happy recollections of boyhood days when we used to climb Mount Douglas from the Braefoot Farm and I was always most profoundly impressed by the wonderful panorama unfolded and by the magnificence of its surroundings," said Premier Tolmie today in contributing his personal views on the beautification plans which are being launched here.

"In any plan of improvement that may be undertaken," said Dr. Tolmie, "I would suggest that a road be completed to the summit of Mount Douglas so that everybody—including the motorists—might get the benefit of this remarkable panorama.

"I have always argued that Mount Douglas should be made a place of beauty in memory of Sir James Douglas, who deeded this property to the people.

TRAIL EXISTS

"There is a trail already in existence that could be widened and graded to make the mountain accessible to both pedestrians and motorists without spoiling the natural setting.

"Considering that the majority of people are not athletic enough, or sufficiently keen, to climb the mountain, I think a driveway, properly laid out

R. H. HARLIN IS SEATTLE'S ACTING MAYOR

Board of Public Works Removed as Result of Recall of Mayor F. Edwards

Canadian Press

Seattle, July 14.—A "clean sweep" of the Board of Public Works and the immediate reinstatement of J. D. Ross, city light superintendent, whose summary removal led to the recall of Mayor Frank Edwards, was announced by Acting Mayor Robert H. Harlin here to-day.

Harlin became acting mayor as soon as the votes of yesterday's recall election were officially canvassed.

"In my judgment," said Harlin, "the result of the election was a mandate from the people that they wanted Ross reinstated and the Board of Public Works completely reorganized.

APPOINTMENTS WAIT

"But, as Acting Mayor, I do not intend to appoint any other new members of the board nor to dismiss or interfere with the present chiefs of the fire or police departments, nor with the present port warden. The filling of these positions I consider the prerogative of the man the council elects as mayor."

COUNCIL TO MEET

Harlin said a special meeting of the City Council would be called for tomorrow at 10 a.m. to select a mayor to serve until the regular city election next spring. Several members of the council, however, were mustering forces for a late afternoon meeting today.

George B. Avery, superintendent of street railways, handed his resignation to Edwards before the recall became official by the canvassing of the votes.

Avery said he was resigning to abide "by the will of the people, since my name was not mentioned in connection with yesterday's election."

LEBRIX PARTY PLANE WRECKED

French Fliers Who Attempted Tokio Flight Return By Train to Moscow

Moscow, July 14.—Joseph Lebrix and his two companions, who cracked up in the middle of Siberia on a projected non-stop plane flight from Paris to Tokio, reached the town of Nijni-Udinsk, near where they fell, advices to the Tass Agency this evening said.

TO SAVE MOTOR

One wing of their plane, the Hyphen, was smashed, but the fuselage is intact, according to the dispatches. Lebrix and his companions expect to return to Moscow by train, bringing their motor and instruments.

One of the fliers was injured about the leg and another received injuries to the head when they took to their parachutes after trouble had developed in the motor.

Mechanics are collecting what is left of the plane. The train on which the fliers will come back here requires about four or five days for the trip.

MOTOR BROKE AWAY

The accident to the Hypen was caused by an unexplained failure of the motor, which fell out of the plane.

Mechanic Mesmin received a slight injury to the head, but it was unknown here whether Lebrix or Doret was the other injured flier.

Ottawa, July 14. — Favorable weather has caused an improvement in Canadian crop prospects in the last fortnight, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In a report issued to-day the bureau said the serious feed situation on the prairies had been relieved by new growth of grass and late sown coarse grains and helpful showers had been fairly general over the west.

On the opposite side of the picture the report recorded that some heavy hail losses had been reported in Saskatchewan, while grasshoppers and wheat stem maggots continued their depredations in Manitoba. Stem rust had made its appearance in southern Manitoba, it was stated.

Annual Count Shows Spread of Pedestrian Volume Downtown

View and Douglas Still the Busiest Corner; Government Loses

A shifting of the traffic density from Yates Street towards Fort Street along Douglas, and eastward from Government in the other direction, with a general decrease on what was commonly called "brokers' row," are among the interesting facts revealed in the annual traffic count of Victoria, just completed by George Okell, city assessment commissioner.

The count was taken in the morning and afternoon of Saturday, June 27, pedestrians traveling past forty different points, being logged for one-hour periods. Compilation of the figures and rechecking was completed to-day.

Altogether 100,146 people were recorded on the logging instruments used by the counters. This total is a decrease of about five per cent from last year when 105,391 people were checked, but this may be accounted for by the fact that the usual ado for summer holidays had not commenced this year owing to the lateness in letting but schools.

BUSIEST CORNER

The southwest corner of View and Douglas Streets, at Spencers' Limited store, maintained its reputation as the busiest corner in the city. Between 4 and 5 o'clock the number of persons passing this point was checked as 4,500. Last year the total was 4,600, so the average just about holds.

Twenty points along Douglas Street were checked, the total traffic being logged at 65,572 for the one-hour

FINED $50 IN TICKET CASE

Guilty Plea Entered By Charles Gordon For Unlawful Sale Here

Admitting that a technical offence under the code had been committed because of statements made by the accused, E. V. Finland, counsel for Charles Gordon, entered a plea of guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge against Gordon of selling a certain ticket for disposing of property by tickets. A fine of $50 was imposed.

The charge was laid after Sergeant J. R. Paton, of the R.C.M.P., had purchased a ticket from Mr. Gordon at a cigar stand. The ticket entitled the holder to admission to the Colwood race track for the running of the Colwood stakes on September 14, but the accused told the officer that a prize of $10,000 might be obtained through the ticket, according to the evidence. Sergeant Paton told the court the racing association had undertaken to withdraw all tickets from circulation and refund money to those who had purchased them.

Mr. Finland said there was no intention of giving a prize for the tickets. It was merely a scheme for promoting attendance at the races on a Monday which was usually a poor day for attendance. The ticket merely gave admission to the track at a reduced rate through advance sale, although the association had under consideration the interesting of ticket purchasers in capitalization of the association. He asked for a warning or nominal fine.

Business leaders here to-day said the treaty should stimulate the province's industrial progress and that the treaty would have a cash value to British Columbia to be reckoned in many millions of dollars.

Canberra, Australia, July 14.—Sir Isaac Isaacs, Australian-born Governor-General of Australia, has voluntarily reduced his salary by $5,500 in view of Australia's financial difficulties and the vigorous efforts of the government to effect economies.

Previously Sir Isaac had relinquished his $7,000 judicial pension and the $10,000 annual allowance similar to that paid to his predecessor. The total reduction in his emoluments thus is $22,500—from $67,000 to $44,500.

BANK CEASES PAYMENTS

Vienna, July 14—The Exchange Telegraph news agency to-day reported the Mercur Bank had suspended payment. The official communique stated the bank had acted with the government's permission in order to prevent a run growing out of the suspension of the Darmstaedter and National Bank in Germany, parent institution of the Vienna bank.

HUNGARIAN MOVE

Budapest, July 14.—The government to-day decreed all banks and financial institutions would remain closed today, to-morrow and Thursday to protect Hungary from the effects of the financial crisis in Germany.

Berlin, July 14.—Germany today had what amounted to a general moratorium of banking operations, closing all banks except the Reichsbank until Thursday and perhaps longer. It was a precautionary measure, a temporary effort to tide the institutions over until help comes from abroad.

Reaction outside of Germany to the collapse of the Darmstaedter and National Bank has caused the temporary closing of all the banks in Hungary and suspension of the Mercur Bank at Vienna, a subsidiary of the Darmstaedter.

STOCK EXCHANGES CLOSED

Stock exchanges in Germany were ordered to suspend operations for the remainder of the week. Anyone insisting on buying foreign currencies to-day had to pay cash over the counter.

President von Hindenburg did not take advantage of his dictatorial powers to close the banks until dispatches from the provinces, especially from the Rhineland, indicated civic authorities already had been forced by heavy runs to close municipal savings banks temporarily.

Riots of jobless in Essen and Duisburg against the reduction in the unemployment dole, which unluckily went into effect on the day of the diographic, or x-ray examination of reassuring.

The government's action about last midnight in ordering the banks to remain closed was taken following the issuance of President von Hindenburg's decree authorizing the cabinet to "declare a bank holiday." President von Hindenburg's decree was issued under authority given him by Article 48 of the Constitution, to resort to what amounts to dictatorial powers in such emergencies.

The decree also gave the government authority to declare a further extension of time the banks must remain closed if it should be found necessary. The government hoped, however, that it would be possible for the banks to open again on Thursday, at least.

NO FLIGHT OF CAPITAL

The government also prohibited the banks and the postoffice money order department from handling payments or transfers of money, either to points inside Germany or abroad. This not only erected a wall against a flight of capital from the country, but it meant practically a general moratorium within Germany until the banks should reopen.

TUITION FEES ARE INCREASED AT UNIVERSITY

Measures Forced on U.B.C. Board of Governors to Balance Estimates For Year

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 14.—Tuition fees for University of British Columbia students will be increased and the number of students in the first year will be limited. This was decided at a meeting of the board of governors yesterday evening when the budget for the next session was under discussion.

By making reductions in all faculties and departments, the board brought its total estimated expenditure to within $28,254 of estimated revenue. Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, recently promised the government would provide a supplementary estimate of $28,000 to enable the governors to balance their budget.

In the revised budget approved yesterday, the governors order an equitable distribution of funds to each faculty and to administration and services. The basis of the vote to each faculty is the minimum amount which the dean of that faculty stated would be required to continue the greater portion of the work.

TO WORK ON LIMITATION

A committee of five nominated by the faculties or by deans of respective faculties will determine how to limit the first year class in arts and science and in agriculture to 500 students. Last year's registration was 581.

NEW FEES

From $100 to $125 per session in arts and science, agriculture, social service course and nursing and public health.

Teacher training course from $60 to $75 per session.

Occupational course in agriculture from $40 to $50 per session.

Partial students from $10 per unit to $12.50 per unit.

Summer session from $26 per three-unit course to $30 per three-unit course. Minimum fee for summer session, $25.

Saturday morning, late afternoon and evening classes from $26 per three-unit course to $30 per three-unit course.

BURSARY FUND

The same committee working on the limitation proposal will make recommendations to the Minister of Education with respect to the academic qualifications of applicants for bursaries to be awarded by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council. These bursaries will be available from the $25,000 special grant made at the last session of the Legislature.

periods. This is a drop of about 2,000 from last year, but is about equal to the 1929 figure on the street. The main increases were recorded on Douglas, between View and Fort, the southeast corner of Fort, at the Campbell Building showing a jump of about twelve per cent. The west side of Douglas Street between Douglas and Fort also recorded a big increase from 2,598 to 3,144, or more than twenty per cent. The northwest corner of Fort and Douglas also has increased.

Meanwhile there was a slight drop in the traffic at the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets. The northwest corner dropped about 100 and the northeast corner increased a like amount. The southeast corner dropped about 400 and the opposite corner showed a minor increase.

MOVES UP YATES

The count on Yates Street, as a whole, was down about 500 on the total of the seven points logged, figures being: 1930, 7,564; 1931, 7,180. The significant point of the Yates Street figures is that while the traffic near Government decreased in density, it increased east of Douglas, showing the tendency of the city to grow more away from the waterfront.

This effect is again revealed in the Government Street count, which has dropped about fifteen per cent. The total for nine checks was 13,814, as against 16,193 last year. Between View and Fort, on both sides of Government Street, the decline was nearly twenty-five per cent, but the afternoon traffic on the east corners of Fort and Government about held their average.

The Broad Street count, taken at only three points, showed a slight improvement, noticeably between View and Yates Street, although this traffic has not reached the volume of two years ago.

FORT STREET JUMPS

The Fort Street figures are particularly interesting, the north side between Government and Broad showing nearly a thirty per cent advance, with the southwest intersection also having an increase. Above Douglas Street the traffic was about the same as last year, although showing a distinct increase over three years ago.

Five counts taken on View Street, not including the Government and Douglas Street corners, bring to the surface an interesting sidelight on the stock market situation. The northwest corner of Broad and View Streets dropped from 1,492 last year to 1,227. Along the north side between Government and Broad the traffic dropped about seventeen per cent, while between Broad and Douglas the decrease was larger still.

Generally the count, taken as a whole, indicates a maintenance of the traffic flow in the downtown section, despite depression talk, Mr. Okell feels. It is an excellent thermometer for gauging property prices and gives concrete evidence of the general development of the business district.

MAKE MT. DOUGLAS PEAK ACCESSIBLE, PREMIER SUGGESTS

and the construction and supervised by park experts, would bring the peak of Mount Douglas within reach of all.

CHORUS OF LARKS

"Any Sunday morning I could guarantee a wonderful chorus of melody by the larks winging their way into the sky from its crest," said the Premier, who with twinkling eye recalled the excursions he had made to the hilltop, possibly on Sunday mornings, at a period of his life when he was not burdened with political responsibilities.

The Premier added that in Mount Douglas Park, the capital city area possessed an asset that would prove of increasing importance yearly, combining the features of seaside recreation and the outstanding view of straits and mountains.

"Just imagine what Montreal, Toronto or Winnipeg would do with such a wonderful setting as Mount Douglas Park," observed the Premier.

"I think Clover Point, which has been turned over to the city on lease by the federal government, could be vastly improved for the use of the people," went on Premier Tolmie.

"There is an excellent opportunity there for beautification."

The Premier spoke of the remarkable transformation that had taken place along the banks of the Rideau Canal at Ottawa, which now was a veritable bower of lawns and flowers, where previously it had been a most uninteresting scene.

This had been done by the Ottawa Improvement Commission, and the same plan, the Premier intimated, could be applied in a provincial sense, not to Victoria alone, but to the greater area of the capital city.

The Premier said he had noted the several suggestions which had been put forward by prominent citizens relative to the possibility of improving the Greater Victoria area, many of which, in his estimation, were contributions of real merit.

The capital area improvement plan was advanced to members of the government some time ago, but in the pressure of other matters, including unemployment, the matter has not yet been fully considered by the government.

Dr. Tolmie made it clear that he was expressing his personal views in the matter, without significance as to the government's policy.

WENT INTO WOODS

After going a few miles, Copeland was ordered to stop the car and the two men got out. The taxi driver a short time later heard three shots, and then the man dashed from the woods and fired, striking Copeland in the arm.

Fortunately the engine of the car was running and the driver lost no time in making his getaway. Two more shots followed him, but neither found a mark.

Copeland, bleeding severely and suffering much pain, speeded to the St. Boniface Police Station, where he reported the shooting. He was then taken to the St. Boniface Hospital for medical attention.

The gunman was described by Copeland as a half-breed trapper, whose home is believed to be near the Dawson Road.

FIND SKELETON OF PROSPECTOR IN AUSTRALIA

Bones of Organizer of Ill-fated Gold Expedition Brought Out of Desert

Canberra, Australia, July 14.—A nomad tribe of desert blacks just brought the skeleton of "Possum" Lasseter to the outskirts of civilization and there ends a story of an attempt to secure gold from the arid heart of the Australian continent.

There have been many reports of good gold in the Central Australian desert. Some gold has been found but many lives have been lost.

Lasseter's expedition was the most spectacular and best equipped, but it ended, like others, in death. A little more than a year ago Lasseter struggled out of the interior with a story of gold in the dread Peterman ranges and a company was formed to equip an expedition.

Two airplanes, a camel and a tribe of blacks co-operated in placing stores of food, water and gasoline along the route to the ranges. Lasseter was left at the most distant base to await the main party. The first airplane crashed and the pilot barely escaped with his life. The second plane met with a similar fate and its crew was rescued after privations.

Through it all Lasseter waited. Finally he tried to make his way out of the "great thirst" and perished.

WRITING DRAMA ON TRIP

While on the cruise north he plans to continue the writing of a drama which will shortly be produced.

Three years ago Mr. MacLean thought he had definitely retired from the moving picture production end of the business, but the fascination of the "talkies" brought him back and he was responsible for the production of "Coronation Kid" and "A Divorce Made Easy," two light comedies which have had an excellent run. Then he took a long yachting cruise on the coast and last October joined up with R.K.O. at Hollywood.

IS SCENARIO WRITER

Mr. MacLean said he had finished two comedies which he wrote himself, entitled "Laugh and Get Rich" and "Caught Plastered," which will soon have their first showing on the coast.

The picture producer is a native of Philadelphia and first appeared as a juvenile actor with the Pittsfield Stock Company in 1915, and was for two subsequent years the leading juvenile with the Morosco Stock Company at Los Angeles. He played in New York with Maude Adams in "Peter Pan" and "Rosalind," and with Marjorie Rambeau in "Sadie Love."

He was also with Margaret Anglin in "Lady Windermere's Fan." On the screen he has starred with "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "The Hottentot," "Let's Be Fashionable," "Going Up," "Never Say Die," "Let It Rain," "Soft Cushions," "What's Your Husband Doing," "The Jailbird," and "The Yankee Consul."

R. H. HARLIN IS SEATTLE'S ACTING MAYOR

TO PRACTICE LAW

W. B. Severyns, water superintendent, said he would return to private law practice. Severyns was chief of police during the administration of Edwin J. Brown.

FIGURES OF VOTE

The official canvass of the votes cast yesterday gave 35,635 for the recall of Mayor Edwards and 22,032 against. With 58,406 persons having voted, only 57,667 counted, as 729 voters did not operate the machines properly.

Seattle, Wash., July 14.—Councilman Robert H. Harlin, pushed into the spotlight as Seattle's acting mayor to-day following the recall of Mayor Frank Edwards, is known as the "Little Coal Miner"—he stands but 5 feet 4 inches tall—from Pica, England.

When but twelve years old he was a coal sorter in a mine in England, but emigrated to British Columbia in his early teens and moved to Seattle in 1907.

Prominent in the United Mine Workers' Union, Harlin was an assistant to Dr. Henry A. Garfield, United States fuel administrator, during the World War. Later he worked with Herbert Hoover and Colonel E. M. House in France, and Minister Brand Whitlock in Belgium on fuel supplies for those nations.

MARRIED IN VANCOUVER

Twenty-five years ago, still a coal miner, he married Miss Sarah Hind at Vancouver, B.C.

His entry into the United States came while he was en route to Cle Elum, Wash., seeking work in a coal mine there, but three years later, 1910, he was elected president of the United Mine Workers of Washington.

Harlin has been actively connected with the union most of the time since then and is labor's representative on the city council. He was elected president of that body at its reorganization after last spring's election.

LONE SAILOR NOW TRYING TO CROSS PACIFIC OCEAN

Yokohama, July 14.—Edward Miles of Memphis, Tennessee, started to-day on a projected voyage across the Pacific alone in a five-ton yacht with auxiliary motor. His first scheduled stop is Honolulu.

"I shall not have time to feel lonesome," he said. "Being the navigator, engineer, cook and all keeps me on the jump during all waking hours."

Miles started with food enough to last three months. He hopes to be the first lone sailor to make the eastward crossing. The westward crossing has been made by lone navigators on three occasions.

Henderson and French Leaders Are Conferring

British Foreign Secretary, Bound For Berlin, Discusses Europe's Financial Crisis

He and MacDonald Will Talk With German Ministers in Berlin Friday

Canadian Press

Paris, July 14.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, arrived here this evening from London to confer with French government officials.

TO VISIT BERLIN

London, July 14.—Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson left here for Paris this morning to talk with French officials regarding the German financial crisis before meeting Premier MacDonald in Berlin for a return Anglo-German conference on Friday.

While Mr. Henderson's trip had been scheduled ever since Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius came to England last month, it took on special significance in view of Germany's travail and the probable necessity for collaboration among European nations to save the country from collapse.

UNUSUAL CIRCUMSTANCES

Referring to his own and Mr. MacDonald's impending departure, he said: "We are going under exceptional circumstances. We realize it. But the decision of the World Bank yesterday must have eased the situation. At any rate, I hope it has eased the situation.

"Our whole object, both of the Prime Minister and myself, in paying a return visit to Berlin is to do everything we can to promote that measure of friendship, not only between ourselves and other European nations, but between France and Germany."

Mr. Henderson added that while in Paris he would visit the Colonial Exposition and said: "I am also going to have conversations with M. Briand and possibly some other ministers."

WORKS TOTAL IS $70,655,000

Ottawa Reports on Federal-Provincial-Municipal Relief to End of June

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 14. — Expenditures throughout Canada on public works arising out of the $20,000,000 unemployment relief grant made by Parliament at the special session last fall had reached a total of $70,655,000 at the end of June. A statement issued to-day by the Labor Department shows 309,000 persons were given employment, with a total of 6,837,000 man-days of work.

By provinces the division of expenditures was: Prince Edward Island, $200,000; Nova Scotia, $2,338,000; New Brunswick, $1,452,000; Quebec, $10,064,000; Ontario $15,556,000; Manitoba, $2,563,000; Saskatchewan $2,900,000; special relief for drought areas in Saskatchewan, $1,014,000; Alberta $2,839,000; British Columbia, $3,439,000.

RAILWAY WORK

In addition the Canadian National Railways carried out work amounting to $14,119,000 and the Canadian Pacific Railway $11,514,000 and $2,445,008 was spent through the grade crossing fund.

Up to the end of June, 88,000 families had been given direct relief. Where returns were made to the department on the basis of persons receiving direct relief, the total was in the neighborhood of 300,000.

Expenditures on the special works undertaken to relieve unemployment was provided one-quarter by the Dominion, one-quarter by the provinces and the balance by the municipalities.

FACTIONS IN LIVERPOOL IN STREET CLASHES

Canadian Press

Liverpool, Eng., July 14.—Fifty persons received minor injuries in clashes arising out of a parade of 20,000 Orangemen through the streets of Liverpool on their return from their annual demonstration at Southport. Thousands of people waited outside the Lime Street station and lined the route of the procession, which was guarded by foot and mounted police.

The parade marched from the station to the accompaniment of cheers from the supporting and jeers from the opposing factions. A number of attempts were made to break up the procession, the most serious occurring near the station, where the crowd got out of hand. A barrage of stones was hurled by spectators and the marchers retaliated, with the result that fifty people received hospital treatment.

CANTON CHIEFS AGREE ON PLANS

Gen. Chang Swings Into Line as Southern Chinese Leaders Confer

Associated Press

Hongkong, July 14—All differences among individual leaders of the new Canton government appeared to have been composed to-day with the return to the Canton fold of General Chang Fat-kwai, commander of the redoubtable "Ironsides Regiment" of Cantonese leftist troops.

General Chang returned here from Hongkong, where he had been "indisposed" for several weeks. He allegedly had been piqued because General Chan Chai-tong, commander-in-chief of the Canton military forces, would not allow him to bring his "Ironsides Regiment" from Kwangsi into Kwangtung province.

Other Kwangsi province leaders were holding separate conferences and were believed to be planning to extend their influence in the Canton government. Forces from both Kwangtung and Kwangsi constitute the Cantonese regime, but the Kwangtung element has dominated.

HUNTING REDS

The Cantonese have been making a great showing in hunting out Reds. Large raids were staged in Canton and the leftist leader, Wong Ching-wei, announced the government was planning a scheme for district autonomy as the best method of protecting peasants from communistic influence.

Confidence in Canton's bank notes was shaken by the discovery of the irregular issuance of $100,000 worth of notes by the Municipal Bank, two of whose officials were arrested. The government promised to redeem the irregular notes.

B.C. FIRMS SEEK BIGGER TRADE IN AUSTRALIA

Both Canada and Australia would derive far-reaching benefit from the interchange of trade, they said.

LUMBER TRADE

Lumber has a preference under the new treaty of $5 per 1,000 feet. Australia imports approximately 400,000,000 feet of lumber a year. It is hoped that under the new $5 a thousand feet preference the Canadian exports will be greatly increased, and as much as 200,000,000 feet is expected in some quarters, if not even more.

CANNED SALMON

On canned salmon, the preference given by Australia is raised from 3 cents a pound to 6 cents a pound. Doubling of the preference here assures British Columbia packers of what is expected may almost amount to a monopoly of that market. Last year Australia imported 17,000,000 cans of canned salmon, of which 11,000,000 pounds went from British Columbia.

NEWSPRINT SHIPMENTS

The added preference of $5 a ton on newsprint is a factor that is expected to stimulate business on the Pacific Coast. It is regarded as practically certain a vastly greater amount of newsprint will now go from this part of the Dominion to Australia than before, and that much of the newsprint from countries other than British Empire will be passed up.

There is still some uncertainty about the position of pulp and paper tissue.

LUMBER, PAPER AND FISH

Vancouver, July 14.—The Vancouver Sun said editorially to-day:

"The new Australian trade treaty has been announced to both countries and to the world. Canada gets preferential rates from Australia on 415 trade items, practically the whole Australian tariff schedule.

"Lumber, paper and fish—Those three tell in brief the potential benefits of the treaty for British Columbia. Lumber gets a preference of $5 per 1,000 feet. Salmon six cents a pound and newsprint, almost $20 a ton.

In return, Canada grants Australia a preference on a wide line of goods. For example, she admits oranges free in the summer season (the Bennett budget put a tariff on oranges with this in view), and admits dried fruits free in all seasons. That is the treaty and here is the market.

"Austrlia imported in one year more than $630,000,000 worth of goods. Lumber totaled $22,000,000; newsprint, $25,000,000; machinery, metals and metal products, $176,000,000; textiles, $109,000,000; canned salmon and other fish, around $5,500,000.

PERCENTAGES COMPARED

"That market is now opened wide to Canada. In one year, under present conditions, Canada has supplied three per cent of Australian imports; the United States supplied twenty-three per cent and Great Britain forty-two per cent.

"Canada should be able to reverse those ratios in her own favor.

"The treaty is made now; the potential market is there, waiting. The treaty does not make the market, but it paves the way to it. Intelligent salesmanship and buymanship and advertising must do the rest. That means first-hand information of needs and desires. The treaty means buy as well as sell. Ask for Australian goods and make this trade mutual and successful.

"Canada has the tariff advantage; she has the treaty. Now for the trade."

DAILY PROVINCE'S VIEWS

The Vancouver Province to-day editorially said:

"The new Australian treaty should have the effect of greatly stimulating trade, both ways, between Canada and the Commonwealth, and, as Vancouver is the port through which a large part of the trade passes, important benefits should be felt in this city.

"Three important British Columbia industries—lumbering, paper manufacturing and salmon canning—will, as a result of the agreement, find enlarged markets in the Antipodes.

"Newsprint and salmon were favored under the old treaty, but lumber was forced to fend for itself and did not fare very well in competition with the product of Washington and Oregon, carried in subsidized American bottoms. In the year which ended June 30, 1930, Australia imported $7,000,000 worth of lumber from the United States and $1,000,000 worth from Canada. Under the new order of things, practically all this trade should come to Canada, which means to British Columbia. British Columbia has been seeking the lumber preference for a long time. Now that she has got it, it is for her to make the best of it.

MUTUAL TRADE

"The treaty, of course, is not all on Canada's side. It was negotiated with the idea of deveoping a market for Australian goods as well as for Canadian, and if Canada expects the agreement to continue and to produce benefits according to its promise, she will have to do something to promote the sale of Australian goods in this country.

"Having had experience of the butter problem, which became a political issue in Canada, the negotiators of the new agreement wisely provided for an adjustment of difficulties over particular items. There will be no need, in the future, to scrap a whole treaty and renounce important benefits merely to remedy a single defect."

QUESTION OF ROUTE

The Vancouver Star editorially speaks of "the clause that provides that, in estimating the cost of Canadian goods exported to Australia for the purpose of levying duty, the transportation charges included shall be those of the nearest outport, regardless of whether or not the goods are actually shipped through that outport.

"A single example will show what this means. The natural route for goods manufactured in Toronto to the nearest outport is to Niagara Falls. It follows that if the cost of transportation were reckoned on the basis of shipment via Vancouver it would be very large as compared with that of shipment by way of Niagara Falls, and that the duty levied in Australia would be so much heavier.

"Obviously, were that the case, it might be an advantage to a Toronto exporter to ship his goods by the route that led most directly to the international boundary, which would mean that American transportation lines would obtain the business of hauling them across the continent."

The Star points out that under the new agreement "the eastern exporter can ship through Vancouver without being penalized in Australia."

Ottawa, July 14.—After months of negotiation the new Canadian-Australian trade agreement is before Parliament for consideration. The agreement has to be approved by the Parliaments of Australia and Canada, both of which are now in session. The two governments plan to arrange a date thereafter on which the pact will be brought into effect in their respective countries by proclamation.

Affecting practically every article of commerce exchanged between the two countries and taking the place of the pact negotiated in 1925 by the King Government, the treaty was tabled in the Commons yesterday evening by Premier Bennett, being tabled also in the Australian Parliament at Canberra.

PREFERENTIAL RATES

Of the 433 items into which Australia divides its tariff, Canada will secure British preferential rates on 415. This represents a potential annual market of $630,000,000. In addition, Canada will have the next most favorable rate—the intermediate tariff—on six of the remaining items. Against some Canadian imports, Australia has given this country a rate substantially below the British preference. Canned salmon, newsprint and some lumber classifications are in this category.

LUMBER AND SALMON

To Canada a preference of $5, approximately, per 1,000 feet is given on lumber. Under the old trade agreement Canada had no preference on lumber. The potential market in Australia is about $20,000,000 yearly.

The preference on canned salmon is increased from three to six cents a pound. Latest figures show an annual export from Canada to Australia of $2,500,000 worth of this commodity.

An increased preference from $15 under the old agreement to $20 per ton is received on newsprint. Canada last year sold $4,000,000 worth of newsprint out of Australia's total import og $11,000,000.

Canada gets an increased advantage on motor car chasses unassembled. The former rate was 22½ per cent, against Canada; and under the new agreement the rate will be 15 per cent, the general tariff was formerly 27½ per cent.

MOTOR CARS

Canada gets an increased advantage on motor car chasses unassembled. The former rate was 22½ per cent against Canada, and under the new agreement the rate will be only 15 per cent; while the general tariff was formerly 27½ per cent, it is now 32½ per cent, which applies to the United States. This country shipped $3,000,000 worth of motor car chasses unassembled to Australia last year, while the United States exported $16,500,000 to the Antipodean country. The tariff change in favor of Canada is expected greatly to increase Canadian exports of motor car chasses unassembled.

SHIPMENTS FROM AUSTRALIA

In return for these concessions, Canada has granted Australia a marked preference in this market for some of its goods. Rates have been reduced on beef, veal, lamb and mutton, eggs, cheese, butter, certain fresh fruits, wines, champagnes, veneers and eucalyptus oil when imported from the Antipodes.

Eggs in the shell will enter this country free from Australia during January and February and will meet a two-cent-a-dozen duty the rest of the year. The general rate is ten cents a dozen.

Cheese will be taxed one cent a pound, compared with a general tariff of seven cents.

BUTTER RATE

The rate on Australian butter will be five cents a pound, as against a general rate of 14 cents.

Important concession are granted Australian wine producers.

The treaty contains a provision that either country may withdraw the preference for any particular item without the whole structure of the pact being affected.

INVESTORS LOSE $7,371,000 TOTAL IN BIG CRASH

Two Officers of Collapsed Company Face Trial in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, July 14.—R. E. Allen, receiver for the Harold G. Ferguson Company, two of whose officers are under indictment, estimates at $7,371,000 the prospective losses to investors in several subsidiaries of the company.

The figures came from the district attorney's office, where books and records of the $35,000,000 real estate and trust venture are being examined, and were confirmed by Allen. He said less than ten per cent of investments totaling $8,090,000 in seven subsidiary companies and trusts could be recovered.

The district attorney's office declared the loss was due to alleged acts of Harold G. Ferguson and Clayton Luckey, and to the slump in real estate prices.

The seven companies were named by Allen as trusts 50, 33, 999, 27, 1013, Southern Sugar Company and Harold G. Ferguson Building Company Ltd.

Ferguson and Luckey are to appear in court Thursday to enter pleas to indictments charging conspiracy, grand theft and violations of the Corporate Securities Act.

NINE MOSLEMS ARE KILLED IN CLASH IN INDIA

Srinigar, Kashmir, India, July 14.—The killing of nine Moslems and the wounding of scores more by police in the line of duty was viewed to-day as a setback to the settlement of communcal relations between Moslems and Hindus.

A mob of Mohammedans stormed the jail yesterday in an attempt to rescue one of their number accused of delivering an inflammatory address against the Hindus. Armed with makeshift weapons, they invaded the building and overpowered the guard.

The Maharajah of Kashmir took charge of the situation and mobilized troops on the scene. Police reserves fired on the invaders and shot them down when they refused to retreat. Nine were killed on the spot and many received wounds from which it was feared they might die.

Terror spread through the city and the more peaceful Moslems barricaded themselves within their homes in fear of a general Hindu attack. The more revengeful carried the battle to the Hindu section, assaulting pedestrians, burning homes and wrecking shops.

POOLS DECIDING MARKET POLICY

Canadian Press

Regina, July 14.—If a federal or interprovincial grain board is appointed to handle the 1931-32 crop, the Saskatchewan wheat pool will give it full support.

If such a board is not appointed, then a tentative marketing policy, which has been informally agreed upon by the 160 delegates during the semi-annual meeting of the past four days, will be announced.

All through the discussions, stress has been placed on the need of federal or interprovincial control of the 1931-32 crop in order that disorderly marketing may not result and cause a drop in prices.

Premier J. T. N. Anderson, who is expected back in Regina from Ottawa to-day, may hold the key to the solution in his hands and in view of the interprovincial conference of prairie premiers scheduled to take place in Regina Thursday, his advent is being anxiously awaited by the wheat pool directorate. Possibility of an announcement of policy from Dr. Anderson, co-incident with a statement from Ottawa, is being discussed, but no details are forthcoming.

Government Aid For Sugar Beet Industry Asked

Ottawa, July 14.—The government was canvassing every possible method to foster the best sugar industry in Canada, Premier Bennett told the members of the Commons yesterday during consideration of the tariff resolution.

The question was brought up by Dr. F. W. Gershaw, Liberal, Medicine Hat, who suggested the sugar beet industry appeared to be one deserving a measure of support. Dr. Gershaw explained 500,000 acres had been put under irrigation in Alberta to grow sugar beets.

Difficulties arose, the Prime Minister replied, as a result of Canada's obligations under the West Indies Treaty.

NEW NARCOTIC CONVENTION

Geneva, July 14.—Representatives of twenty-eight nations yesterday evening signed an international convention limiting manufacture and regulating the distribution of narcotic drugs. Among the signers are Great Britain, Germany, France, Holland, Switzerland and Japan, six of the leading manufacturing states.

CLASH AT COCHRANE, ONT.

Sudbury, Ont., July 14.—Severe head injuries were suffered by Constable F. Crozier of Cochrane, Ont., in a melee which developed during a parade of unemployed in that town yesterday, according to reports received here. The parade was called in protest against the rations provided for unemployed by provincial police.

BILL APPROVED

London, July 14.—By a vote of 190 to 128 the Commons yesterday evening defeated a Conservative motion for rejection of the government's agricultural marketing bill. The bill was passed on third reading and sent to the House of Lords. It provides for the grading and standardization of packing methods and regulation of agricultural marketing.

NEW FARE PLAN FOR STREET CARS IN WINNIPEG

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 14.—Segregation of the city street railway and its operation by a management independent of the light and power utilities is the outstanding recommendation contained in a judgment of the Municipal and Public Utility Board of Manitoba, delivered yesterday on the application of the Winnipeg Electric Company for an increase in fares and other relief.

Increased street car fares are confirmed in the report, with one change in the existing rate granted some months ago. Commencing August 3, street car riders, who formerly bought a 50-cent, seven-ticket permit, with the privilege of the five-cent rate when the tickets were used, will buy a 25-cent coupon entitling the holder, during the weekly period, to ride at the five-cent rate as often as he likes. In brief, the rider who wishes to take advantage of the five-cent rate must first pay 25 cents for the privilege. The cash fare will be ten cents, or tickets may be purchased two for 15 cents.

After studying the company's financial position, the board found the Winnipeg Electric's case for relief "reasonable." The report, however, finds the company must continue to pay the city a tax on earnings and also paying charges as contractual obligations.

BERLIN MAY APPEAR GAY, BUT DANGER LURKS BELOW

Editor's Note: Germany now has her moratorium. What will she do with it? This is one of a series of stories setting forth the industrial and social problems German leaders must solve.

Berlin, July 14.—Despite the seriousness of her plight, Germany is not wholly gloomy, desperate and out-at-the-elbows.

The superficial observer is likely to be impressed by three things. He sees plenty of luxury spending, plenty of cash-bought public gaiety in the city play-places. He sees, in the streets of the cities, crowds of well-dressed people who look substantial and at ease with the world. He sees laughing parties of picknickers at swimming and boating places these warm week-ends.

These three factors are enough to convince anyone who doesn't go below the surface that everything is well with Germany, that she is merely crying "wolf."

LIKE OLD INFECTION

What is the truth?

Start with luxury spenders. In the first place, they are common to all nations at all times. Moreover, placed against a background of sober frugality, such as Germany now must live in, they stand out in bold relief. The story of the 1922 inflation, during which the mark went crazy and economic laws were repealed, is being repeated.

The German is doing what anyone would. He is clinging to his polished shoes, his properly-pressed clothes and his white collar because his natural pride makes him want to look solvent as long as he can. The look of solvency may be based on a series of pawn tickets, but the world needn't know that.

SIGNS OF TROUBLE

The government is fearful that unless something is done to relieve the pressure on Germany, the songs sung by the picknickers will turn into revolutionary shouts.

There have been rumblings. In the same Berlin where the splurgers do their big-time spending, small groups of the jobless periodically raid food stores. The Hitler movement, only a short time ago looked upon as a threat, turned into semi-farce, again is taken with complete seriousness.

To be sure, the yearly drain of reparations payments may not be wholly the cause of Germany's travail. Certainly some of the larger cities, for instance, floated too many bond issues during the hopeful period from 1925 to 1927.

Whatever the cause, the effect is apparent—apparent to Ramsay MacDonald and Herbert Hoover, as well as to any observer who cares to look beyond Unter Den Linden and Parisplatz.

METEORITE FOUND

Lewistown, Mont., July 14. — A meteorite, three inches in diameter and weighing one pound, was still warm when it was brought here yesterday evening from Corbley, five miles distant, by J. L. Ravkman, in whose front yard it had fallen. Revkman said members of the family had heard a report like thunder and seen a cloud of dust. Grass burned away from the spot where a portion of the meteorite could be seen, then white hot.

GREEK PAYMENTS NOT UNDER NEW MORATORIUM

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuter's

Athens, Greece, July 14.—Government officials here are reported to hold the view that President Hoover's plan for a one-year moratorium of war debts should apply to the Greek debt to Canada on account of the grain consignments of 1919 and 1920.

It was understood yesterday, however, that Greece was notifying the Bank of International Settlements it could not accept the Hoover plan because the Oriental indemnities included therein would leave an important deficit in the national budget.

Total amount of the Greek debt to Canada is stated to be $6,755,000.

SENATE TOLD OF ROBERTSON'S RECENT TOUR

Minister of Labor Says 150,000 Needy in Saskatchewan Need Government Help

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 14.—In Saskatchewan there is an area of 15,000 square miles without grain or grass. In his review of the unemployment situation following a trip to the British Columbia coast, Senator G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, yesterday evening told the Senate in that province alone there were 150,000 people who must be clothed and fed.

Conditions throughout western Canada were generally anything but optimistic, Senator Robertson said. In British Columbia there were 10,000 fewer at work than in normal times. Freight trains in that province were carrying an average of fifty transients seeking employment.

In Alberta crops were fair in most districts, but the cities of Edmonton and Calgary had many transients.

DRIFTERS AT WINNIPEG

The city of Winnipeg was filled with drifters, the minister said, half of whom were of foreign birth. In eastern Manitoba crops were fair, but in the western parts of the province there was a crop failure.

In Port William and Port Arthur there were 8,000 unemployed, nearly all of foreign birth.

Almost the only one bright spot in Senator Robertson's survey was the Maritimes. With the exception of Cape Breton, conditions were fairly good. Rebuilding of the docks at St. John, N.B., recently destroyed by fire, would provide work for a large number of men.

Good crops in Ontario and Quebec were a matter for satisfaction. However, depression in the pulpwood industry and consequent closing down of mills had entailed hardships and privation.

MEIGHEN NAMED TO COMMITTEE IN BIG PAPER FAILURE

Toronto, July 14.—(By the Canadian Press)—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former Premier of Canada, will act as chairman of a protective committee representing bondholders of the Great Lakes Paper Company, one of the Backus subsidiaries, placed in receivership.

The receivership order of Mr. Justice Sedgewick followed default of interest on a $10,000,000 bond issue, due March 1, 1931. The bond issue bore 6 per cent and was secured by a first mortgage on the property of the company at Fort William, Ont.

Other members of the protective committee will include A. D. Cobban, of Wood, Gundy and Co., Toronto; J. G. Ratcliffe, of McLeod, Young and Weir, Toronto and Montreal; R. P. Mathieson, of Chicago, and Henry D. Thrall, of Minneapolis, the latter two representing United States banking interests connected with the original offering bonds.

The committee will co-operate with the National Trust Company, which was appointed receiver.

Soya Bean Urged As Prairie Crop

Montreal, July 14.—Western Canada may find a way out of its depression growing a Manchurian crop—the soya bean—which would not only bring prairie farmers handsome prices for the oil extracted, but would provide as a by-product an excellent cattle fodder to help build up the prairie's lost beef industry, according to an opinion expressed here by Col. L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian trade commissioner to China.

"The soya bean," Col. Cosgrave declared yesterday, "is grown extensively in Manchuria, where the climate is almost exactly that of the prairie provinces. The bean lends itself to machinery cultivation and harvesting, and Canadian farmers should be able to product it at a price very much competitive with that of the Manchurian growers, who still are dependent on hand labor."

RUSSIAN FLIERS KILLED

Moscow, July 14.—Eight Russian army officers were killed yesterday in an airplane accident near Alabino, thirty miles west of Moscow. The officers killed were Assistant Chief Traandafilow, of army headquarters; Kilenovsky, assistant chief of the mechanization department; a headquarters office, two senior aviators, an observer and two technicians.

ONTARIO WINE MEN STUDY NEW TRADE TREATY

Toronto, July 14.—Wines of the fresh grape would now be placed directly in competition with the Australian product, an official of the Ontario Wine Company stated in commenting on the new Canadian-Australian trade treaty. Under the old treaty a duty of approximately 77 cents a gallon was imposed on wines up to 35 per cent proof spirit, while he understood the new duty to be only 25c.

Paper Mills Defunct But Will Operate

Fort William, Ont., July 14.—Information received here indicates the Great Lakes Paper Company's Fort William mill will continue to operate. The company passed into a receiver's hands yesterday at Toronto. Its mills here represent an investment of about $13,000,000.

Capable of providing employment for 475 men, the Fort William mill has had between 300 and 350 men on its payroll during recent months.

THE NEW TREATY

ASSUMING THE AUSTRALIAN PARliament will approve its terms, the new trade treaty which Canada and the southern Dominion have negotiated should result in a very considerable increase of business between the two countries. This Dominion is to be given the advantage of the British preferential tariff on 415 out of 433 items in the Australian tariff schedules in a potential market worth $630,000,000. The new arrangement should be of great benefit to the Dominion as a whole, and especially to British Columbia.

Of direct interest to this province is the important tariff concession to lumber, newsprint, and canned salmon. On many classes of lumber the British Columbia product will enjoy a preference of approximately five dollars per thousand feet board measurement, which is expected to divert the greater part of the business Australia has been sending to the United States, and to the Scandinavian and Baltic countries, to Canada, mainly, of course, to this province. The southern Dominion's purchases of softwood lumber annually amount to about 500,000,000 feet, of which something like 300,000,000 feet has been shipped from the Pacific Coast, all but about 40,000,000 feet of this total being obtained in the neighboring states of the republic on the south. Under the new arrangement it ought to be possible for British Columbia mills to multiply 40,000,000 feet several times, which, with the present price at around fourteen dollars per thousand feet board measurement, would add substantially to turnover and payrolls. This concession with respect to lumber, incidentally, is the result of years of effort on the part of the lumbermen themselves as well as the government of the Dominion and province.

As mentioned the other day, Canadian newsprint will enter Australia practically free, the only duty to be exacted is what is known as the primage charge, which works out at approximately $2.30 a ton. Hitherto the main duty was five dollars a ton, plus primage. Now, however, the foreign product must pay a duty of twenty dollars a ton, the amount of the preference—which previously was fifteen dollars—the Canadian commodity will enjoy. It will be recalled that under the treaty negotiated by Mr. Robb in 1925 the preference then extended to our newsprint was sufficient to induce British Columbia mills to increase their capacity very considerably. This meant labor in the construction of additional plants and a greater permanent payroll, with several forms of development, such as, for example, the expansion of a whole community at Powell River. By increasing the preference another five dollars, British Columbia newsprint exports no doubt will increase in proportion.

The other item in which this province is vitally interested is canned salmon. Under the old agreement which will now be replaced this commodity enjoyed a preference of three cents a pound; the new preference will extend it to six cents a pound—a concession which will give the Canadian product a useful advantage over the United States product.

Until the treaty has had an opportunity to operate, of course, it is impossible to estimate how much the new concessions will be worth to this country. The very fact that the British preference has been extended to such a comprehensive range of commodities, on a reciprocal basis, is a guarantee that trade between the two Dominions will grow considerably. This is especially important at this time, since it holds out the promise of an increased demand for more labor in industry and the various services that will be employed in consequence. Canadian-Australian trade for the year ending with last May showed a decline of a little less than $8,000,000, from about $20,000,000 to $12,000,000, with, however, a substantial balance in this country's favor. But a year or so ago the exchange was worth nearly $25,000,000. It is to be hoped now, incidentally, that the government will take immediate steps looking to the negotiation of a new treaty with New Zealand, our trade with which Dominion has dwindled to a shadow of what it formerly was.

A NATION IN TRAVAIL

"In Berlin, to-day, men's souls, in all classes and in all walks of life, are troubled to their depths."

THIS IS ONE PASSAGE FROM A letter written to The London Economist by an Old Country correspondent who has lately visited Germany and has set down, without partiality or prejudice, the impressions which he obtained of that country's inner crisis. He deals with the life of the people, their state of mind, some of the paradoxes which disturbed him, and in his general summing up he says "in German minds to-day the advent of next winter portends the end of the world." At some length then he discusses the political situation, the precarious position of the Bruening government, and the sinister aims and hopes of the Nazis and Communists. We read:

Which do they fear more: The National Socialists or the Communists? The Germans to whom I talked—and almost all of them belonged to the moderate middle parties between the two violent extremes—did not seem to regard the distinction as very important. "The young men will overthrow the present regime as Nazis and then reign in its stead as Communists," was a frequent reply.

What is in a name? The reality is that, in the present state of Germany, and of the world, the young men of all classes in Germany are in a revolutionary frame of mind, which threatens, by next winter, to express itself in action unless the situation changes in the meantime.

My German informants did, however, distinguish very clearly between the disinherited and exasperated young men of this class and that. The higher the class, the greater the technical qualifications, the deeper the disillusionment. And, accordingly, that majority of people in Germany—and I believe it is still a majority—which dreads revolution is particularly afraid of the "Akademiker," the young men who have been through the universities to qualify as doctors and lawyers and engineers, and to find themselves stranded as an unemployed intellectual proletariat.

These, one hears, will be the spearhead of the revolution—as Hitlerites to-day, as Communists to-morrow, but as revolutionaries day in and day out. They are revolutionaries not because they believe that this revolutionary programme or that will bring them salvation (for that matter, all these programmes are remarkably vague), but because they are frustrated and disillusioned in their own individual lives.

The letter concludes, however, with its author's opinion that there is now on foot in Germany something in the nature of a religious movement, by its nature almost unorganized, but none the less apparent. He interprets this as a revulsion from the materialism of the modern Reich to the idealism which reigned during the preceding age of adversity. The strength of this movement, he says, can not be expressed in statistics; but he thinks it can be gauged by the strength of the regard for Dr. Bruening, "the man of the hour, who is also a man of religion." And if as the result of what is taking place in Germany at the present time the Chancellor succeeds in staving off a revolution, as he has done so far by obtaining from his countrymen one material sacrifice after another, it is because they know his personal life is austere and unself-seeking.

The picture this correspondent paints of the Germany of to-day is in striking contrast with the Germany France, by her actions, chooses to regard her.

A POPULAR DECISION

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA GOLF ASSOciation is to be congratulated upon its decision to send a team from this province to represent British Columbia in the interprovincial contest which will take place in Montreal early next month. Victoria will be represented by two of the city's most promising young players in the persons of Bob Morrison and Harold Brynjolfson, both of whom have done exceedingly well in tournaments in the last year or so. Freddie Wood, Don Gowan, and Kenny Black will be Vancouver's contingent. These five players will constitute a formidable array of talent from which to select the four-man team. In an advisory capacity, Jack Matson, of Victoria, will accompany them, and under his generalship and with his experience at their disposal, they should give a good account of themselves.

It is important also that British Columbia should send a team to Montreal to take part in this match and to play in the Canadian amateur championship tournament in the following week, if only to show that the west is taking a very lively interest in the event, which nearly always is held too far away from this coast to permit of many bids for national amateur honors from this province. It is noted in the announcement from the president of the British Columbia golf body that while in Montreal the coast contingent will make a strong bid for the Canadian championships for this province next year. It is high time this fixture was carded either for Victoria or Vancouver. Both cities have many fine courses and adequate accommodation for the holding of this and any other form of national or international sports meet. The Times wishes the B.C. team the best of luck in this part of their business as well as in the more serious part of their work on the fairways at Montreal.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CANADIAN MERCHANT MARINE
The Fredericton Mail

Sir Henry Thornton has made the suggestion that Canada should take steps immediately to dispose of the tramp steamers which comprise the Canadian Merchant Marine. There are in all twenty-nine ships, not including the West Indian liners, and they have been very successful as money losers. Sir Henry has tried hard to put them on a paying basis, but was unequal to the task. These ships were constructed during the war and were afterwards pushed upon the Canadian National Railways.

THE NEW SENATORS
The Saskatoon Phoenix Star

Felicitations are being extended to-day to Canada's two new members of the upper chamber at Ottawa. The announcement of the appointments had been eagerly awaited for months by western Canada. The selection of "Pat" Burns of Calgary, will meet with general approbation throughout the west as a fitting honor to a notable pioneer in his declining years, and the naming of Arthur Marcotte, K.C., of Ponteix, Sask., will be accepted with only minor criticism from the Conservatives of Saskatchewan. Senator Marcotte is better known in southern Saskatchewan than in this part of the province. His political and legal activities have rarely brought him north and it is believed that his appointment at the present time is the fulfillment of an understanding reached some years ago. Regardless of what part Senator Patrick Burns may play in the debates of the "elder statesmen" at Ottawa, his appointment will be a popular one throughout the west, and particularly in Alberta.

A KINDLY GOVERNOR
The Toronto Globe

Unofficial Ottawa intimation that Hon. W. D. Ross will retire from the office of Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario at the end of a two months' leave of absence will bring a general feeling of regret among those who have observed the happy and unselfish manner in which His Honor has performed his duties during his four and a half years at Government House.

The public has little basis on which to estimate the formal services of a Lieutenant-Governor, but it may be assumed that a man of the high financial and business standing of Mr. Ross would not be lacking in the exactness and faithfulness which his office demands.

The people of Ontario, however, are in no doubt as to the kindly devotion of His Honor to the continuous duties which fall to him in connection with public functions. He has lent his patronage and support to hundreds of undertakings for the well-being of the province, whether connected with welfare work, the promotion of sport, or the advancement of social and economic life.

These duties, doubtless, brought their own pleasures and rewards; but no one who has observed a daily round of entertainments and public meetings can be ignorant of the heavy drain it means on the vitality and good-nature of those in the limelight.

The good-will and hospitality of Hon. W. D. Ross place him well forward in the ranks of the honorable company of business men who have served this province through the channels of Government House.

A THOUGHT

For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.—Ecclesiastes vii 1.2

Loose Ends

London and New York engage in a senseless contest—which has a bearing on things here—now and in the future.

By H. B. W.

THE LATEST census figures show that London is still larger than New York and the newspapers are telling of the notable struggle which these cities are conducting for supremacy. It is with a glow of honest British pride that London announces it is much larger than New York, if you take it all into consideration. To which New York replies, indignantly and with a kind of swagger, that it is larger than London if it takes in a lot of other places nearby. Until, if this extension of boundaries goes on much longer, New York will include the outskirts of San Francisco and London will be claiming part of Edinburgh. And altogether it is about as absurd a contest as a walkathon in Victoria.

* * *

IT IS ABSURD because there is nothing to be proud about in the growing populations of London and New York. It is cause for alarm and horror. On the contrary, the contest should be to reduce the populations of London and New York as rapidly as possible. They are too big now. They are not only too big for their own individual good but they are a bad example; they represent the tendency of our age to concentrate in large centres, herd together like sheep in cramped, unwholesome surroundings, just as the Romans did before their fall. Men were not built to swarm like bees in a hive. This concentration of population is bad in many ways. It breeds political corruption and is the mother of crime. It robs children of the sunshine, fresh air and green grass which makes them strong. It makes men move so fast that they are soon moving only and not really living at all. But worse than anything, it removes man entirely from all kinship with the soil, from which he has always derived his strength, even though he derive it from no nobler association than eighteen holes of golf on Saturday afternoon.

* * *

THESE great cities are a relatively new thing and their life, up to recently, was lived by only a small fraction of the population. Now that they are drawing so large a part of the world's people they are going to have a profound effect on the race and it will be a profoundly evil effect in the long run. From the standpoint of comfort and sanity and happiness a good case could be made out to prove that Victoria's present size is about ideal. There is plenty of everything here, plenty of people, plenty of sunshine, plenty of elbow room, gardening space, and golf courses to keep everybody happy; and if we lack the intellectual and artistic treasures which are found in great cities, still, on the other hand, we have not been poisoned by the miasma of city life and rendered incapable of appreciating our still greater treasures of comfort and (if one may say it while walkathons still flourish) of sanity.

* * *

IF INSTEAD of one Montreal and one Toronto, there were a score of Victorias scattered all over Canada, we should be a sounder nation. Sounder economically because our wealth would be better distributed, our markets closer to our producers. Sounder politically because governments would not be so influenced by the selfish interests of great centres of business and wealth. Sounder physically and mentally because our people would live under better, under almost ideal conditions. Sounder in nationhood because our people would be grounded on good Canadian soil, conscious of their Canadian surroundings, not so easily swayed in the mass by foreign ideas. And sounder in spirit, as every man must be who has time and space to contemplate something more enduring than skyscrapers.

* * *

UNDER our present conditions it is nice these hot days, to see the children swarming on the beaches. But in view of the inevitable future growth of this city, it is rather alarming to see how well filled the beaches are. Some of the more popular beaches, like Cadboro Bay, on a Saturday afternoon, remind one almost of the infested sands of Coney Island during a heat wave. In a few years Victoria will need all the beaches within easy reach of the city. And when that time comes it will realize what a serious blunder it made in community planning when it failed to secure control of the entire waterfront from the Outer Wharves all the way out to Cadboro Bay at least. The value of such control is shown, for example, at the Willows Beach, where a municipal park stretches from the road to the water and where all the space is required for present needs. A similar park stretching completely around the southern tip of the Island will be none too large in a few years, if the population continues to grow as it is growing now. A wise community would secure the remaining open waterfront, where there are no buildings, against that time.

VANCOUVER, which we like to think is made of a coarser stuff than we are, which we imagine to be a more worldly, materialistic city, without our superior culture, has shown greater wisdom in this matter than we have. It has made a park of the whole waterfront, miles and miles of it, from Echo Beach all the way around Point Grey to the mouth of the Fraser. No buildings will be allowed on these miles of beaches and beautiful timber. The public will own it and use it in perpetuity, and when you drive around the waterfront of Vancouver a hundred years from now you will be able to see the Gulf of Georgia and the sunset over Vancouver Island without peering between stucco houses, as we shall soon have to do in many parts of Victoria. The trouble with us here is that, with all our culture, we seem to lack imagination on a community scale and have somehow conceived the idea that we will never be any larger than we are now. The result will be that, suddenly finding ourselves a big city, we shall have to spend millions where only thousands would be needed now.

The record catch of whales at Sechart, reported in yesterday's Times, is one of the most interesting industrial announcements that has been made in this city for some time. Word has been received from Plumper's Pass to the effect that the salmon are rising to the fly in splendid style. Many good catches are being made, ten fish being landed with a rod last Wednesday. They average seven pounds apiece.

A DANGEROUS STREET

To the Editor:—Although the soil is saturated as a result of the recent damp spells, I noticed that city workmen this morning were out with their hose and pouring thousands of gallons of water on the boulevards. It not only seems useless, but possibly damaging to the boulevards to be so heavily soaked. While these men are putting in time in this way, the city is allowing such things to exist as the absolutely shocking condition of the centre roadway on Cook Street between Fairfield and May Streets. The centre third of the street is so bad there that I see they have had to board parts of it over, here and there, so that automobiles can get across. At any time there is liable to be a bad accident there, if a motor car is suddenly forced to turn out into the centre rough. I think the city should try to spend its money in a useful way.

WORK WANTED

To the Editor:—Please allow me space in your paper to express my indignation at such a society as a Friendly Help being formed in Saanich. A society of that kind has worked itself out. Conditions are too serious now. We want work and only the sick and delicate need help. We want work and Saanich can find work for the unemployed. I suggest they put a figure in for the large high school which is going to be built on Carey Road and give every man $5 per day, foremen as well as laborers, for all women have to pay the same price for food and clothing and that should be considered at times like these. The contractors building the high schools have practically the same men on now they had at the start and our men are wasting time looking for work from them. So stop the bluffing. Let us get down to business.

WALKATHONS

To the Editor:—If Attorney-General Pooley is sincere in his disapproval of walkathons, why does he not get an order-in-council to prohibit them? Orders-in-council are not liable to legal actions for damages. The grandiloquent action of the Attorney-General in prohibiting walkathon weddings, followed by the comfortable assurance that the naughty reverend man who officiated will, after a formal inquiry, probably be reinstated, looks like an attempt to divert the public mind from the real issue, which is, in my opinion, the attempt of certain anti-puritan organizations to keep the public mind in mental bondage by a deluge of sex plays, sex books, encouragement of immodest dancing, over-indulgence in sport, etc. It is essential that the public mind (for the preservation of certain organizations) be diverted and, at all costs, be prevented from developing.

UNEMPLOYMENT

To the Editor:—It is interesting to read the many communications in your paper relative to what might be done to permanently benefit Victoria by way of making it more attractive to tourists.

This is an old, old story and they all wind up with the same idea, that a definite and comprehensive plan of improvement should be drawn up and worked out as the occasion arises.

This is only common sense, but in Victoria it is never acted upon and all ends in talk.

The Parks Board in Vancouver lately spent $245,000 of relief money and it was spent effectively on the many public places. The results are obvious. The money came from the Dominion and Provincial Government grants, plus $105,000 from the civic employees and hotel men.

Victoria had a proportionate like amount from government grants, but alas! there was no plan or vision, and as I understand it, most of our unemployment money was spent in cutting cord-wood at Goldstream and Thetis Lake, which no one will buy as the hauling and handling costs are too great. What foresight!

If we have no definite plan what is going to be the result?

Surely it is obvious that if Beacon Hill Park is ever going to be improved, water is essential; the city has the water, the water pipe is in stock and paid for, therefore it should be a simple matter to start the unemployed digging trenches to lay the pipe in awaiting the glorious day when the aforesaid plan will be promulgated.

WEARY WILLIE.

OUR VACANT LOTS

To the Editor:—With reference to the employment question, would it not be possible for the vacant lots owned by the city to be cleared and, later, planted with potatoes and other vegetables for the use of those that need extra food? When one considers how the Irish people subsisted for generations mainly on potatoes, it seems a pity not to use the spare ground for such an easily-grown food. A communal kitchen might, perhaps, be erected at small expense and, at least, then there would be no actual starvation.

There are a great number of vacant lots owned by people who have for years paid heavy taxes without receiving any benefit from their outlay. If these lots were cleared and beautified by flowers and shrubs, visitors would probably be far more tempted to buy property here than they are now. The people as a whole would not grudge the money spent as, in any event, work has to be found for the unemployed and, at present, every vacant lot is an eyesore and also a menace to the surrounding gardens on account of weeds and insect pests.

At a time like the present, when money has to be spent, it would seem to be a wonderful opportunity to make this town a vastly more agreeable spectacle to the eye than it is now. There are numerous houses that need painting and this work also should be undertaken now while the crisis of unemployment exists. We ought, as far as possible, to obtain value for every dollar of relief. The dole system destroys morale and is undesirable from every point of view.

OUR RAILROAD

To The Editor:—In Sunday's Colonist in a letter headed "Canadian National Railways," F. J. Bourne's remarks about the Canadian National Railways are very interesting. It should have been quite as evident twenty years ago as it is to-day that 10,000,000 people could not support three transcontinental railways. Who has been responsible for this ridiculous waste of the public moneys? Take, for example, the McKenzie and Mann connection with this matter. Who, knowing them can doubt Sir Henry Thornton's statement that the railways when handed over to him were a "collection of junk." Where would British Columbia be to-day if the federal government had not taken over their share of the "junk pile" and who was responsible for paying McKenzie and Mann about twice as much for the British Columbia collection of "junk" as it ever cost McKenzie and Mann?

Then there is another white elephant—the P.G.E. Who was responsible for this? It is true in those day the people were crazy just to get money spent in this country and never looked to the future, whereas a wise statesman—had such been at the helm—would have done something to curb this enthusiasm for reckless expenditure.

Does Mr. Bourne suggest that the C.P.R. has dealt fairly with the Canadian people? Is not there something in their charter that says something about when they pay ten per cent dividends they shall reduce their rates? Is it not a fact that C.P.R. has continuously distributed shares amongst its existing shareholders at a price considerably below what those shares could have been sold for in the public market. Was this honest?

READING FOR THE YOUNG

To the Editor:—Having discussed the menace of atheism in other parts of the globe, it would seem advisable to take stock of conditions on our own doorsteps, viz., in our hearts and homes, where the fundamental danger lies in neglect of providing mental food and training for the child's mind.

Most parents give the best possible care to the physical health and nourishment of their children, whilst mental nourishment and development take second place or perhaps no place at all. The selection of suitable reading matter for children, from the earliest age upward, is as vital a factor in molding their future ideals, mentality and character for good or evil citizenship, as food, clothing and healthy surroundings are the dominant factors in deciding their future development of body—the immutable versus the mutable! Many parents only recognize this need too late, neglecting the vital duty of reading to their children whereby the wonderful kingdom of a child's glorious imagination, coupled with its insistent hunger for peopling this kingdom with fairies, knights, giants, castles, etc., such as may be found, for example, in Chas. Kingsley's "Water Babies," Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," or "Alice in Wonderland," etc., may be satisfied. There is to-day a lamentable lack of knowledge, amongst parents and others, concerning the best type of author or book, a drawback rather difficult to remedy unless we have friends to consult who have successfully piloted little children, from tender years to the teen age, through the rocks and whirlpools of rubbishy novels, trashy magazines and the pornographic junk in general with which the world is flooded to-day; the writer having been through this experience has kept a copy of an excellent list of authors and books, gathered in by degrees in past years.

Touching on the menace of atheism: a small coterie of men at present controlling the destinies of Russia have thrown the gauntlet of militant atheism into the arena of Christianity, and it behooves us to accept the challenge, individually and collectively, and fight the issue to the death, even as the gladiators fought in the Roman arena. No side-stepping, quibbling or compromise must be allowed to creep in. Lieut.-Col. McCrae clearly points the way in his inspired poem, "In Flanders' Fields," as follows:

"Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch: be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders' Fields."

For those of your readers interested in Soviet Russia's government, some interesting information is contained in "The Bolshevik Myth," by Alexander Berkman, the famous anarchist who was deported to Russia by the U.S.A. government (with Emma Goldman) and held an official position under Soviet regime. This book is in the Carnegie Library.

A PERENNIAL VACATION

To the Editor:—A dispatch in Monday's Times from Vancouver quotes the labor unions as unanimously in favor of demanding that the government provide immediately a dole of $25 per week for married men and $15 per week for single men . Nothing like aiming high. For instance, the amount demanded is about four times the amount of the British dole, yet the British dole drawer seems to manage quite nicely. He appears to have lots of cigarettes to burn, enough money to take in one or two shows per week, and rarely misses a major football match or dog race, even though the latter may entail quite a costly train journey. On the other hand, the Canadian dole would have to be a little higher than the British, as we must provide for walkathons, horse races, wrestling matches, fights, and a few other amusements which have not as yet obtained much vogue in Britain.

As to the financial aspect, 300,000 dole drawers at $20 per week would cost the country $24,000,000 per month. Where is the money to come from? The labor unions give us no inkling. The Britisher, drawing one-fourth of the amount demanded by the Vancouver labor unions, pays fifty-six cents per month, or about one-third of the amount paid into the union funds by the Canadian trade-unionist. Do the unions intend to switch the union dues into the dole fund, or do those who are working have to pay the whole shot, in addition to union dues? They are very vague about the matter. Another thing: there would be at least 2,000,000 workers in Canada who would be steadily working yet not earning as much as the dole drawers. It is reasonable to suppose that when they saw through the delightful scheme, they also would go on the dole, if only in order to get a raise in wages and be further relieved of paying contributions to the dole fund.

It is amazing that "300 leaders of trade unionism" (vide dispatch) could hatch up such a silly scheme. Why should any of us work if we could get $25 per week for doing nothing. We should just let George do it; though just what would happen when the very densest of the Georges got wise, the "300 leaders" don't say.

One of the "leaders" complained that some Japanese trade unionists had been refused relief. It is significant that for twenty-five years the Japanese have refused to join unions and have been prosperous; yet six months after they were persuaded to join a union they are in the bread line.

The gem bright thought of the 300 leaders is as follows: "They are talking about organizing labor battalions on military lines. There is your means of enforcing your demands. Let the workers do as the Russian soldiers did—depose their officers and elect their own." There is a fly in even this ointment, viz., it's a heck of a job to depose a British officer. It's a habit they seem to have acquired on foreign fields. They simply won't be deposed nor even bulldozed.

There is scarcely a labor union in the world that fails to hang itself, if given enough rope; and this is what has apparently happened in Vancouver. It would be refreshing to hear what Victoria trade unionists have to say about the "300 leaders of trade unionism" in Vancouver. Another thing: If and when another applicant for union card pops up, before he pays his $25 he should be enlightened as to which wing his money will be donated to—the Communist Party, the Independent Labor Party, or just plain trade-unionism.

He Has Earned His Leisure
His income is assured

HE and his wife can look calmly out on the world. He is old and can work no longer but, he is independent—his income is assured.

How did he do it? He was fond of good things; he didn't live a miserly life. He couldn't save money in the ordinary way any more than the rest of us could, for only three men in a hundred are able to save enough money, unaided, to retire upon at sixty.

Long ago he did a wise thing. He called in one of our trained representatives who helped him to systematize his spending and showed him how a few dollars deposited each year with The Imperial Life would give him independence in his old age, and also provide for his family should he die prematurely.

He has earned his leisure—his income is assured. Will this describe YOUR future? Why shouldn't it?

May we tell you about the income you can insure for yourself twenty or thirty years hence, by making small deposits now—when you have the money?

UNEMPLOYMENT COSTS BILLIONS IN LOST SERVICE

Needless Loss Is Deplored By Gourrich; Price Relationships Stressed

By PAUL GOURRICH
Wall Street Economist

New York, July 14.—This article was prepared in response to the question: "Is capitalism doomed and was the recent pessimism warranted?" The assumption of constructive leadership in world affairs by President Hoover has conclusively demonstrated that at least one of our important problems is within the easy reach of human intelligence. The ice has been broken and the way paved to active and conscious interference by man in all such problems as have kept us in a state of fatalistic gloom merely because we lacked the courage to go after them and solve them in a sensible manner.

President Hoover's move, primarily in the principle it introduces of conscious attack of obstacles, since its effect could not be of an immediate tangible nature, is like an awakening of spring; what obstacles human intelligence cannot overcome once it courageously sets itself to the task of doing it! "A systematic, planned war on the depression," of which I wrote only a month ago, and which then seemed more like a hope and dream, has been started by President Hoover. It is to be hoped that permanent machinery to deal with our industrial troubles will be built up, and after the most important international obstacles have been removed, we will begin to clear the wood in our own backyard.

REPRODUCTIVE POSSIBILITIES

It is interesting to note that even though, as a result of the reparations holiday proposed by President Hoover, the United States would for a year, at least, lose something like a quarter of a billion dollars, in the last few days security prices and commodity prices went up many times that amount. The wealth accumulated yesterday is dead and practically valueless unless it can be used for reproductive purposes. Without confidence, its reproductive value is zero; with full confidence it is infinite. Values are based on reproductive possibilities (earning power), and this is the reason why, instead of being poorer, we are richer to-day. It also shows that intelligent sacrifices and intelligent expenditure, although superficially liabilities, intrinsically may turn out to be great assets.

A pernicious state of pessimism was gripping the business world. To an extent at least, it might have been due to the cycle ideology, according to which depressions have definite durations. As many of such forecasts were made as to when this depression would end, and as the dates became overdue, these forecasts had to be thrown into the wastebasket as protested and uncollected notes. A number of business men and economic students who were willing to stake their reputation on such forecasts have subsequently thrown up the sponge. Hence the spread of gloom. This ideology contributed in no mean degree to the present depression, disappointment and fear being a potent factor in the depression.

ON SOCIALISTIC EGO

In this gloomy state of mind, in which all our troubles are naturally accentuated, we heard statements being made that capitalism is on trial. If by "capitalism" is meant the deeply rooted, in our physiology and anatomy, individualism, it can be no more on trial than is life itself when a patient is sick. It is the disease that is on trial and not life.

The only country in which it is probably meant to be on trial is Russia, and there, whatever there is of the Socialistic ego, is apparently kept alive through strong doses of capitalistic devices, such as piecework wages, bonuses and other methods of reward, the importation of intellectuals from abroad after the domestic talent was exterminated, lottery loans, high-price free stores, the promise of commercial supremacy, etc. With all the serious aspects the Russian problem presents, it does nothing beyond adding to the difficulties of a world which could not, and would not if it could, help being basically what it is.

KEEP INDUSTRY GOING

The economic school of thought which believes in co-operative individualism faces the future with optimism. It has little faith in the economic metaphysics which study durations and cycles; it is peroccupied in understanding the disease and finding means for curing it. It realizes that the primary problem is to keep the wheels of industry going—nationaly and international product (income); the important thing is to have this product.

It consequently regrets that our national economy, for instance, sustains at present a needless loss of some six to ten billion dollars per annum, and that about twice that amount is probably lost by the whole western world through the non-utilization of the productive capacity of the unemployed people and machinery, in addition to needless suffering and anxiety.

It realizes that the preservation of approximately normal price relationships, as the basis of exchange of the various services and goods among our producers, is the prerequisite of any smooth and balanced economic progress; and that national economic policies as regards what things and what quantities to produce must be inspired primarily by the above principles.

KAHN SWOONED IN FIRST SPEECH

So, Unaccustomed as You May Be to Public Speaking, Do Not Lose Confidence

New York.—Odds and ends—but chiefly odds:

Otto Kahn, one of the suavest of Manhattan's speakers, is said to have swooned from stage fright on the occasion of his first public speech.

Which recalls to mind that someone told lately of a certain Samuel Kayzer, who is said to have coached vast numbers of prominent speakers, including Mons. Kahn. Kayzer is now out in Hollywood curing the new talkie players of speech difficulties. It is none other than the famous Leslie Carter, however, who is credited with giving voice advice to Norma Talmadge. Laura Hope Crewes, another Broadway veteran, put Gloria Swanson over the first high hurdles.—Gilbert Swan.

Garden City

The W. A. of Garden City United Church met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Glass, Gladiola Avenue. The devotional period was taken by Mrs Perry, president, and papers were read by Mrs. Glass, Mrs. W. A. Brown and Mrs. Reid. Mrs. Perry read an article on, "Why I Believe in Systematic and Proportionate Giving," also a paper entitled, "He Shall Have Dominion From Sea to Sea." A duet was rendered by Mrs. Reid and Mrs. W. P. Brown. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social hour followed. The next meeting will take the form of a picnic in one of the city parks.

"A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and got relief at once. I purchased more and after using three and a half boxes of Cuticura Ointment and four cakes of Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Alex. Ewasiuk, Shortdale, Man.

The annual meeting of Langford school district was held in the schoolhouse on Saturday evening, with H. A. Hincks as chairman. The reports of the trustees and treasurer were read by Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen and were considered satisfactory. Dr. Irene Bastow Hudson, school health inspector, and W. H. M. May, school inspector, reported satisfaction with the health and work of the pupils. H. A. Hincks was re-elected auditor and W. T. Dixon unanimously elected trustee for three years. A resolution expressing appreciation of the loyalty and interest of the teachers, Miss Lois Peacey and Miss Hilda E. Guy, was adopted, and the thanks of the meeting were tendered the janitress. YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Nearly all children develop bad habits of some sort. Various things cause them; sometimes it is nervous unhappiness, often natural curiosity. Frequently children unconsciously copy other members of the family. Physical weakness or discomfort are often to blame also.

But I think it is just too bad to make the child feel criminal for what we like to call a "bad habit." To try to shame a little boy or girl out of a habit is a wrong method. To appeal to his pride is better.

I wish we could get over our barbaric custom of "shaming" children about their mistakes. If parents only knew the sinister and far-reaching results of such discipline on the young mind, they would agree with me.

It breaks down morale instead of building it up; for a child so handled first loses directness and honesty, and learns the meaning of cunning at an age when he should be growing in the sun of openness and truth. Second, he loses that precious thing, respect for himself.

MAY HAVE SERIOUS EFFECT

Do you know that "shame shock" or discovery in an overt or wrong act, especially when accompanied by scolding on your part, may cause a mental sear that leads to nervous breakdown in later life?

The best thing to do is to act naturally, no matter how upset you are. The child is nervously alert and is tuned to every gesture, every change in your voice. Naturally he will exaggerate anything you do or say. His agony of mind is his own punishment if you are of the type who wishes him that.

Then go off by yourself and think it over. Why did Jimmy behave so? Is he copying someone; is he moved by natural curiosity; or is he unhappy and seeking escape by thrills?

If the habit is a physical one that repeats itself, such as eneuresis, certainly scolding and whipping has been abandoned for that long ago.

LOOK FOR THE REASON

Whatever the cause, for there is cause for every bad habit, try to figure out the cause. And then use your cleverness and tact. Don't hurt the flower, but seek to disentangle the weed from the root by some subtle means known to yourself.

If it is something that needs explaining, be frank and explain it. A warning is all right if not done as a threat. If it is someone older that he is imitating, go after the other person. If he is nervous, maladjusted, or unhappy, see if conditions can be improved.

Remove the cause and you remove the habit, but in the meantime don't set the habit by calling attention to it constantly. And use care that the child does not turn crafty in his attempts to hide his behavior.

ROBS BENEFACTOR

Vancouver, July 14.—Robert Garden, Cordova Street East, thinks this business of being a good Samaritan is not a paying one, according to his story to police. He told of meeting a youth who begged him for a meal. Garden said he fed him, purchased him cigarettes and then took him to his room for the night. Garden went to sleep. Later he awoke and found his "guest" had gone. So had $90.

PLAN TO START CHAIRS OF PEACE IS DISAPPROVED

Commons Committee Against Agnes MacPhail's Proposal; Approve Cadet Training

Ottawa, July 14.—Proposal of Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive member for Southeast Grey, Ont., to establish professorships and scholarships in Canadian universities to promote peace was disapproved in a report of the industrial and international relations committee tabled in the Commons yesterday.

The committee had under consideration a resolution by Miss MacPhail that "in the opinion of this House, for every $100 spent for war $1 should be spent to promote peace by instituting international professorships and scholarships in the leading Canadian universities."

The committee found against setting up chairs in universities on the ground of expense and also because the matter of education, under the British North America Act, is in the jurisdiction of the provinces exclusively. It was recommended, however, that present facilities in the Department of External Affairs in connection with inter-Empire and international research should be extended.

The report stated the committee could not agree to the proposal that money spent on cadet training could be considered as money spent for war.

Metropolitan W.M.S. Hear Former Pastor Of Victoria West

The home of Mrs. A. P. Lock, 1603 Hollywood Crescent, was the delightful setting for the July meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Metropolitan United Church on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Cliff presided. Mrs. Kilty gave the opening prayer, Mrs. Tuck the Bible reading. A cordial welcome was extended to the wife of the new pastor, Mrs. E. F. Church. The hostess, Mrs. Lock and Mrs. W. H. Ozard, were made life members by the generosity of Mrs. H. J. Pendray. The strangers' secretary, Mrs. Smith, reported for the quarter 622 calls made on sick folk and strangers.

The guest speaker was Rev. W. M. Thompson of Carmichael Church, Regina, formerly of Victoria West, who is here with his family holidaying after an absence of seven years. His word pictures of conditions in the prairie provinces and his passionate appeal for help for the people in the drought stricken areas touched every heart.

Mrs. W. H. Godson charmingly rendered "Absent" and "Three," with Mrs. Lock as the accompanist.

Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

An enthusiastic vote of thanks was given the speaker, the entertainers and the hostess. The kind hospitality of Mrs. Fletcher was accepted for the August meeting.

Jay Gould Enjoys "Stone Steak" At Rockies Resort

Banff, July 14.—There are steaks and steaks, but a stone steak dinner, according to Jay Gould, grandson of the famous Jay Gould, is the finest of them all. Mr. Gould with Mrs. Gould and daughters, Anne Douglas and Eleanor, have been staying at the Banff Springs Hotel for a few days before sailing July 16 from Vancouver to their home in Honolulu for three months.

With Anne, Mr. Gould fished Lake Minnewanaka for lake trout with some success and left on a twenty-mile trip to the Spray River fishing grounds, where they caught their limit of rainbow and cut-throat, which later graced their luncheon table. The stone steak dinner, however, cooked by a noted Banff guide, Bill Mitchelltree, was the high spot of the trip. The recipe for all outdoor loyers is this: build a fire over a flat rock, clean thoroughly, cover with olive oil and place on said rock one good thick steak which immediately sears; turn constantly until appetites can no longer stand the aroma, and serve on hot plates with hashed brown potatoes. A salad later with cheese and steaming coffee. These, Mr. Gould says, are things to remember.

Before leaving for Lake Louise with his family, Mr. Gould promised Mitchelltree he would return no matter if he caught any trout or not, so long as he could get another stone steak, the equal of which he had not eaten in any country, no matter who the chef was. Bill hitched up his denim slacks in reply to questions and remarked with a drawl "Mr. Gould will be back all right."

"MA" KENNEDY IN BRIDAL ARRAY

MATCH-MAKING FOR AIMEE AIM

"Ma" Kennedy and New Husband Want Evangelist "to Enjoy Married Bliss"

Los Angeles, July 14.—Rev. George Edward Hudson and his bride of two weeks, Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy, admitted yesterday evening they would like to see "our daughter Aimee enjoying married bliss."

Mr. Hudson went so far as to admit he has "a man in mind for her."

"Somewhere there is a man, friend of mine, and if Mrs. McPherson proves as wonderful a woman as her mother, I'm going to see they meet," he said. "Who is he—and where does he live? I'm not saying now."

So far, the Los Angeles evangelist has not seen her mother since she arrived with her husband, whom she married in Longview, Wash., two weeks ago. Mrs. McPherson and her mother have been estranged for some time.

"We don't know how long we shall stay here or where else we may go," said Mrs. Hudson, "but whatever we do and wherever we go, we shall always be on our honeymoon." The Hudsons are occupying a cottage by the sea.

YOUNG BOY IS GLOBE-TROTTER

Twelve-year-old Lad Alone on 7,300-Mile Trip of Arctic

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Man., July 14.—Probably the youngest of globe-trotters, twelve-year-old Hartley de Gerald, is on a 7,300-mile exploration journey of Canada's Arctic. Son of a Chicago banker, Hartley has spent his summers "seeing the world" and traveling along.

He departed from Winnipeg Sunday night without an attendant, bound for Edmonton, Alta., then to waterways from where he leaves by boat headed north by the Athabasca River. When he reaches Fitzgerald, in the northeast corner of Alberta, he makes sixteen-mile portage to Fort Smith.

Hartley will board another boat still heading northward to Great Slave Lake, northwest territories, then he faces a 1,000-mile journey down the Mackenzie River to the Arctic Ocean. A short survey of the northland waters and the youngster makes the return trip via the same route.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

How to keep the baby's bottles safely cold until ready for use constitutes one of the major problems of travelling and picnicking. On journeys of any length, I still pin my faith to the use of canned milk, evaporated and unsweetened, or dried milk, either of which may be carried without ice. When evaporated milk is used, one small can may be used for each feeding, but if larger cans are used, they must be kept on ice after opening.

For short jaunts the following successful method was used by Mrs. A.D.S. throughout last summer.

JAUNTING WITH BABY

"I have received so much helpful information from your department that I thought it only fair to share this idea with your readers," starts her letter. "It may already have been suggested, but it proved a life-saver to us last year.

"To keep milk ice cold on necessary trips we used a large Thermo jug. Into this we fitted four narrow, glass nursing bottles with rubber caps to cover each securely, and with cracked ice in the centre of the jug. The milk stayed ice cold.

"To warm each bottle we carried, also, a thermos bottle containing boiling water. We poured a little of this into a deep cup and set the cold bottle in the cup, shaking it frequently until the chill was off the milk. We carried the sterilized nipples separately.

"I have always thought people exhibited some apprehension toward using narrow nursing bottles, but I can't for the life of me see why. If washed in hot suds with a bottle brush, then rinsed and boiled, they are as clean as any other bottle. Incidentally, we have used the same method this summer except that we carry a cup and give baby her milk in it."

KEEP MILK COLD

There are no disadvantages in using a narrow-necked nursing bottle, provided it has a wide, straight neck which can be easily cleaned with a brush. The baby's age and the readiness with which he accepts a small nipple as opposed to a breast-type nipple dictates, in many cases, the type the mother will choose.

If a Thermo jug is not available, an ingenius father could tack some strips of wood together to make a rack on which four bottles would stand upright in a pail of ice. Cover the bottles with rubber caps or fitted corks. Put a covered lid on the pail.

There is no reason why parents should deny themselves healthful and pleasurable outings if they will give thought to the problem of keeping milk cold and providing boiling water to drink—the two proverbial feeding snags encountered in hot weather.

FAIR WILL BE OUTSTANDING

Annual Exhibition at Willows to Have Province-wide Representation

Both the Dominion and the provincial governments are co-operating with officials of the Provincial Exhibition to make the fair, which opens at the Willows on August 31 and continues to September 5, an outstanding success.

"To mark the opening of the two handsome buildings—the Horse Show Building and the Manufacturers' Building—we want to make this a feature year with an attendance representative of every section of British Columbia," said W. H. Mearns, secretary of the Agricultural Association, this morning.

"While we fully appreciate the wonderful support we have received from Victoria citizens in the past the fair has now attained proportions where it has a wider appeal and we want to make it a provincial fair in every sense of the word. The two new buildings we have this year make it an opportune time to launch the drive to set the exhibition permanently on its feet as a British Columbia fair."

Mr. Mearns drew attention to many new attractions at the fair this year. There will be a show in the Horse Show Building every night. The Rotary Club will also stage an elaborate pageant every evening. Twenty-two hundred people can be seated comfortably in the commodious new building and a dozen new classes have been added to make the horse show better than ever. Spectacular hunter classics, hunting pairs, hunting teams and four-horse jumping teams are among the added attractions.

Pittsburgh Had Best Winning Average in Majors Last Week

St. Louis Cards Widen Gap While Philadelphia Loses Ground

* * *

Anderson, Arthur and Reed Seeking World Wrestling Title

THE St. Louis Cardinal's great pitching staff turned in a series of brilliant performances during last week and as a result the National League champions widened the breach between themselves and their closest rivals, but the Philadelphia Athletics lost ground in the American League race. After dropping three out of four to the Chicago Cubs the early part of the week, the Cardinals about faced and administered four crushing defeats to the last place Cincinnati Reds. In the four victories over the Reds, the league leaders allowed their opponents only five runs.

* * *

Even though they increased their lead over the field, the Cardinals did not compile the highest winning average for the week. That distinction went to the Pittsburgh Pirates, who won three, lost one and were held to a ten-inning tie by the Cubs. The Boston Braves, with three wins and two loses, took third honors. The New York Giants barely managed to hang on to second place as they lost three out of five games.

* * *

Two red hot series between the Athletics and their strongest rivals, the Washington Senators and New York Yankees, occupied the spotlight in the American League. The champions took two out of three from the Senators at Washington, but were beaten in the same ratio when they invaded the Yankee Stadium. As a result, they could do no better than break even for the week, while both the Yankees and Senators were winning four out of six. Cleveland, with three victories and two losses, had the next best record.

* * *

The Chicago Cubs proved the week's highest scoring combination with forty-five runs in seven games. The Giants scored forty-four and Yankees and St. Louis Browns forty-three apiece. The Browns led both leagues in total hits with eighty-five, followed by the Cubs with eighty and the Senators with seventy-five. By committing fifteen errors, the Philadelphia Nationals easily topped the National League for that honor, but the Browns went them two better in the American. The Boston Braves were the only club in either league to compile a perfect fielding average for the period.

* * *

The Boston pitching staff was also the most effective in either circuit, allowing opponents only nineteen runs in five games. Pittsburgh moundsmen gave up twenty-two runs in five contests. Cleveland's curvers had the same record. Opposing batters jumped on Philadelphia pitchers for fifty-three runs in seven contests, the Giants running up twenty-three in the first game of a double-header last Saturday. The two New York clubs shared home run honors for the week, each with eight.

Local wrestling fans will be pleased to learn that Des. Anderson, Ernie Arthur and Robin Reed, who have wrestled many times here, have gone to Columbus, Ohio, to represent the Pacific Northwest in a tournament to decide the world middleweight champion. Jack Reynolds, present holder of the championship, will be on hand to defend his crown. Reynolds has been disputed as the rightful holder of the crown and the tournament is being staged to determine the titleholder. Anderson, Arthur and Reed, the latter a former Olympic Games champion, are three classy matmen and it would not be surprising if one of them returned with the world title. They are all popular with Victoria fans who will watch with interest their progress in the Columbus tournament.

Women have been known to faint at sight of a mouse. Yet, over in England they are staging mouse shows and a great many of the exhibitors are women. How times have changed, whereas in the olden days girls would run for the nearest chair and call lustily for help, they now stand beside their pet's cages, extract the small rodent by the tail and administer a final combing for the benefit of the judges. It is said that all the neighborhood cats attempted to crash the gate.

Recently in England a golf tournament was held for one-armed ex-soldiers, thirty-six competing. These handicapped players did remarkably well, drives of 200 yards being not uncommon. As if by some uncommon instinct all except one competitor, in making the back swing, took the club over the shoulder, raising the arm, left or right, as high and straight as if their golf was modeled on orthodox lines. It was won by a man who had never played with two arms and he made a 70.

Canadian Champion Unable to Defend His Diving Title

Alfie Phillips, Toronto, Canadian and British Empire spring board and tower diving champion, will not be able to defend his national three-metre title in Vancouver on July 25 against the pick of British Columbia's performers, it was learned here. The pressure of private business makes it impossible for him to get away.

Tony Forhan, Boys' Singles Choice, In Three-set Struggle

Vancouver Star Defeats R. Kennington 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 in Opening Round at Victoria Lawn Tennis Club; Colin Milne, Another Favorite, Wins Over Norman Duncan 6-0, 6-1; Caroline Deacon, Nora Robinson and Joan List, Vancouver's Strong Entry in Girls' Under Eighteen Singles, All Advance; Heavy Entry List

Favored outsiders advanced without much trouble yesterday in the opening day's play of the B.C. junior tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. A very large number of matches were run off and the business of eliminating the weaker players has got well under way. In the girls' under-eighteen event all first and second round matches were decided.

Tony Forhan and Colin Milne, the two Vancouver players, who are expected to go far in the boys' under eighteen class for the provincial junior championship, won their matches. Forhan had a stiff battle with R. Kennington before running out at 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Milne had no worries in his 6-0, 6-1 victory over Norman Duncan.

LOCALS BEATEN

Septimus Ryall Jr. and Eric "Mike" Slater, two of the chief local hopes in the same event, disappointed in losing their games. Ryall was eliminated by T. C. Lundie, Duncan, in the second round. Lundie, who is on the Duncan second team, plays a good game and may be one of the factors in keeping the title on the Island. Slater, a Victoria boy with a fine style, is capable of great tennis, but was a little erratic yesterday. He lost to A. McNeill, 6-4, 6-4.

Victoria's chances of keeping the title now rest chiefly on Ian Phillips, the fifth brother in a tennis family, and George Parker, whose game this year has come on by leaps and bounds. Phillips finished well against M. Hamilton, after some anxious moments. The score was 3-6, 10-8, 6-0. Parker breezed through Charles Jordan, 6-0, 6-1.

CAROLINE DEACON WINS

Caroline Deacon, last year's runner-up and first seeded player in this year's girls under eighteen, advanced at the expense of Diana Head, 6-1, 6-0, and A. Brennan, 7-5, 6-2. Nora Robinson, Vancouver city junior champion and second seeded player, defeated Enid McConnell, 6-1, 6-0, and M. Lawson, 6-2, 7-5. Joan List, former local junior star and now a resident of Vancouver, was taken to three sets by Frankie Oldham.

Peggy Horne, one of the leading local players, captured two love sets in the two matches she played. Eleanor Young, Vancouver, favorite in the girls' under fifteen class, did not drop a game in two sets with Isobel Henley.

To-day's draw is heavy, and many good matches are expected.

TOWNSEND IN DECISION WIN OVER HERMAN

Vancouver Welterweight Beats Jewish Scrapper in Bout at Los Angeles

Solid Rights Keep Herman Away; Canzoneri Wins Title Mix With Payne

Crossing a terrific right to the jaw in the first round, the swarthy Italian from New York floored Payne a short minute after the first round opened, but he seemed to tire at the finish as the Kentucky challenger crashed over, swinging lefts and rights at long range to make up part of the ground lost during the first part of the scrap.

BOUT IS TAME

At the most, the bout progressed at a tame pace, with the crowd calling for action during the closing stages. The Associated Press card gave Canzoneri six rounds, and Payne three.

Billy Townsend, blonde battler from Vancouver, defeated Tommy Herman, Cleveland-Chicago Jewish scrapper in a ten-round feature. The Canadian lad led throughout and was awarded the decision.

Solid rights to the head and body kept Herman on the defence during the greater share of the scrap, but he finished strong to cop the tenth after losing six of the other nine rounds. There were no knockdowns.

POLO A LA GENERAL.

Anything for amusement, or in other words, what price notoriety? When the Mexicans decide to amuse their president, they do it in a big way. Their last attempt was in the form of a polo match in which all players had to be at least ranked as generals. The contestants included the president, the secretary of war and a state governor. There was no mention as to the quality of polo played but apparently the names of the players made up for any lack of prowess. If such ideas become prevalent we may yet see the Hon. R. B. Bennett and the Conservative party having it out with the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King and the Liberal party on the lawns of Parliament Hill.

Wild Jamming Seen In Six-day Bicycle Race At Vancouver

Horace Horder, Australian Rider, Takes Much Punishment, Figuring in Three Smashes, Suffering Lacerated Scalp and Almost a Severed Ear; Bill Peden, Victoria, Partnered With Harold Davies, Vancouver, Thrills Fans With Spectacular Riding; Baggio and Hill Leading With Peden and Davies One Lap Behind

Vancouver, July 14—Six-day bicycle racing, in all its hair-raising spectacle, was introduced to Vancouver at the Arena yesterday evening and the first hours of the long grind demonstrated amply why this game is called "the toughest on earth." The first night customers were treated to jam after jam, going hand-in-hand with numerous spills.

Horace Horder, the Australian, took the most punishment, figuring in three smashes, being knocked out each time, and in the early hours of the morning was still winning sprints, riding with a white turban of bandage on his head, hiding an almost severed ear and a three-inch gash in his scalp.

"Keep 'em in the race," is the maxim of Fred Bullivant, noted trainer of six-day riders and famous for his ability to live up to his motto.

Fifty-six laps were gained during the night's wild jamming, at the conclusion of which the Italian-American team of Fiorvanti Baggio and Norman Hill showed the way in mileage.

PEDEN IS POPULAR

The leaders had covered 241 miles and six laps at 8.30 this morning after nine hours of riding. One lap behind was the B.C. team of "Torchy" Peden, Victoria, and Harold Davies, Vancouver, who, with his brother Jim, was making his first bow as a professional and receiving his first taste of the most gruelling phase of the cycling game. The flame-haired Peden, one of the most popular riders on eastern saucers, lived up to his reputation yesterday evening and had the crowd up on its feet time after time as he went in front and defied eighteen of the world's best to get round him.

Peden started the first jam and figured in the first spill, along with Horder. The first series of ten two-mile sprints, an hour after Ald. E. W. Dean had fired the starting gun at 8 o'clock, starred Peden and Davies, while Al. Crossley, England, and Jim Davies also rode sensationally. The latter team piled up the greatest number of points in the sprints during the night, having fifty-two marks, but were four laps behind in mileage. Peden and the other Davies were next in points with fifty, with the third team, Horace Horder and Gus Rys, twenty points further back.

George Dempsey, Australia, and Archie Bolleart, Belgium, were tied in second place, on mileage, with Peden and Harold Davies. Two laps behind, in third place, came the Italian-American team of Black and Defillipo, the German-Belgian combination of Stubecke and Dereydt and the all-Canadian combination of Henri LePage, Montreal, and Reggie Fielding, Toronto. The latter tandem did most of the damage in the early going, pilfering three laps in the first couple of hours.

Three laps behind the leading team of Baggio and Hill, this morning, came the badly battered Horder and Gus Rys, diminutive Belgian. Meyers and Bartell, the American team, were four laps behind, with Crossley and Jim Davies, while in the last place were Lew Elder, Toronto, and Freddie Zach, Switzerland.

OLIVE WADE IS SINGLES CHAMP

Captures Honors at Eastern Canada Tennis Finals; Rain Halts Other Finals

Ottawa, July 13.—Rain again halted play in the eastern Canada tennis finals here yesterday and but one title, the women's singles, won by Miss Olive Wade, Toronto, was decided. Walter Martin, Regina, led Gilbert Nunns, Toronto, 3-1, in the fifth set, of the men's singles after each player had taken two, when the rain made play impossible.

The singles final will be concluded at Toronto, as will the women's doubles, and the mixed doubles final will remain undecided.

The men's singles provided some of the best tennis seen here for some time. Martin took the first two sets, 6-4, 6-3, and seemed to have the match in hand when Nunns came back to take the next two by identical scores.

Vancouver Given B.C. Title Track Meet August 15

British Columbia track and field championships will be decided in Vancouver on August 15, it was announced by J. C. "Scotty" Dowds, of the B.C. Amateur Athletic Union following the receipts of word to this effect from the Terminal City yesterday. The races will be held at Hastings Park. Entry forms will be available from the Y.M.C.A. or from Mr. Dowds within a short time.

Johnson's Strategy Works But Senators Lose to Philadelphia

With Score Tied at 5 to 5 Manager of Washington Yanks Pitcher Marberry for Pinch Hitter and Latter Comes Through With Single Which Nets Senators Two-run Lead; Athletics Land on Marberry's Successors for Seven Runs to Win Game; Senators Win Second Game 6 to 4; Cardinals Boost Lead in National

To a bit of strategy that worked, can Walter Johnson attribute, in part at least, the failure of his Washington Senators to cut into the six-game margin the Philadelphia Athletics enjoy in the American League race. The Senators gained an even break in a double bill with the A's yesterday but might have won both games had Johnson not resorted to the successful "master mind-ing" that eventually led to Washington's downfall in the opener.

Although the score was tied at 5-5 at the end of the first seven innings, Fred Marberry had outpitched the A's southpaw ace, Bob Grove, by a wide margin. In the eighth, with two on, however, Johnson pulled Marberry out of the line-up to allow Hargrave to bat for him. Hargrave made this strategy look good with a single that drove in one run. Another filtered across before the inning was over to give the Senators a two-run lead.

But the A's, who had made only seven hits off Marberry, fell on his successors, Bump Hadley and Bob Burke, for seven runs on Foxx's triple, a wild pitch, three passes, Williams's home run with the bases filled, Cochrane's double and Simmons's homer. George Earnshaw pitched the last inning and held the Senators in check to make the final score 12 to 7.

HOME RUNS WIN

Alvin Crowder kept ten hits well scattered in the second game to win 6 to 4, home runs by Dave Harris and Joe Kuhel accounting for five of the Senators' runs.

This double header completed the American League schedule for the day while in the National the St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Chicago Cubs, 12 to 5, to stretch their lead to four and one-half games over the idle New York Giants. With the score tied at 2 to 2 after three and one-half innings, the Cardinals shelled Pat Malone and Lester Sweetland for seven runs in the fourth and added three more in the fifth. Burleigh Grimes gave the Cubs nine hits while the Cardinals collected nineteen. Jake Flowers, utility infielder clouted two doubles and a triple to drive in four Cardinal runs and score two himself.

In the only other game of the day, Jim Elliott of the Phillies blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates with five hits, 1 to 0. Remy Kremer also allowed only five hits, but two of them were bunched in the ninth for the only run of the contest. Chuck Klein beat out an infield smash and scored on Don Hurst's double.

To the Sports Editor—The Buchanan Cup (a picture of which appeared in last eevning's issue of The Times) was won in 1904 by the J.B.A.A. and not by Portland as stated. This crew was stroked by W. W. Wilson, 978 Esquimalt Road, one of the finest oarsmen to step into a boat on the Pacific Coast.

In 1902 at Nelson, he stroked and won the junior and senior fours; in Vancouver in 1903, the senior fours; and in Portland 1904, the senior fours. The Bays having won three years in succession, they secured possession of the Association and Hiram Walker Cups and also won the Buchanan Cup for the first time.

The J.B.A.A., one of the best athletic organizations on the coast, deserves great credit for the manner in which they are carying on these great sporting events, especially Dan Sullivan, the grand old coach.

POPULAR MAT STAR RETURNS ON SATURDAY

Young Hackenschmidt Classy Middleweight, Will Meet Johnny Coyle

Joe Gardner Matched With Johnny Morrell; Stasiak Beats George Godfrey

Young Hackenschmidt, San Francisco middleweight wrestler, who proved so popular with local fans last week in his bout with Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver, will return on Saturday to meet Johnny Coyle, Olympia. In the other half of the double main event to be staged at the Tillicum gymnasium Joe Gardner, Seattle middleweight, will clash with Johnny Morrell, Portland.

Although beaten last Saturday Hackenschmidt succeeded in gaining the first fall over McLaughlin and gave a good account of himself against the Mainland star. Tall and rangy he is clever and is fast. Coyle will be making his first appearance here but comes with a good reputation. The Gardner-Morrell bout should also be a good one as the pair are very evenly matched.

The first bout will commence at 8.45 o'clock.

Toronto, July 14.—"Villain" of wrestling, Stanley Stasiak, scowling Polish giant from Cambridge, Mass., conquered the "Black Menace" of pugilism, George Godfrey, massive negro from Leiperville, Pa., in the grappling feature at the Arena yesterday evening. The end came after eleven minutes and forty-three seconds. Stasiak weighed 257, Godfrey 268.

Godfrey had better fortune in the main boxing bout on the card. He easily knocked out George Gemas, 200-pound Philadelphian in the second round.

Jackson, Mich., July 14.—Jim Londos, recognized in some states as the heavyweight wrestling champion, threw Hans Bauer, German champion, in straight falls here yesterday evening. Londos took the first fall in 20.20 with an airplane whirl and the second in 5.45 with a series of flying headlocks.

Joe Parelli, New York, defeated Bob Roy, Amarillo, Texas, two falls out of three.

Seattle, July 14.—Ira Dern, Salt Lake City, threw Pat McKay, New York, out of the ring in the sixth round and disabled him so he was unable to return to win a wrestling exhibition here yesterday evening. The men, heavyweights, had each taken one fall.

McKay had taken the first fall in the second round with a Boston crab, with Dern winning a fall in the fifth after an airplane spin.

In the semi-windups, Dan Koloff, Montreal, took two out of three falls from Joe De Vito, New York, and Abe Kaplan, New York, took two out of three from Hans Schroeder, New York. All are heavyweights.

U.C.T. GALAS SANCTIONED

In a card to Archie McKinnon, received late yesterday, V. J. Dunn, secretary of the B.C. section of the C.A.S.A. granted sanction for the U.C.T. galas to be held in connection with the frolic at the Crystal Garden on Friday and Saturday evenings.

A good list of events has been drawn up for the two nights and a large number of entries are expected.

Youthful Eddie Hogan Sets Pace In Western Golf

Portlander Reels Off Par-breaking 69 to Lead Field

Twenty-one-year-old Rose City Player Enjoys One-stroke Lead at End of First Eighteen Holes in Western Amateur Championship at Portland; Arloo Kyle, Portland Veteran, in Second Place; Portland Stars Dominate Tournament; Johnny Lehman, Chicago, Defending His Title; Seattle and Tacoma Players Well Up

Portland, Ore., July 14—With eighteen Portland entrants among the thirty-one low scorers in the first eighteen of the thirty-six-hole qualifying rounds, this city appeared to-day to have the best mathematical chance for victory in the 1931 western amateur golf championship tournament.

Only thirty-one were being counted as Johnny Lehman, Chicago, defending champion, will take the thirty-second position as he automatically qualified under the rules of the western association.

With this big advantage Portland expected to furnish half of the field of thirty-two which will start match play to-morrow for the title.

To-day the field of more than 100 golfers had their last chance. They were playing the last eighteen holes of the qualifying test and to-night the low thirty-one, along with Lehman, will be paired off for the battle of match competitions, which will continue the remainder of the week.

Officials of the association announced that eight or ten of the leads would be seeded in the draw.

HOGAN HAS 69

All eyes were focused on Eddie Hogan, twenty-one-year-old Portland boy, who recently relinquished his Pacific Northwest title to Frank Dolp, fellow townsman. Hogan yesterday played fifteen holes in par and birdied the other three to lead the field with a sensational 69, three under par.

Hogan insisted after he was eliminated in the first round of the Pacific Northwest tournament by George Shaw, Los Angeles, that he had not taken his game seriously enough and he declared before this meet that he was out to make amends. He started well yesterday and he had the galleryites interested.

Arloo Kyle, Portland, veteran at the game, turned in the surprise of the first round when he followed Hogan with a brilliant 70.

Other Portlanders running with the leaders included Jimmy Bushong, Johnny Robbins, Tab Boyer, Rudie Wilhelm, Don Moe, Malcolm McNaughton, Dr. O. F. Willing, Vincent and Frank Dolp (brothers), Lloyd Mead, Joe Brown, Cliff Baker, J. H. Crowell, Clayton Sharp and Arnold Inman.

The outsiders pitted against this included Jack Gaines and Harold Thompson, Glendale; Chuck Hunter, Tacoma; H. Chandler Egan, Medford, Ore.; H. B. Westbrook, Pasadena; Johnny Shields, Seattle; Fay Cleman, Charles Seaver and Warren Johnson, Los Angeles; G. Sato, San Francisco Japanese; Dick Near, Eugene, Ore., and Stuart Pattullo, Dr. Joseph Aspray and Howard Tustin, Spokane.

Favorites Advance in Early Matches of Annual Tennis Competition

"Pat" Rosenberg Pulls Only Surprise By Victory Over Worth Oswald

Tacoma, July 14.—Henry "Pat" Rosenberg, youthful Tacoman, provided the lone surprise as the men's singles of the Pacific Northwest tennis tournament got underway yesterday, when he eliminated Worth Oswald, Spokane, Northwest Conference champion, 6-3, 6-4, in a first-round match.

Earlier in the day Rosenberg defeated Richard Street, Aberdeen City champion, 6-0, 6-0, in a boys' singles match, and accounted for Don Rayley, Tacoma, 6-0, 6-0, in a sectional boys' singles game.

John Muris, San Francisco Hawaiian, winner of the recent Oregon state men's singles and seeded No. 1 in the competition here, advanced by default over John Curran, Seattle, and there was little activity among the outstanding players in general.

EDITH CROSS WINS

Edith Cross, San Francisco, ranked No. 1 for the women's singles, defeated Patsy Henry, Los Angeles, in straight love sets in the women's singles, and Carolyn Fringes, Tacoma, won from Peggy Henry, Los Angeles, 8-6, 6-0, in a girls' singles match. Helen Marlowe defeated Ariel Stout, Seattle, 6-3, 6-2, in a women's singles engagement, and Mercedes Marlowe, Los Angeles, won from Alice Guyles, Tacoma, 6-1, 6-0.

The doubles started to-day.

PAT REDMOND BEATEN

New York, July 14.—Eddie Benson, Brooklyn, outpointed the Irish giant, Pat Redmond, in a slow eight-round bout at Dexter Park yesterday evening. Benson gave away more than fifty-five pounds, scaling 189 to 245½ for Redmond. There were no knockdowns.

Is Favored To Win Arlington Classic

Associated Press

Chicago, July 14—Twenty Grand will go to the post a favorite in the $70,000 Arlington Classic Saturday, but A. C. Bostwick thinks his three-year-old star, Mate, will give the Big Bay all kinds of trouble, if not a beating.

Mate, conqueror of the Whitney crack in the Preakness and winner of the $50,000 American Derby, reached Arlington Park yesterday and his trainer, Jim Healy, said he had trained perfectly for the world's richest three-year-old event, and would be a good bet for another victory over Twenty Grand.

"Mate doesn't like his races too often," Healy said, "and I think that was the reason why he didn't do better in the Kentucky Derby. He was a little short in the American Derby and only beat Pittsburgher by a nose, but this time he's right. And if we get some mud Saturday, no one had better bet Twenty Grand will beat Mate."

Bostwick said Mate is at his best, and "if Twenty Grand beats us he will have to be a champion."

The rest of the probable field includes Spanish Play, Sun Meadow, Joey Bibb, Epithet, Prince D'Amour, Burning Up, Chief John and Magnifico. It also is possible that a filly or two may start.

EAGLES PLAY FINE BALL TO DEFEAT ELKS

Feathered Tribe Take Unexpected Victory Over Baseball Leaders

Two Home Runs By Dunc and Brousseau Play Big Part in Their 7 to 3 Win

After suffering many defeats at the hands of the league-leading Elks this season, the Eagles came into their own yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park, when they tossed the antlered tribe for a 7-to-3 loss in their scheduled Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League clash. The Eagles played first-class ball behind the steady pitching of young Bill Holness and after gaining the lead in the first inning were always out in front.

Two home runs by Brousseau and Dunc were big factors in the Eagles' victory. In the first inning with Love on first base as the result of a single Brousseau caught one of Jack Noble's slow balls on the nose to lift the pellet out of the park. The Eagles added another run in the fourth on Dunc's circuit blow out of the park. The Eagles boosted their lead to four in the sixth when Dunc singled advanced to second on an infield out to third on a hit and scored on a long fly to left field. The Elks got their wrecking crew working in the seventh and four hits drove home three runs.

EAGLES ADD THREE MORE

In their half of the seventh the Eagles just about sewed up the game by driving home three more runs. This finished the scoring for the game. The Elks attempted to rally in the eighth but a snappy double play ended their hopes of pulling the game out of the fire.

Holness and Noble each struck out five and were touched up for nine and eleven hits, respectively.

NEW CABINET IN POWER IN CHILE

Santiago, Chile, July 14.—A new cabinet was formed yesterday evening by Pedro Blanquier, who was assigned the task by President Ibanez, after the failure of Francisco Garces Gana to form one.

The Blanquier cabinet was sworn in shortly after it was formed, Blanquier himself filling the post of Premier and Finance Minister.

General Pedro Charpin as Minister of War, and Vice-Admiral Hipolito Marchant as Marine Minister are the sole survivors of the previous Cabinet, which resigned last Thursday.

Sherwood and Raeside Gain Semi-finals In B.C. Bowling Tourney

Victoria Lawn Bowlers Will Contest Right to Enter Final of Nabob Trophy Competition With Linton, Powell River and Ewans, Nanaimo; Splendid Progress Made in Bowser Rink, Nabob Rink and Spalding Novice Singles Competitions at Vancouver

Vancouver, July 14—Although dull, cool weather prevailed all day, yesterday for the opening of the ninth annual tournament of the B.C. Lawn Bowling Association, rain held off and enabled the officials to make splendid progress in the Bowser Rink, Nabob Rink and Spalding (novice) singles competitions.

Every one of the sixty-four rinks engaged in the Bowser rink series played four matches, a total of 256 games, while the Nabob was narrowed down to the semi-finals and the novice singles also reached the penultimate round.

At present White of Terminal is leading section "A" with three wins and a tie; Gray and Arnott, both of Vancouver, are tied at the head of section "B," with three wins and one less; Reid, Burnaby; Wilson, Cedar Cottage, and Hutchinson, Point Grey, are deadlocked at the top of section "C," with three victories and one defeat each; Holt, New Westminster, is out in front of section "D" with four straight victories; Bryson, Cedar Cottage, shows the way in section "E" with four wins, but McKay, Terminal, and Hall, Kamloops, are close behind with three triumphs and one tie; Richmond, Terminal, heads section "F" with three wins and one tie; Stevenson, Kerrisdale, tops section "G" with four successes, and Seaton, Stanley Park, has four wins to show the way in section "H."

VICTORIANS IN SERIES

Sherwood, Victoria; Linton, Powell River; Ewans, Nanaimo, and Raeside, Victoria C.P.R., are left to fight it out for the Nabob trophy. Sherwood meets Linton in one of the semi-finals and Ewans clashes with Raeside in the other.

McKellar, Cedar Cottage, entered the final of the Spalding (novice) singles and will meet the winner of the Carruthers (Vancouver) vs. Howarth (Stanley Park) semi-final for the silverware. Carruthers and Howarth will play their semi-final this afternoon, and the final will follow immediately afterwards at the same venue.

WOLGAST WINS BOUT EASILY

Flyweight Champion Coasts to Fifteen-round Decision Over Ruby Bradley

New York, July 14.—Midget Wolgast, speedy Philadelphian, who is recognized in some states as flyweight champion, clearly demonstrated his right to the crown so far as Ruby (Dark Cloud) Bradley of Holyoke, Mass., is concerned.

Wolgast punched out an easy fifteen-round decision over the New England negro in a title bout at the Coney Island stadium yesterday evening in the first championship battle there since Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett clashed for the heavyweight title thirty years ago.

Wolgast, after flooring Bradley for a nine count in the first round, coasted along for a round or two, and then settled down to a steady attack that staggered the negro in the sixth, eleventh and thirteenth rounds, and easily earned for him the unanimous decision of the referee and the two judges.

SCHMELING IS WELL RECEIVED

Large Crowd Turns Out to Greet Heavyweight Champ on Arrival at Berlin

Berlin, July 14—Nothing was left undone in the way of speeches and ceremony yesterday to assure Max Schmeling he was really welcome home as Germany's hero. The heavyweight champion landed at Templehof Airdrome from Bremen yesterday and a crowd of 8,000 turned out to greet the conqueror of Young Stribling.

Handkerchiefs waved wildly as the plane was sighted and the crowd greeted Schmeling with a volley of "hochs" as he jumped out of the plane and ran into the arms of his mother.

By the time Schmeling got around to speaking through the microphone, more floral tributes had been handed him than he could hold.

"I'm glad to be back home," he said, "and I'm glad I had a chance to prove myself a genuine champion. I'm home to visit mother and I'm going to take a good rest."

Borotra Thinks Frenchmen Will Lose Net Title

Paris, July 14.—Jean Borotra, the only able-bodied member of France's three tennis musketeers, is afraid France is doomed to lose the Davis Cup.

At Biarritz yesterday, Borotra said he believed the French team would be in no shape to wage a successful defence of the international trophy which he, Henri Cochet, and Rene Lacoste won from the United States in 1927.

The time is too short, Borotra said, for either Cochet or Lacoste to get in fit playing condition.

The United States squad, which plays England Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the right to challenge France, had a long workout yesterday.

RAYMENT IS EXTENDED TO BEAT TEMPLE

One-armed Star of Victoria Club Advances in Clay Court Play After Hard Match

Irving Weinstein, Portland, Defending Champ, Defeats L. Backler 6-2, 6-0

After two days of rest, players in the Victoria clay courts championships went through a heavy day's play yesterday with all favorites advancing. The heavy, damp courts made play difficult, but some good tennis was witnessed.

Hugo Rayment, Victoria Club captain, ran into plenty of trouble when he met Ivan Temple, J.B.A.A. ace. Temple carried the one-armed star to three sets before he came through to win at 6-4, 4-6, 8-6. Temple and Rayment at match point in the third set, only to have the latter ace him on a clean-cut backhand shot when he advanced to the net.

Irving Weinstein, defending champion, dropped only two games in his match with Lionel Backler, and advanced to the next round. Other favorites in the men's singles also advanced without trouble, Jones defeating W. Bird 6-1, 6-1, while Tommy Forbes defeated Don Warder, 6-3, 6-3.

Mary and Helen Campbell, favorites in the women's singles, both advanced rather easily, with the former downing Iris Goddard, 6-0, 6-1, and the latter defeating Elsie Weeks, 6-2, 6-1.

Helen Campbell and Schwengers were also having their trouble eliminating Grace Sluggett and McCutcheon at 6-2, 6-4. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards advanced another round in this event at the expense of Miss Hickey and Burgess, winning 6-3, 6-3.

OIL MEN PLAN TO CLOSE WELLS

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 14.—Oil men of Oklahoma and Kansas, who have decided to shut down their wells until the price of crude oil rises to a "profitable level," to-day awaited results.

One ray of hope was an announcement that the Bell Oil and Gas Company would restore its former prices of 37 cents a barrel for 40 gravity oil and above in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Operators in the Oklahoma City field voted Friday to shut down their wells until crude reaches a price of $1 a barrel or better. The movement gained impetus Saturday, when 300 Kansas operators approved an immediate shut down of 22,000 wells.

House Hears Bennett Explain New Trade Pact With Australia

Laying Agreement Before Commons, Premier Says Provision Individual Items May be Boosted Back to General Tariff if Home Industries Adversely Affected, Without Abrogation of Whole Treaty, is New Principle

Ottawa, July 14.—Premier Bennett, in tabling the new Canadian-Australian trade agreement in the Commons yesterday evening said:

"After negotiations extending over several months a trade agreement has been concluded between Canada and Australia. Copies were signed by the Minister of Trade and Commerce and myself on behalf of the Canadian Government on June 5, and by the Right Honorable J. H. Scullin, Prime Minister of Australia and the Hon. Parker Moloney, Minister for Markets and Transport, at Canberra, on July 8, on behalf of the Australian Government.

PREFERENTIAL SYSTEM

"Since the adoption of a preferential tariff system in Australia more than twenty years ago, it has been the desire of all Canadian Governments to secure for this Dominion the benefits of the British preferential tariff of Australia. Hitherto, this has not been found possible. The arrangement entered into by the late government in 1925, which is at present in force, secured the British preferential tariff on four items, or parts of items, only.

"The trade agreement signed on June 5 secures for Canada the benefits of the British preferential tariff on 415 out of 433 items which make up the Australian customs tariff. In addition, it secures for Canada the benefits of the intermediate tariff of Australia on six items, or parts of items.

SALMON AND LUMBER

"Moreover, on commodities of great importance in Canada's export trade Australia has adjusted her tariff to accord our producers a greater margin of preference. On canned salmon, for example, we will get a preference of 3 pence pe pound; on logs a preference of 10 per cent ad valorem, and on many classes of lumber a preference of 2 shillings per 100 board feet. On newsprint paper Canada is accorded free entry, and the preference over foreign paper is increased to $20 per ton.

"Thus the great bulk of commodities exported from Canada is guaranteed, under the new agreement, a substantial tariff preference in Australia. All foreign countries are under the Australian general tariff.

GIVEN BY CANADA

"In return, as set forth in schedule as to the agreement, Canada will accord to Australia its British preferential tariff and reduced rates or greater margins of preference on some twenty-eight items, or parts of items, on the Canadian tariff. This compares with reductions on twenty items, or parts of items, under the agreement at present in force.

"Throughout the negotiations which have now culminated in the conclusions of a broad trade agreement, we have sought to adhere to the principle of diverting to each other trade which at the present time is being done with countries outside the Empire. For several years past Australian purchases of goods from foreign countries have averaged considerably more than $300,000,000 per annum. Canada is in a position to supply a large proportion of this great demand, and under the new agreement we believe she will do it."

NEW PRINCIPLE

For the first time, the Prime Minister said, a clause had been inserted in a trade agreement between Canada and another country by which abrogation would not necessarily follow merely because of difficulties arising out of one or two items.

Article nine of the agreement provided that if one country found the importation under the agreement of some product was prejudicial to the domestic industry, then a notice could be given to the other. If within three months the country receiving the notice had not cured the difficulty, then automatically the product was to bear duty under the general tariff. Such general tariff was to continue until the notice was withdrawn.

The Premier drew attention to the many difficulties that had arisen with New Zealand over the single item of butter. As a result of the terms of the arrangement with that country there was nothing to do but to abrogate it. Under the new agreement with Australia, if trouble arose over a few items the main body of the document would still remain intact.

In this connection, he said, it was desirable to mention the dumping duty would not apply to imports from Australia.

QUOTES MOLONEY LETTER

The Premier went on:

"In closing, I cannot do better, perhaps, than quote the words of the letter from the Honorable Parker Moloney, Australian Minister for Markets and Transport, which reached Ottawa over the week-end. Mr. Moloney states the step which we have just taken is undoubtedly a very material advance toward that ideal of inter-Empire preference which we all consider is a vital necessity in upholding the position of the British Commonwealth of Nations amongst the great trading nations of the world. When it is remembered that the various Dominions are keen competitors, the consummation of an agreement such as that we have just made is a lasting memorial to the goodwill and co-operation displayed between two sister Dominions.

"I sincerely hope and trust this agreement will bear the fruit which we so earnestly desire and that we will do business with one another which at the present time is being done with foreign countries."

FOR MUTUAL ADVANTAGE

His Majesty's government in the Dominion of Canada and His Majesty's government in the Commonwealth of Australia, being desirous of improving and extending the commercial relations existing between Canada and Australia and affirming the principle of granting tariff preferences the one to the other on goods of their produce or manufacture for their mutual advantage have agreed upon the following articles

ARTICLE ONE

Subject to the provisions of the Customs tariff of Canada, except as hereinafter provided, Canada grants

1. (a)—To the goods enumerated in schedule A hereto, being the produce or manufacture of Australia, when imported into Canada, the tariff rates and provisions indicated in the said schedule A;

(b)—To all other goods the produce or manufacture of Australia, when imported into Canada, the benefits of the British preferential tariff.

2.—The tariff advantages conceded by Section 1 of this article shall apply only to goods imported direct into Canada.

ARTICLE TWO

Subject to the provisions of the customs tariff of Australia, except as hereinafter provided, Australia grants:

1. (a)—To the goods enumerated in schedule B hereto, being the produce or manufacture of Canada, when imported into Australia, the tariff rates and provisions indicated in the said schedule B;

(b)—To all other goods the produce or manufacture of Canada, when imported into Australia, the benefits of the British preferential tariff.

2.—The tariff advantages conceded by Section 1 of this article shall apply only to goods that have been shipped from Canada to Australia and have not been transhipped, or, if transshipped, then only if it is proved to the satisfaction of the collector of customs that the intended destination of the goods when originally shipped from Canada was Australia.

ARTICLE THREE

It is hereby agreed that, in the event of the amendment of either the Canadian or the Australian tariff in force on the date on which this agreement comes into force:

1. Canada will, in regard to the goods enumerated in Schedule A, maintain at least the actual difference between the rates charged on goods imported from Australia and those imposed by the British preferential, intermediate and general tariffs respectively; and,

2. Australia will, in regard to the goods enumerated in Schedule B, maintain in respect of the goods from Canada, subject to—

(a) The British preferential tariff, at least the actual difference between that tariff and the intermediate and general tariffs; and

(b) The intermediate tariff, at least the actual difference between that tariff and the general tariff.

ARTICLE FOUR

In determining the value of goods for duty purposes, Canada and Australia agree that no greater amount of inland freight charges shall be included in such value for duty than the actual amount of freight charges that would be incurred if the goods were forwarded from the point of origin of such goods to the nearest point of exit from the exporting country.

ARTICLE FIVE

1. Goods, the produce or manufacture of Australia, imported under the provisions of Article 1 hereof, shall not be subject to the provisions of Section 6 of the customs tariff of Canada.

2. Goods, the produce or manufacture of Canada, imported under the provisions of Article 2 hereof, shall not be subject to the provisions of the Customs Tariff (Industries Preservation) Act, 1921-1922, of Australia.

ARTICLE SIX

Nothing in this agreement shall be construed to affect the right of either country to impose any special duty or tax (other than dumping duty) on goods imported, provided that such special duty or tax does not exceed that imposed on similar goods imported from any other country.

ARTICLE SEVEN

For the purpose of this agreement, goods shall be deemed to be the produce or manufacture of Canada or of Australia, as the case may be, if conforming, in respect to the proportion of home production therein, with the laws or regulations in force in the country of importation which apply to such goods when imported under its British preferential tariff.

ARTICLE EIGHT

The terms "British preferential tariff," "intermediate tariff" and "general tariff," as used in this agreement and the schedules thereto, shall be deemed to mean the British preferential tariff, intermediate tariff and general tariff of Canada or Australia in force on the date the goods are entered for home consumption.

ARTICLE NINE

If—(a) At any time either party to this agreement gives notice in writing to the other party that, in consequence of the importation of goods of a kind specified in the notice, being the produce or manufacture of the exporting country, into the other country, the sale of similar goods produced in that other country is being prejudicially or injuriously affected; and

(b) Measures sufficient in the opinion of the government of the importing country to remedy the conditions complained of, are not put into effect by the government of the exporting country within three months from the date of the notice,

Then, until the notice is withdrawn by the government of the importing country, goods of the kind specified in the notice shall, when imported into such country, be subject to the rates of duty under its general tariff.

(2) The parties agree to endeavor to reach a satisfactory arrangement, with a view to the withdrawal of the notice with the least possible delay.

(3) On the withdrawal of the notice, goods of the kind specified in the notice, shall again become subject to the tariff applicable to them before the notice was given.

ARTICLE TEN

When this agreement is brought into force by proclamations as hereinafter provided, the tariff concessions mutually conceded under the Australian Trade Agreement Act of Canada assented to on June 27, 1925, and the resolution passed by the parliament of Australia on September 2, 1925, shall cease to have effect, except in relation to goods which are in transit between the two countries on the date of issue of the proclamations, and in respect of which increased duties have been imposed in pursuance of this agreement, provided such goods are entered for home consumption within thirty days after arrival at port of destination.

ARTICLE ELEVEN

This agreement shall be subject to the approval of the parliaments of Canada and of Australia. Upon approval being given it shall be brought into force upon the date to be agreed upon between the governments of Canada and of Australia, by proclamations published in The Canada Gazette and in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette. It shall remain in force for a period of one year from the date of the said proclamations and thereafter until the expiration of six months from the date on which either government shall have given to the other notice of its intention to terminate the agreement.

Signed at Ottawa, Canada, this fifth day of June, 1931, on behalf of His Majesty's Government in the Dominion of Canada.—R. B. Bennett, H. H. Stevens.

WELCOME TO VICTORIA ROYAL ARCANUM

THE Officers and Members of Majestic Council 1513, Victoria, British Columbia, in Grand Jurisdiction of Washington and British Columbia extend to all Members of the Supreme Council and Subordinate Councils a Hearty Welcome to Victoria for the Supreme Council Sessions at the Empress Hotel, July 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, 1931

Royal Arcanum Founded Fifty-four Years Ago

Organized by Group of Nine Men in Boston on June 23, 1877; Since Then Membership Has Increased to 100,000; First Canadian Lodge Formed in Sarnia, Ontario, December 12, 1877

The Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum of Canada and the United States is convening at the Empress Hotel, marking the fifty-fourth annual assemblage of representatives of the organization. It has brought to Victoria a host of Arcanians, a majority from the eastern part of the United States, where the order had its origin and where the large part of the membership of 100,000 reside.

Fifty-four years ago on June 23, 1877, a small group of nine fraternalists, Darius Wilson, Charles Darling, W. O. Robson, E. M. Crawford, J. A. Cummings, G. W. Bliah, William Bradley, J. H. Wright and J. W. Swain, gathered at the home of Dr. Darius Wilson in Boston, Mass., and organized the Royal Arcanum under the laws of the State of Massachusetts.

Supreme Regent
HAROLD C. KNOEPPEL

For several years previous to that time the United States was experiencing a wave of fraternalism, organizations designed to promote the brotherhood of man springing into existence in large numbers. Dr. Wilson had prepared a ritual, signs and signals, laws and regulations, and after several conferences with his associates all was in readiness for the formal organization.

The original agreement subscribed to by the nine organizers and which forms the object for which the order was organized, reads in part: "The purpose for which the corporation is constituted is, to unite fraternally all men of sound bodily health and good moral character who are socially acceptable. To give all moral and material aid in its power to its members and those dependent upon them. To educate its members socially, morally and intellectually; also to assist the widows and orphans of deceased members; to establish a widows' and orphans' benefit fund, from which on satisfactory evidence of death of a member who has complied with all lawful requirements, a certain sum shall be paid to his family or dependents."

The nine organizers, led by Dr. Wilson, spread the gospel of the Royal Arcanum far and wide and the early growth was almost phenomenal, councils being formed in all sections of the east and spreading to the mid-west and into Canada Primus Council No. 40, of Sarnia, Ont., being the first council being formed in Canada December 12, 1877, closely followed by Ontario Council at Petrolia on December 17, 1877.

In 1888 a special act of the legislature of Massachusetts permitted the supreme council to hold a session in the Dominion of Canada, and Toronto was the place of the eleventh supreme council session.

Royal Arcanum Council In Victoria Is Active

Had Modest Beginning in 1896 But Now Has Membership of More Than 200

Well-known Business and Professional Men Among Officers of Local Council

From a very humble beginning in 1896, membership in the Royal Arcanum in Victoria has grown from twenty to more than 200 at the present time. For many years, following an enthusiastic start, the Royal Arcanum movement was dormant in this city, but a few years ago activities were again stirred up and now the local body, Majestic Council No. 1513, is one of the most energetic on the Pacific Coast. The regular meetings are always attended and local members have been working hard for the last few weeks preparing for the many Arcanums and their ladies who are to-day invading Victoria for the Supreme Council session.

In 1896 W. M. Sutherland was commissioned by the Supreme Council to organize a council in Victoria and to establish the order in British Columbia. Charter members of the Royal Arcanum in Victoria were: Joseph Sears, W. J. Hanna, James A. Ritchie, W. J. Dowler, J. Holland, C. R. Browne, W. H. Jones, George J. Bagshaw, A. T. Watt, R. W. Ward, John W. Bolden, W. M. Sutherland, Harry D. Irvine, Robert Menaugh, W. H. Wilkerson, George A. Dow, James A. Gill and E. Henshall.

Majestic Council joined the Grand Council jurisdiction of the State of Washington in 1911. The Grand Council was organized thirty-one years ago. Fortune Telling à la 1931

THE menu card which tells what you eat can tell you more about your future than any pack of fortune-telling cards. Success and happiness come easily to the fortunate possessors of sparkling energy and glowing health. And these, in turn, come mainly from eating food which gives the body, in proper balance, the varied elements of nourishment it needs.

Here's just such a food . . . and with a flavour loved by millions. In a single serving of Grape-Nuts is more varied nourishment than many a hearty meal. The crispness of its golden kernels urges you to chew Grape-Nuts . . . thereby bringing out the full, delicate, nut-like flavour . . . and adding important benefits to teeth and digestion.

Greet a brighter day tomorrow with Grape-Nuts for breakfast. Your grocer has it. 19 servings to a package. Grape-Nuts is made in Canada from Canadian wheat.

HIGH TARIFFS CLOSE MARKETS TO CANADIAN WHEAT

Ottawa, July 14.—New markets for Canadian wheat have been discovered in the past fiscal year and a number of the old markets have been developed to an extent never before contemplated, says the Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce, in a statement released to-day. A number of unimportant markets have, however, been completely closed to Canadian wheat by reason of high tariff barriers.

"On the other hand," the statement continues, "where tariffs were raised in previous years in many of the principal countries of continental Europe, they have been partly lowered during the past year and Canadian wheat is again regaining a definite foothold. Despite the strenuous competition Canadian wheat has been encountering from Soviet Russia, it is noted that during the past fiscal year Canada exported 254,213 bushels to that country. In the fiscal year 1929-1930 she exported 859,100 bushels to Soviet Russia, and in the preceding year, 491,519 bushels.

"Most outstanding of all the new markets found for Canadian wheat has been in South America where, despite the close proximity of the large wheat-growing republic of Argentina, Canadian wheat to the extent of over 2,000,000 bushels was imported last year and the preceding year. For the first time on record the republics of Bolivia and Venezuela imported Canadian wheat amounting to 1,343 and 33,600 bushels respectively. Peru has been taking small quantities of Canadian wheat ever since 1923, but never more than 260,000 bushels a year. Last fiscal year she took 1,145,432 bushels. Colombia, with 637,396 bushels, imported a larger quantity of Canadian wheat last year than ever before. Brazil took 205,333 bushels last year, the first consignment of Canadian wheat that she had taken in a number of years.

"The United Kingdom remains as Canada's chief market for her wheat, taking 131,679,398 bushels in the last fiscal year, an increase of over 16 per cent over the preceding year. Exports of Canadian wheat to British South Africa have quadrupled in the past year when they amounted to 2,855,206 bushels. New markets were created within the empire for Canadian wheat in Egypt and Malta, and Newfoundland took its largest quantity in the past decade. New Zealand took 107,245 bushels last year, as compared with 130,002 bushels in the preceding year. The British West Indies, with the exception of Bermuda, took smaller quantities."

Winners Drawn For Building Loans

With William Marchant presiding, E. W. Clayton and D. A. S. McGregor were the winners of the drawing held last evening by the Capital City Building Society and Savings and Loan Association. These two men now have the right to draw money on loans.

L. E. Gower, Fred Barnes, W. J. Gower and A. Calderwood were the priority winners at the drawing for loans held by the Greater Victoria Building Society in the Pemberton Building last evening. This drawing was also presided over by William Marchant. A vacancy on the board was filled by the election of C. F. Waites.

HASTEN TARIFF REVISION WORK

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 14.—Bucking down to business in a way which made prorogation look much less remote, the Commons, in committee of ways and means, yesterday approved approximately 100 tariff items, covering almost the entire list of items remaining to be passed, with the exception of a number obviously contentious and others which have a bearing on the new Australian trade agreement.

On a number of items Premier Bennett, who, as Minister of Finance piloted the schedules through committee, was asked if the increased duties would result in higher prices to the consumers. His answer was in the negative. If prices were increased, he said on one occasion, the duties would be decreased.

Objection to increased rates, voiced chiefly from the Liberal benches, were based on the contention that higher tariffs must eventually bear most heavily on the primary producers. The farmers, it was said, had to pay the piper.

FEW CHANGES

Changes in items brought down June 1 by Premier Bennett were few, and, generally speaking, minor in their nature. The Prime Minister moved a new item to cover wire netting used on fur farms. That commodity was given a rating of 15 per cent. Under the British preference, 27½ per cent, intermediate and 30 per cent general.

Just before adjournment, the committee approved the item which provides a drawback of 99 per cent on raw sugar produced in the British Empire, or sugars refined in Canada from raw sugar produced in the British Empire, when used in the manufacture of wine in Canada.

PREPARED VEGETABLES

Prepared vegetables in air-tight tins or containers will now bear duties as follows: Baked beans, corn, tomatoes and pears, free under the British preference, two cents a pound under the intermediate tariff and three cents under the general tariff. All other vegetables similarly prepared, free, 27½ per cent ad valorem intermediate and 30 per cent general.

Without discussion, the committee approved the item imposing duties of 17½ per cent under the British preference on crabs and clams in sealed containers, 40 per cent under the intermediate, and the same rate under the general tariffs. The former rates were 17½, 27½ and 30 per cent.

BACK TO EUROPE

Montreal, July 14.—Thousands of unskilled European laborers in Montreal want to return to their continental homes and should be given the chance, says Alderman Bernard Schwartz. He intends to approach the city executive committee and ask that the city, instead of spending large sums on direct relief, consider offering to collaborate with the provincial governments to provide funds for sending back to Europe immigrants of the unskilled labor type who are willing to go back to their native lands but have not the money.

Women Suffer From More Serious Diseases Than Men

Many Conditions Connected With Childbirth

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Some years ago the Commission on Medical Education, after studying the cases in the practice of numerous general practitioners, came to the conclusion that 90 per cent of diseases coming to the attention of physicians could be handled by general practitioners with the amount of equipment that could be carried in a handbag. Statistical studies of diseases are important because they show physicians the kind of work for which they must be prepared.

One organization which makes examinations of men and women at periodic intervals has recently compared the rates for disease among men and women as determined by the examinations of 12,618 people. The women included workers of all types, housewives, clerks in stores and those serving in the various professions. Many of the conditions from which the women suffer are connected with childbirth. The rates are higher among women than among men for functional murmurs of the heart, neuritis, nervousness and abnormal reflexes. Women have varicose veins more frequently than do men and also valvular lesions of the heart and enlargement of the heart.

On the other hand, the only conditions in which there is a definite excess in the rate for men are deflected septums in the nose, thickening or hardening of the arteries, defective hearing, frequent colds and pyorrhea. Just why men should have nose and throat troubles so much more than women is of great interest but the reason is not clear.

When the figures for housewives were studied in relation to all of the women, it is found that they suffer more frequently from some conditions than do women in general. Since housewives are married to a far greater extent than are other women workers, the explanation lies in the fact that the conditions concerned are definitely associated with childbirth.

Women have far more disturbances of the thyroid than do men. They complain much more of the tenderness in the region of the gall bladder and appendix.

So far as the age at which disease occurs is concerned, the ages in both groups seem to be the same. Sex differences in the occurrence of various diseases are factors which interest physicians greatly, particularly in the matter of making a diagnosis. There was a time when certain diseases were limited almost exclusively to men, even those that did not affect tissues or organs peculiarly masculine. Since women have come to a large extent out of the home and into industry and into similar politically active positions, they begin to show disturbances which were formerly limited almost wholly to men.

In the past the life expectancy of women was in general greater than that of man at any given age, and among people living to 100 years of age there would usually be more women than men. Equality of effort and, associated therewith, equality of exposure makes it likely that in the future this distinction will not maintain.

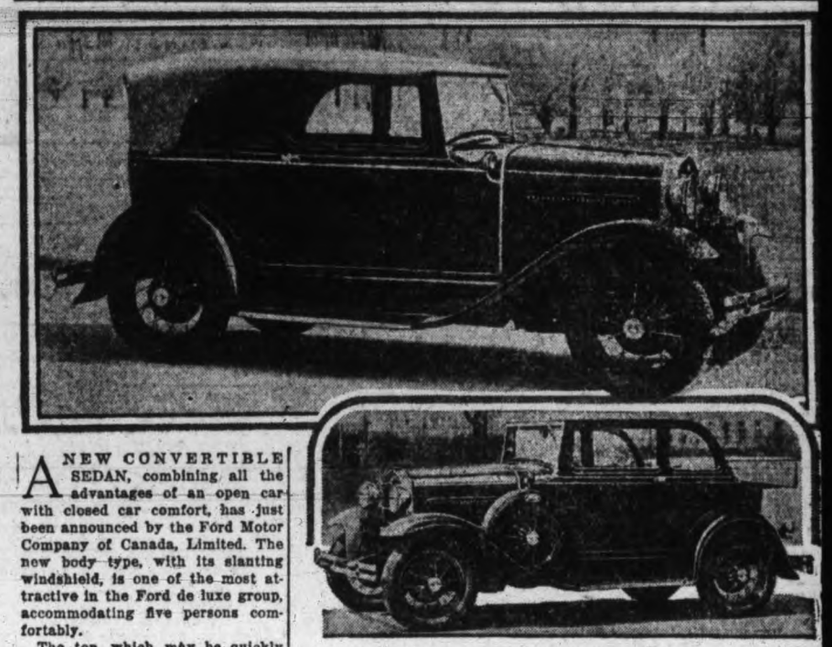
Ford Announces Convertible Sedan



A NEW CONVERTIBLE SEDAN, combining all the advantages of an open car with closed car comfort, has just been announced by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited. The new body type, with its slanting windshield, is one of the most attractive in the Ford de luxe group, accommodating five persons comfortably.

The top, which may be quickly lowered, folds flat and may be enclosed in a boot. The upper structure is rigid—a new development in convertible car construction—eliminating the possibility of vibration noise. The top is of attractive rubberized material. Mouldings and finish strips are in walnut.

Two wide doors permit easy entrance. The door windows and quarter windows may be raised and lowered with regulators. The driver's seat is adjustable. The front passenger seat folds down to permit entrance to the rear. A depression in the floor of the rear compartment adds to the comfort of passengers, allowing ample leg room.

CHAMPION DEPORTEE

Three Times Shipped Out, Al Raschid Returns Again

The amazing experience of the world's champion deportee, Emir Mohammed Al Raschid, which have kept him flitting gull-like from shore to shore for the past seven years, now have landed him on the terra firma of the U.S.A.—probably to stay.

And strangely, though he has been known as Kedershah of the Turks, Emir of Kurdistan and "The Man Nobody Wants," he has actually proved he was born in Detroit on Washington's birthday, 1895, of Turkish parents exiled from their own country.

IN AGAIN, OUT AGAIN

Three times he has been deported. Three times he has succeeded in returning.

Like the man he claims as ancestor, the Caliph Haroun Al Raschid of Bagdad, fabled hero of Arabian Nights tales, the Emir has lived through glamorous episodes, rivaling riding on a magic carpet.

An astonishing blend of truth and fiction has had him presenting the Princess Fatima of Afganistan to President Harding, posing as a noted Turkish general in the Unter den Linden in Berlin, winning the Grand Prix Militaire at Nice mounted on a comic-opera stable plug, and credited with a vast scheme of rebuilding Kurdistan with American capital.

"All malicious lies," says the Emir. "I was born a gentleman and will die a gentleman."

And to see him, resplendent in a modishly-tailored grey suit, polka dot tie and handkerchief, pale sea-green shirt and an inverted Turkish style moustachia—well, he looks the part.

SEEKS U.S. CITIZENSHIP

His case is being handled by Arthur Garfield Hays, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union. Already Circuit Judge Marschner has forwarded an order establishing that the Emir was born in Detroit. Now Federal Judge Bondy is to hear a plea that full citizenship be given the Prince of the Kudrs.

A COMPOSER AND POET

Al Rsschid lives with his wife in a fashionable east side resident hotel. He describes himself as "a composer and a poet." During the war he was an inspector of aircraft for the Allied governments at Dayton, he says. Before he served as an expert with several prominent automobile companies, he declares. As for money, he has it because it was left him by his rich father, once a pretender to the Turkish throne.

The report that he has been a pants-presser is vigorously denied. Certainly not that, he explains, for he is forever a gentleman and directly descended from the great Caliph of Bagdad, Haround Al Raschid, whose fondness for tall stories left the world his debtor for the Arabian Nights.

DUNCAN BALL TOSSERS TRIM EAGLES' WINGS

Special to The Times

Duncan, July 14.—A ninth inning rally, which netted three runs, gave the Duncan baseball team a one-run margin to win from the Victoria Eagles on Sunday McDonald, the visitors' slow ball twirler, was chased to the showers when three successive hits, two of which were doubles, tied up the score in the ninth. Holness replaced him and tried hard to stem the tide, but a hard single off McInnes's bat drove in the winning run for Duncan. Ten hits were secured by the Duncan batters.

For the locals Mottishaw pitched the first four innings, after which McKinney took his place on the mound. Mottishaw struck out six and was touched up for three hits and four runs. Four hits and three runs were made off McKinney's delivery.

It was the home team's seventh successive victory.

Victoria Eagles ..... 030100012—7
Duncan ..... 012020003—8

Next Sunday Duncan baseball team will entertain the Cowichan cricket team in a friendly game at 1 o'clock at the baseball park. Following this, the cricket team will give the ball players a lesson in cricket on their home ground, Duncan.

SAYS HOTELS ON PAR WITH LAST YEAR

Golf Tournaments Attracting Visitors From Long Distances; Parties Coming

Mountain resorts on the Canadian Pacific system are experiencing a good season, according to H. F. Matthews, general manager of C.P.R. Western Hotels, who arrived in the city yesterday from Banff and Lake Louise.

"The hotels at Banff and Lake Louise are handling as much tourist business this year as they did last season," said Mr. Matthews in an interview to-day. "Reservations are being made for large parties and the months of July and August should show up particularly well."

GOLF TOURNEYS

Mr. Matthews referred to the two important golf tournaments which will be staged over the Banff course in August and September, the first being scheduled for August 17 for "The Willingdon Cup," and the second, starting September 8, for "The Prince of Wales Trophy."

"We are receiving reservations at Banff for these golf tournaments from Nevada and California, and as far east as Pennsylvania," said Mr. Matthews.

PARTIES DUE HERE

The general manager for hotels added that several important parties, starting with the University of Montreal party, which arrived at the Empress Hotel today, are scheduled to pass through Victoria this summer.

58 YEARS OLD, BUT JOINED UP

Now Mrs. Elizabeth Wright Seeks Pension as Husband Died on Discharge

How J. L. Wright, fifty-eight-year-old prairie druggist, who came to Victoria in 1913 to retire, joined up in the early part of the war despite his age, and then had a stroke when he was discharged at the age of sixty-two, was told before the Pensions Tribunal at the Court House here to-day by Dr. A. C. Sinclair.

"He was quite an active old man and wanted to do something in the war, so he joined up in 1916 and they sent him with the B.C. Horse to Vernon, where he carried on guarding the camp," said Dr. Sinclair.

The doctor also told how the elderly man, who came out of his retirement to join in the war, suffered the apoplectic attack on discharge, which rendered him useless and resulted in his death.

G. H. Sedger, soldiers' advocate, now has charge of the appeal to the tribunal for a pension for the wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, 558 Phoenix Street.

Col. Cy. Peck, V.C., presiding judge, adjourned the hearing of the appeal when the court adjourned at 1 o'clock this afternoon, until evidence of Mrs. Wright could be taken.

GO TO OTTAWA COURT

Appeals for pensions for four other returned soldiers were presented to the court to-day by Mr. Sedger. In all the cases, the judges reserved their decision and the applicants will be notified from Ottawa of the results.

Mr. Sedger explained that the decisions of the court here are not final, as they can be reviewed by a higher tribunal at Ottawa. He also explained that pensions are not being increased, except in the sense that new disabilities may be found and on which a payment of a new and additional pension allowance may be made.

EYE TROUBLE TO KEEP SCHMELING OUT OF ACTION

Berlin, July 14.—Prospects of a heavyweight title match in September between Max Schmeling and Primo Carnera went glimmering to-day as Schmeling's oculist warned him he must refrain from boxing or training at least two or three months because of eye trouble.

NANAIMO NOTES

Special to The Times

Nanaimo, July 14.—A successful dance was held by Malaspina Chapter, I.O.D.E., on Newcastle Island on Friday evening. The Princess Elaine conveyed 200 dancers, and many more were transported in launches. The pavilion was decorated with flags and lights. The dance was the most successful held by the chapter to date, and they are contemplating holding a series of dances at the popular resort.

Six hundred attended the picnic held by the local Eagles yesterday on Newcastle Island. The weather cleared, permitting sports and games to be played.

Miss Helen Smith was tendered a hosiery shower in anticipation of her approaching marriage, at the home of Mrs. Hirst, Wentworth Street, on Friday evening. The rooms were decorated in mauve and yellow. The evening was spent in games and contests, refreshments being served by the hostess.

The funeral of the late Pendray Harris, well-known pioneer, was held at the family residence on Saturday afternoon. Service at the home was conducted by Rev. W. R. Welch, and the rituals of the I.O.O.F. and Foresters were read at the graveside. Special hymns were sung by the Welsh quartette.

Port Alberni Council Scans Milk Measure

Special to The Times

Port Alberni, July 14.—The chief business before the City Council yesterday evening was the proposed Milk By-law, which was discussed in committee. Dr. A. Wilson, medical officer of health for the city, explained the significance of the suggested measure and favored pasteurizing of milk.

He advocated construction of a municipal pasteurization plant, citing as advantages that a saving could be made through systematic delivery and that a market could be developed for milk along the Alberni Canal and Barclay Sound, thereby increasing production in the district. At present practically no supply is made to those points, owing to difficulty of keeping the product sweet. Dr. Wilson advocated, as an alternative to pasteurization, the adoption of measures to officially control the bacterial contents of milk supplied residents of the city. Further discussion was adjourned pending advice from the Provincial Department of Health as to procedure.

TENNIS JUNIORS FROM VANCOUVER DOMINATE PLAY

Local Entrants Not Making Good Show in B.C. Junior Tournament Here

Vancouver players went practically unbeaten in the second day's play of the B.C. junior tennis tournament at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club this morning. This was especially so in the chief event, the boys under eighteen singles, where the three who have reached the semi-finals are all Vancouverites. They are Colin Milne, T. Forhan and J. Duncan.

The three victories of these lads were scored at the expense of two Victoria players and a Duncanite. Ian Phillips and George Parker, local hopes, both went out this morning—the latter after a bitter struggle with R. Fraser, North Vancouver. The score was 7-5, 3-6, 11-9 in favor of the visitor. Phillips was beaten by Milne, 6-4, 6-2, and Forhan downed Lundie of Duncan, 7-9, 8-6, 6-0. The Up-islander made it really tough for his opponent in the first two sets, but wilted badly in the deciding one.

In the girls under eighteen, P. Britton. Joan List and F. Tremayne have secured places in the semi-final. Miss List is now of Vancouver.

WISE CONTROL OF POWER IS WORLD'S NEED

Dr. A. F. Tuttle, Edmonton, Says Sound Economic Leadership Necessary

Draws Parallel Between Physical and Economic Power For Kiwanis Club

Drawing a parallel between the tremendous power within the atom, which, if released indiscriminately, would prove devastating to humanity, and the power wielded by economic leaders, who, if they did not handle their financial strength properly, could cause untold misery, Dr. A. F. Tuttle, principal of St. Stephen's College, Edmonton, stressed the need for wise control in the world today, before the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel.

"Power is basic in nature, human life and civilization. The expression of power in any one of these spheres is co-related with the expression of power in the other," said Dr. Tuttle.

He referred to the harnessing of natural power in the development of civilization. By using the power of the horse, primitive man advanced his civilization. Later another harnessed the power of the wind, while another utilized that of rushng water.

He spoke of the development of steam power and its revolutionary effect within seventy-five years after the invention of James Watt.

More clever men saw the power in electricity and later discovered the principle of corelation which led to the great hydro-electric projects.

ON VERGE OF NEW ERA

"Now, scientists tell us, we are on the verge of a new discovery," he continued before dealing with the propensities of the power of the atom. Within the atom itself was another tremendous amount of energy in comparison to the more or less infinitesmal power derived from its external forces.

He sketched the principle of radio activity. When the power within the atom was fully discovered, civilization would jump as far ahead in a few years as the present was from savagery, he said. He quoted leading physicists on the possibilities of the use of such power, and stated the question at present revolved around the manner in which man would use it.

According to Bertrand Russell, the problem was to develop man morally to such a point that he could use this power properly.

ECONOMIC POWER

Leaving the manifestations of physical power and its possibilities Dr. Tuttle turned his attention to economic and political power. In the use of this, as in the use of the physical, those in control required to be developed to a point where they would not abuse it.

He spoke of the philosophy of Communism based on the doctrines of Karl Marx. These revolved themselves into three chief points; that wealth was a power; that this power was used arbitrarily by the capitalist who would not surrender it without a violent struggle, and that a revolution was necessary to restore this power to the people.

The question of the day was—"Are the men who are in control of this power using it properly?" Dr. Tuttle stated.

Quoting from a financial journal, he said unemployment was the greatest fault of capitalism. From a New York statistician he quoted views to the effect that in the days of easy production it was necessary to have a wise system of control instead of the haphazard individualism of the present system. This control was not to be related to any one country, but to the entire world, which, he said, was economically a unit.

The service clubs, he said, were formed to serve. They could not do better than study economic problems with a view to using their power in a constructive and co-operative manner for the benefit of the entire world.

Thanks were expressed for the address by Kiwanian Wm. Scott, who reminded the clubmen that the speaker was occupying the pulpit at Centennial Church at present.

Good Reports On Shawnigan Public School

Shawnigan Lake, July 14.—The annual public school meeting was held in the schoolroom on Saturday evening. S. J. Heald, secretary-trustee, opened the meeting, which was well attended. R. M. Aitken was chosen chairman. The report on school progress was satisfactory. The attendance during the year average sixty, with sixty-six as the highest attendance. The pupils were evenly distributed in all grades, with seven taking the entrance examinations. The school inspector's report was good, also the medical health officer's report.

The Shawnigan Women's Institute and I.O.D.E. have taken a keen interest in the school. Miss M. Lonsdale has given the pupils singing lessons and Mrs. M. A. Curwen has taught folk-dancing. Both of these extras the children have enjoyed and have acquitted themselves well in the Victoria competitions. C. E. Lendrum, principal, and Miss E. V. Archer, teacher of Division II, have fulfilled their duties in a capable manner, and were being retained in their respective positions. The meeting voted a small increase in their salaries.

The financial statement showed the trustees had kept within their estimates. The amount voted last year was $1,820, and the amount spent $1,495.94. The board had $546 in the bank.

The estimates for the ensuing year showed an increase, being $2,060. The meeting decided to set the assessment at $1,800 and make up the difference from the bank balance. Judging from last year's rate of 1¾ mills, the additional expenditure this year may bring the levy to 2½ mills, which compares favorably with other school areas.

Mrs. C. Dyson, retiring trustee, was re-elected for a three-year term, and E. M. Walbank was re-elected auditor. The three trustees are Mrs. C. Dyson, J. C. Rathbone and S. J. Heald.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, July 14.—The wheat market again gave a very disappointing account of itself to-day when there was only a small trade passing, and again a total lack of export business. Foreign news was improved, cables were firm, and at the start there was a little buying for seaboard account, all of which encouraged the local crowd to become bullish following the drastic declines of the past twelve days.

The crowd went long and prices were forced 1¼ cents higher than the close last night, but no new business developed, and when Chicago, which had not followed our full advance, turned weak, early buyers this morning and those on the break yesterday commenced liquidating. The market to-day was practically a local affair.

There was, perhaps, a slight improvement in the demand for an odd grade of cash wheat, but generally the demand or inquiry was very quiet. Holders were not pressing sales, and all spreads were about unchanged. Seaboard reported that a better feeling was indicated in export circles, although sales in the aggregate were not large. Nevertheless, a good inquiry from abroad was reported, with some old and new crop winters delivered for export overnight, also a few sales of Manitobas.

News from Germany stated that it was the government's intention to reopen the banks on Thursday and are preparing the utmost emergency measures for self-help.

During the last few minutes the shorts became scared and covered up. Finding very little for sale, the market reacted upward and closed ½ higher for all months.

Liverpool due on Winnipeg ⅜ to ¾ lower.

CHICAGO

(By Logan & Bryan)

Chicago, July 14.—Wheat: A firmer tone developed early, with some buying being influenced by the higher cables, Liverpool showing improvement, closing ⅜ to ⅞ higher, but selling developed in late trade, with market closing around the previous close.

Business at the gulf was a little better, but still nothing big and there are indications of more active flour buying. Hedging pressure is expected to continue heavy for some time, as the Nebraska movement is expected to be heavy. World stocks, according to Bradstreet's, total 378,000,000 bushels, against 270,000,000 bushels a year ago, this including the large U.S. stocks. This would indicate that stocks elsewhere are not so far from normal.

Russia was said to have fixed 70,000 tons of freight from July to December shipment, making about 1,000,000 tons booked for all grains so far. European crop reports mixed. Country bookings to-day were small at 112,000 bushels. Weather conditions show no great change.

No material change is indicated in spring wheat conditions either in our northwest nor in Canada. Present price levels suggest investment buying on the setbacks.

Corn turned weak after a strong turn early. The early advance was on short covering to some extent with better class of commission house demand, but the buying did not follow the advances to any extent. Weather conditions were generally favorable. Receipts were 56 cars estimated, with primary arrivals of 354,000 bushels vs. 522,000 bushels a year ago. Deliveries were 190,000 bushels.

Cash sales for shipment were 80,000 bushels with country bookings 38,000 bushels. Corn is still high compared to wheat, and the abundance of cheap substitutes offsets a strong statistical position to a great extent. Look for a two-sided market for time-being with any adverse crop news likely to stimulate buying.

Oats rallied early and sold off later with moderate trade. Shipping demand little better. Primary arrivals 84,000 bushels vs. 158,000 bushels a year ago.

Rye followed about same course as other grains. Rallies met fair selling and prices sold off.

NEW OILFIELD AGAIN REPORTED

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 14.—Oil news to-day is featured, by announcement, over the signature of Dr. G. S. Hume, that a crude oil field may be opened up at Fisher Creek, ten miles northwest of producing wells in Turner Valley. The Cotton Belt Mining Company has a test well down 1,400 feet, just above the Dalhousie's, and within striking distance of the lime, which should be reached around 1,800 to 1,900 feet.

A. P. Consolidated intend to shoot the Taber well test this week, with the well drilled to 3,600 feet. Crow's Nest officials, drilling in the Sage Creek district of British Columbia, are more confident than ever of crude production and are awaiting word of completion of their well at any time.

PIONEER GOLD RETURNS BEST YET

From the Bridge River district it is reported that Pioneer Gold's output for June totaled $60,000, the best month on record at the mine, and that Bridge River Placers' directors are particularly pleased with the result of gold gravel testing. Few obstructions were met and values were consistently good.

Trading was rather light during todays' forenoon session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange, with Crow's Nest at 7¾ and Pioneer Gold at 2.25 leading in interest. Reno was a feature of the mines, selling up to 28 and, on the curb, the demand is still for gold stocks. Cariboo Gold, Crescent, Lorne, Bridge River, Consolidated and others are in demand. Curb oils are headed in interest by Baldwin Oils, which company expects to make an announcement of importance this month.

Vancouver, July 14.—Morning sales on the Vancouver Stock Exchange were:

Mines—2,000 Beaver Silver at 5; 1,010 Pioneer Gold at 225; 1,000 Reno Gold at 28.

Canadian Press

Montreal, July 14.—Montreal Stock Exchange listings continued to move in a weakened state during the afternoon session, leaving a long list of losses at the close of the day.

Consolidated Smelters dipped to 96, netting a loss of two points. Brazilian was down to 19⅛, off one. Montreal Power sold down to 3½ and closed at 43¾, off one. Nickel was off ½. Dominion Bridge was also down ½ at 32. Canadian Pacific had a loss of one full point at 26.

W.M.S. PRESENTS GOWN TO PASTOR

Rev. Dr. Wilson Receives Presentation at Home of Mrs. J. H. Fletcher

The home of Mrs. J. H. Fletcher was the scene of the July meeting of the W.M.S. of First Church United, yesterday afternoon when the spacious, flower-decorated rooms were filled to capacity by the large number in attendance. After devoting exercises, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor, was called to the front by the president, Mrs. M. L. McLennan, when Mrs. A. S. Christie, acting for the congregation, with kindly words of appreciation for his services, and the love and esteem in which he is held by all, presented him with a pulpit gown—the actual delivery being made by Mrs. Gill. The pastor, genuinely surprised, acknowledged the gift in his usual happy vein. Musical numbers by Mesdames W. H. Wilson and Young, the Misses Pettigrew and Miss Marjory Watson, varied the programme.

Mrs. Causland, the speaker for the day, who has spent much of her life in Japan, then gave a concise presentation of Christian work in that country, dealing with the progress made and the type of Christian resulting. She used to illustration three outstanding personalities for illustration. Taking up first the career of Nchi-mura, she sketched his life as convicted thief, convert, preacher, author, translator and journalist, now wielding a mighty influence all over the country by voice and pen. In the second place, the speaker dealt with the accomplishments of Mrs. Nobu Jo, a native Christian worker, who has done so much for her fellow country women, saving at least 2,000 of them from suicide and helping all she found suffering in body, soul or mind by her loving service.

Kawgawa, called by universal consent, "the most outstanding Christian in the world," was her third example. Inspired by the menace to his country of Marxism and Communism, he is out with the expressed object of winning a million souls for Christ among his countrymen to combat these evil and pernicious doctrines—an object lesson in a topsy-turvy world apparently indifferent to the danger of losing its soul and suffering mental shipwreck. He calls himself a "Christian Socialist" with the emphasis on the Christian.

Rev. J. K. Unsworth, D.D., followed Mrs. Causland, giving additional light on Kawgawa's life and character and stating that he was now on the Pacific approaching this continent with the object of addressing his countrymen at various points, beginning at Vancouver. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Causland for her illuminating talk.

The president conveyed the gratitude of the society also to Mrs. Fletcher who had done so much to make the meeting a success. Refreshments and a social hour ended the session with the next meeting a special rally for the winter's work, scheduled for September 21.

GERMAN BONDS AGAIN SINK LOW

New York, July 14. (3 p.m.)—The bond market turned soft in the late afternoon although trading in most issues was moderate. German obligations continued a centre of attention and the weakness in them spread to foreign issues generally. A number of the German loans established the lowest prices since the respective issues were floated. The 7s of 1949 and the 5½s of 1965 were two of the most active and lost more than 3 and more than 1 point, respectively. Losses of 1 point or more were scored by Colombian 6s of October, 1961. Antioquia Series A and B 72s, Antwerp 5s, Berlin City Electric 6s, 172s of 1951 and of 1959, Berling Electric Elevated 6½s and Helsingofrs 6½s.

The down trend in domestic corporate issues was just as broad but the individual declines were principally fractional.

German loans were again a focus of attention. The 5½s of 1965 and 7s of 1949 of the National Government receded, but the pressure on them, shown in the reduced volume, was much less than yesterday. The former reached the lowest levels since they were offered at 90 in June last year, and the 7s were within a narrow fraction of the year's bottom price yesterday. Partial recovery appeared about midday.

Other foreign obligations declined irregularly. French 7½s receded on a few sales. Colombian 6s of October 1961, and Chilean 6s of 1960 made some good gains. Most United States loans were dull.

Trading in domestic corporate loans was restricted. Most of the fluctuations were small, but an irregular decline was apparent. Railroad loans were somewhat more active than the public utilities and industrials.

North American warrants of 1961 and Columbia Gas and Electric 5s of May, 1952, were two of the few active utilities to show firmness. The principal characteristic of this group and of industrial issues was their dullness. Prices were narrowly and irregularly lower, but the volume was small.

Wall St. Unable To See German Crisis Outcome

Market Leaders Await Clearing Atmosphere; Resist Any Big Break To-day

Heavy Selling on Foreign News Fails to Develop; French News Better

Associated Press

Wall Street was generally inclined to confess inability to fathom the complex international financial situation arising from the German crisis, and preferred to await a clearing of the atmosphere.

Stocks were heavy most of the day, although they stiffened a little at the finish. German bonds were again weak, although their decline moderated. The foreign exchange market was less confused, however, quotations on the mark remained merely nominal.

U.S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone and Consolidated Gas got down about 2 points, then cancelled about half their losses.

Shares closing a point or so lower included Anaconda, Case, Standard of New Jersey, and Public Service of New Jersey. The majority of shares showed unimportant changes. A few rails rallied, Union Pacific getting up about 1 point, and Atchison nearly 3. Trading was extremely sluggish, the turnover exceeding a million shares by a small margin.

NEWS FROM FRANCE AIDS

"With Wall Street preferring to adopt a policy of watchful waiting anent the European situation, prices in the main body of stocks trended lower with transactions in the smallest volume for some time past. That hopes of a satisfactory solution of the German difficulties were not entirely abandoned, however, was indicated by the restricted dealings.

"In the final hour the trading pace was quickened on news that France had notified the Bank for International Settlements that it does not expect Germany to make the reparations payments which are due on Wednesday.

SHOE INDUSTRY GAINING

"Shoe production this year, while slightly below that for last year, has made substantial gains in recent months and for May, when 28,533,000 pairs were turned out by ninety-five per cent of the industry. There was a gain of 16.4 per cent over May, 1930, and more than sixty per cent over December's output of 17,537,000 pairs, the smallest monthly outturn in years.

"With oil prices down to almost an irreducible minimum, fundamental conditions in the industry are such as to favor improvement, although it still is problematical as to how soon betterment will develop. There was no particular activity in this group of shares, however, and movements followed the market generally."

MINE SUIT IS LISTED FOR TRIAL

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 14.—On the application of the defendant, the Lightning Mine Trust Limited of London, Mr. Justice Fisher in the B.C. Supreme Court set aside a $8,767 judgment entered against it last month by Gilbert Southwell Piper, Vancouver. The company was given leave by the court to defend the claim.

Piper's action is based on a contract entered into at London in March, 1930, when he was appointed general manager with a salary of £1,200 of stock of the company's mine on Lightning Creek, in the Cariboo. The claim is for the balance of an account in connection with services rendered and moneys expended.

Service of the writ and proceedings preliminary thereto was attacked by defendant's counsel, H. S. Wood, K.C., but the judge refused to set aside the writ on irregularities which were urged.

GRAIN MEN HOPEFUL

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 14—Optimism among grain men regarding Germany's financial situation steadied wheat prices on the Grain Exchange to-day. Quotations jumped 1¼ cents in the first hour, but weakness at Chicago, with some record new lows there, removed some of the advance, and final figures were ½ cent above yesterday.

NEW YORK SUGAR

New York, July 14.—Raw sugar was firm early to-day, and while no sales were reported to local refiners, they continued to show interest at last paid prices of 3.45 for spots, but nothing appeared to be offered below 3.48 or 3.50. The only business reported was 76,500 bags of new crop Philippines to operators for December to March shipment at 3.55 up to 3.60.

The withdrawal demand for refined continued of liberal proportions, but no new business was reported and prices were unchanged at 4.[illegible] for fine granulated.

Until the Eleventh Hour

The Ottawa Journal

Parliament, as usual, has left [illegible] major work until the eleventh hou[r]. Hoping prorogation within three week[s] it has just begun to investigate th[e] marketing of agricultural products, look into western credits and financ[e], to probe the constitutional and finan[cial] aspects of Beauharnois. In addi[tion], it has yet to deal with all of th[e] budget resolutions in committee, to [go] over the various changes item by item, has to vote a considerable portion [of] the main estimates, all of the supple[mentaries].

Parliament, quite obviously, can't [do] all of these things within three week[s]. Can't do them efficiently. Yet, havi[ng] spent week after week in either makin[g] campaign speeches or in discussin[g] academic topics, and now wanting [to] go home, it is proceeding to rus[h] helter-skelter through its real wor[k], putting through everything in a hi[t]-and-miss manner, and with the miss[es] perhaps as numerous as the hits.

It is not easy to suggest a way [of] avoiding this annual spectacle. Th[e] forty-minute speech rule did som[e] good, and also the eleven-o'clock clo[s]ing hour, but that they fell far sho[rt] of a complete cure, is evidenced b[y] what is presently happening. Nobod[y] wants to see free speech lost to th[e] House of Commons. But it is obviou[s] enough, or ought to be, that the tim[e] is approaching when some further cu[r]tailment of verbosity will be necessa[ry] if Parliament is to function half e[f]ficiently.

United States Will Build New Destroyers

Bids Will be Called To-morrow for Eleven New War Vessels to Cost Between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 Each; Will be Completed in Thirty Months

Washington, July 14—Designs for eleven new destroyers have been completed and the navy department will advertise for bids to-morrow.

These latest additions to the naval forces will cost from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 each, and will be the first destroyers undertaken by the United States since the war.

The specifications call for vessels of 1,500 tons with a larger armament, a somewhat longer cruising radius and a higher sustained sea speed than the present destroyers.

Like the present destroyers, the new ones will be thirty-five-knot vessels but their greater weight and ruggedness will enable them to make better speed in heavy weather.

Both private companies and navy yards will be invited to submit bids. The department expects the contracts will be let in about two months. They will call for completion of the vessels in thirty months after award of the contract.

Although these are the first destroyers designed in the United States in fourteen years the navy believes they will compare favorably with those of other nations.

McNicholl Reports Good Alaska Trade

"Travel on the Coast is pretty good at present, and I think it will keep getting better until the peak of the tourist trade next month," said George A. McNicholl, general passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways at Vancouver, who arrived in Victoria this morning from the mainland aboard the steamer Prince Robert. He is spending the day here and will go to Seattle this evening aboard the Prince David.

The trade to Alaska is almost as good as last year, Mr. McNicholl reported. The steamer Prince Henry, sailing from Vancouver for the North every Thursday evening, was booked almost to capacity last week and will take out another large list on Thursday next. The Prince George, which sailed from Vancouver yesterday evening for the north, also had a large list of passengers.

Mr. McNicholl spent most of the day visiting transportation men in the city. He will pass through Victoria in a few days on his way home from Seattle.

CAPTAIN'S WIFE FLIES HERE TO GREET HUSBAND

Mrs. Jensen Made First Trip in Airplane To-day to Meet Ss. President Lincoln

Capt. M. M. Jensen, master of the liner President Lincoln, returned from sea this morning to find that his wife had taken up flying. Mrs. Jensen made her first flight in the air to meet her husband at this port. She flew over from Seattle in Percy Barnes's mail plane and arrived here just as the President Lincoln was steaming away from quarantine towards the Rithet piers.

"It was really wonderful," said Mrs. Jensen, when seen in her husband's cabin aboard the liner after it docked. "It was my first experience in the air and I enjoyed it thoroughly. All night I lay awake rather dreading it. But now I wouldn't have missed it for anything."

"The view of Victoria from the air was well worth the trip, Mrs. Jensen said. "I always thought Victoria a most beautiful place," she said, "but from the air it looks wonderful."

Just before the plane circled over Victoria to come to its landing in the inner harbor Mrs. Jensen saw her husband's ship near the quarantine station. This gave her another thrill. She landed from the plane near the outer docks and when the President Lincoln tied up she was one of the first aboard.

Capt. and Mrs. Jensen talked of their coming shore vacation together. The captain is getting several months' leave after forty years on the sea. Just where he will spend his vacation he was unable to say this morning.

"I think I'll take to the hills," the genial skipper remarked, but Mrs. Jensen said she wasn't so sure they wouldn't spend it in an airplane.

LINDBERGH PLANS CALL AT BARROW ON PACIFIC TRIP

Nome, Alaska, July 14.—A proposed stop at Point Barrow, Alaska, by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his flight to the Orient was revealed yesterday with an order given here to deliver 200 gallons of gasoline and thirty gallons of oil there.

The Lomen Commercial Company, Nome, was requested to ship the supplies to Point Barrow for him.

The captain of the cutter Northland, leaving here about July 18, will deliver the gasoline at Point Barrow, about 600 miles to the north. Barring bad ice conditions the trip should be made in less than a week, although the agreement is to deliver it by August 15.

Orient Liner Leaves $700,000 Cargo Here

Ss. President Lincoln Here Several Hours This Morning Discharging Valuable Raw Silk Cargo; Will be Sent to San Francisco Aboard H. F. Alexander This Evening

One thousand bales were unloaded at the Rithet piers, where they will remain until the sailing of the liner H. F. Alexander this evening at 11 o'clock for San Francisco. There the silk will be loaded on to the Dollar liner President Johnson for the trip through the Panama Canal to New York. The President Lincoln was here nearly three hours discharging this large and valuable cargo.

There were thirty-four passengers in the first cabin and ninety-eight in the steerage aboard the President Lincoln. Five first-class and a party of Chinese steerage left the liner here.

Besides the silk cargo there were about fifty tons of general cargo for Victoria, while more than 2,000 tons went on to Seattle. Mail for Victoria amounted to 169 bags, of which twenty went on to Seattle immediately after the ship docked, aboard the mail plane. For Seattle the ship had 800 bags of mail for distributing throughout the United States.

Capt. M. M. Jensen, veteran skipper of the President Lincoln, reported an exceptionally fine trip from Yokohama, which port was left eleven days ago. There was little rough weather to speak of, and the liner even missed the fog which has been hovering over the coast for the last few days.

The President Lincoln will have only a week in port at Seattle this voyage. She will be here again outbound to the Orient next Thursday afternoon. She is making this quick turn-round in order to connect with the liner President Madison in Orient waters. The Lincoln is then going on the Orient-California-New York run while the President Madison will be placed on the North Pacific service.

Passenger Throws Money Overboard From Coast Ship

Prince Rupert, B.C., July 14.—As the steamer Prince Rupert, sailing for Vancouver yesterday afternoon, drew away from the dock, a stranger on board was seen to empty his pockets of money and cast rolls of bills toward the wharf. Some fluttered into the water, while a wad of tens and fives struck the wharf and were scrambled after by the nearest small boys until police took charge of the situation. It is thought the man must have thrown away at least $100.

As the boat put out into the stream the man was seen being restrained by other passengers from throwing more money overboard.

LINCOLN HAS VARIED LIST FROM ORIENT

Brings in Business Men and Missionaries, Several of Whom Disembarked Here

W. K. Fowler, director of the International General Electric Company of Yokohama, was a visitor in Victoria this morning, having arrived from across the Pacific on the liner President Lincoln. He and Mrs. Fowler left the ship here and will remain several days before proceeding to Vancouver en route across Canada to spend a holiday in the eastern United States. He will reurn to the Far East in the fall.

Five cabin passengers left the President Lincoln here this morning. The other three were missionaries. They were Rev. Deane C. Walker, connected with the American Presbyterian Mission at Shanghai, en route to the United States on vacation with Mrs. Walker and Miss Florence A. Fee, missionary with the United Church of Canada returning to Toronto after several years' service in the interior of China.

The Melody Girl

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

(Copyright, 1931, by NEA Service)

"I'm quite sure. Good-bye. I'll let you know about the contract as soon as I get home."

"Oh yes, I see. Well, good-bye."

"Good-bye."

A wave of her hand, and she was gone, to let her mother make her comfortable for her rest and refresh her throat with milk and pine oil. She was too excited to sleep although everything ordinarily conductive to slumber had been done for her by her doting parent. Mrs. Everett, peeping for the tenth time into the darkened room where she lay and finding her still awake, came in to coax her to close her eyes and try to sleep.

Suddenly Irene sat up in a flutter of excitement. "Oh, I forgot," she exclaimed. "I told Mrs. Reed you'd be right over. Something dreadful happened, and it was all Beryl's fault. Really, mother, I don't know what she'll get us into some day with her crazy ideas."

"I mean that she nearly let Angie Reed drown himself this morning. Poor Mrs. Reed is all upset and of course Beryl is trying to high-hand the whole situation. She even attempted to order Tommy around, but I settled that. Just the same, I think you'd better go over and see what you can do. It's the least this family can offer as an apology for Beryl's carelessness. Somebody ought to do something about letting her have her way with those kids."

* * *

Mrs. Everett sighed deeply. "I suppose I'll have to go over," she said with a touch of weariness. "But I wish you'd told me sooner. I was just starting a pie for dinner." She paused and looked at Irene hopefully. "I don't suppose you could finish it?" she asked timidly.

"Mother!" Irene rebuked her. "I've got to rest; you know that."

"Please don't let anyone disturb me," she said irritably. "With all this on top of what happened last night I'm completely exhausted. And I hardly got started with Mrs. Reed before Beryl came in and turned the house upside down."

Mrs. Everett started to ask how Angie was, thought better of it as Irene turned over on her side, and went out, quietly closing the door behind her.

She went back to the kitchen and put away the things she'd got out in preparation for making the pie, took off her apron, and returned upstairs to make herself presentable. It was her belief, fostered by Irene, that it became her to hide the graying of her hair with henna. That Beryl thought it hardened her wrinkled features was only another proof in their eyes that Beryl was not smart in her taste.

And when Mrs. Everett touched her lips with rouge, she was happily unaware that their thinness was not adapted to the addition of false color. Rouge looked well on Irene's rosebud mouth and all fashionable women used it, they agreed, so why not Mrs. Everett.

She looked, as she walked hurriedly toward's the Reeds' house, precisely what she was—the somewhat vulgarly dressed mother of a daughter who saw no beauty in age; a spoiled daughter whose taste and whims colored the more characterless mother's life in too many respects.

She carried with her an everlasting agitation of a sense of futile effort. Beryl was sorry to see her arrive at the Reeds' among the neighbor women who had begun to gather there. She feared her mother's outspoken reproaches.

* * *

Once she had said to her mother and Irene that she could not see how blackening her whitened them any. Irene had wanted to know in what way she had ever discredited the family, and Mrs. Everett had been deeply wounded. Beryl had given up her self-defence as a hopeless undertaking.

This was when Irene had apologized profusely at Beryl's expense to a neighbor for the damage done to the latter's house gutters by the squirrels that came to feed on the nuts Beryl brought home from the grocery store as part of her wages. The squirrels ate the nuts in the gutters and clogged them with the shells. Irene had talked to the neighbor as though Beryl had known this unlikely result would come about and had supplied the nuts to the squirrels over her family's protest.

The feeling Beryl had known then came over her now as her mother proceeded to exonerate the family for blame in this, her incorrigible daughter's latest escapade.

And she could see that the women were impressed—even Mrs. Reed, who, until to-day, had been one of the staunchest supporters. Well, when one's own mother . . . The thought trailed away without a definite conclusion in the girl's weary brain. She was tired—dog tired—as she'd have said if anyone had asked how she felt. She wanted to go somewhere and be alone.

"Where's Irene?" she asked her mother, interrupting a flow of meaningless talk. Told that Irene was at home she decided not to go there.

"Poor Irene," her mother remarked and launched into a recital of what the day had brought to Irene. Everyone was interested, and when Beryl broke in again to say that she thought she'd go to a picture show they considered her attitude toward her talented sister a callous one.

Beryl pretended not to notice, and was leaving the house when suddenly her mother called her back.

CHAPTER VIII

"I think," Mrs. Everett said to Beryl in the voice of one who copes with a hopeless situation, "that it would be more considerate of you to go to your sister and see if there isn't something you can do for her. You know better than anyone else and with this audition ahead of her to-morrow she is really under a great strain."

All the women looked at Beryl. For a moment defiance was plainly expressed in the flush that spread over her cheeks and in the pronounced lift of her chin, but common sense came to her rescue and saved her from making a scene.

"And someone must cook dinner," her mother added suggestively. "Heaven knows I can't do everything, and I'm sure Mrs. Reed needs me here. Someone must make up to her for . . ."

"What's the trouble?" Charlie Reed's voice cut in as he made his way into the room.

It seem to him that they all tried to tell him at once, but he turned to Beryl. She told him as simply as she could what had happened, neither accusing nor sparing herself.

"I'll never let him go away alone again," Mrs. Reed sobbed, her eyes beseechingly upon her husband's face.

"What?" he said, surprised. Then: "I guess what that young fellow needs is a lesson in sportsmanship. It wasn't playing fair to go in by himself while the others were busy," he added, and strode away upstairs.

Mrs. Reed gasped, and Beryl experienced a blessed feeling of relief. At least there was one adult in the world who was not eager to pillory her.

"I'll cook dinner," she said pleasantly to her mother, and hurried away.

One among the women, realizing that they had been outdone in generosity by a man, remarked vaguely: "Beryl's a good cook, isn't she?"

Mrs. Everett sighed. "When I can get her into the kitchen," she admitted.

But to-day Beryl's mind was not on cooking. She saw the apples, sliced and spiced, and guessed that they were intended for a pie, but when she she made the crust she forgot the rule for mixing it and stood rubbing the shortening and flour to a fineness that would rob the pie of all flakiness.

* * *

Irene came in while she mused over the pastry bowl, to get a glass of ice water. She studied Beryl for a moment with sly speculativeness. Then she said with a plaintive whimper, "I've got a frightful headache."

"That's too bad," Beryl said with uncertain sympathy. She was too used to faked headaches in the family to take them seriously.

"Really I have," Irene went on. "I don't know what I'm going to do."

"Take an aspirin and lie down."

"I don't mean about my head. I've done everything for that, but I've got to get that yellow blouse washed and I can hardly stand on my feet."

"What do you want the blouse for?"

"Didn't mother tell you?"

"Tell me what?"

"That I'm singing for RKG tomorrow?"

"And you must sing in a yellow blouse. I see—a yellow linen blouse that's been waiting a week for you to launder it."

"It's the only decent one I've got to go with my grey suit," Irene pouted. "I'm not lazy. It's not my fault if I can't get things done. Tommy's hardly given me a moment to myself for weeks."

She watched, but Beryl showed no sign of feeling the blade. Irene could never be quite sure when her thrusts had gone home.

"I don't seem to have so much time myself somehow," Beryl said confidentially.

"Well, if you aren't interested enough in my career to help me when I'm sick I don't suppose you'd care to go with me to-morrow," Irene baited. She'd had no intention of asking Beryl to accompany her to the broadcasting studio, but she hated washing and ironing, and Beryl could do it beautifully. Of course, she couldn't sing . . . but Irene knew she'd love to go to the studio.

"If you're able to go upstairs and fetch it down here I'll wash it," Beryl compromised. "I wouldn't miss your audition for anything."

Irene was gone, and when she returned Beryl saw a glimmer of pink among the folds of the yellow blouse. "What are you ringing in on me?" she asked suspiciously.

"Only a dance set," Irene said lightly. "It will just take you a minute while the iron is hot."

"Well, I said 'anything,'" Beryl admitted. "My mistake—but it's too bad you didn't bring the Monday wash along too."

"Don't be mean," Irene coaxed. "I might be able to do a lot for you some day—if you should develop a voice."

Beryl laughed. "Anything can happen," she said. "Even that."

Irene was seized with a magnanimous impulse. "Maybe if you'd cut out that crazy 'tapping' as you call it, you'd discover that you have something to work with anyway."

"You mean a real voice?" Beryl appeared to be deeply impressed. "A soprano—like yours?"

"You would be sacrilegious," Beryl retorted and left the room.

Irene was so insulted that she decided Beryl should not accompany her to the studio after all. But she did not go near Beryl to tell her this while the latter washed and ironed the lingerie and cooked the dinner.

In fact, she said nothing during the meal of her new decision. Mrs. Everett unconsciously appeased her injured feelings somewhat by criticizing the food.

"Mooning over someone?" Irene asked maliciously.

Beryl nodded. "Someone I feel sorry for," she said sweetly, and Irene's intuition warned her to drop the subject. When Beryl spoke like that she was going to be cuttingly sarcastic, and Irene didn't want to lose her temper to the point of disclosing to Beryl what she had in mind for her.

But when she did speak of it, the next morning at breakfast, she met with opposition from an unexpected quarter. Beryl was away minding the store while Mr. Everett—who left the house before his wife or Irene were up—returned to breakfast with them.

On this occasion he seemed to be in a hurry. "Beryl tells me she's going to New York with you," he said to Irene. "Give me some more coffee if you've got some hot, Mother. I want to get back and finish the vegetable rack before Beryl leaves. If you'd come over and help," he began suggestively, again addressing himself to his younger daughter, only to be interrupted by his wife's horrified:

* * *

"Oh, you're as bad as Beryl!" Mrs. Everett exclaimed. "Can't you see what's ahead of your daughter? But of course, you would't know," she added with a weary sigh. "Fame means nothing to you. All you've ever known is turnips and cabbages. Why, I don't believe you've ever sold an alligator pear in your life!" she added, warming to her subject.

"Mother," Irene broke in stiffly. "After all, even alligator pears have nothing to do with my career. I should like to forget groceries for a while. I'm sick to death of the thought of them."

Mr. Everett grunted, and looked at the two eggs and bacon on her plate, the stack of toast and jar of jam.

"It's not for this family to despise groceries," he said testily. "And I'd like some more coffee if anyone around here has time to think of me."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Splashy Ride

(Copyright, 1931, by Howard R. Garis)

"Dear me! This is too bad!" said Uncle Wiggily as he carefully drove his automobile along the woodland road. "Those little tykes didn't pay any heed to what I told them about the danger of hanging on behind my car with their roller skates. I must do something else than just talk to them."

Uncle Wiggily had gone for a ride in his auto, or his "pullomobile," as Baby Bunty, Jingle and Jangle called it because they held on behind and were pulled along. Uncle Wiggily had caught them at it and had told them they must not do such a thing for they might get hurt. He had driven off, thinking the rabbit children would mind. But he had not gone far, as I told you in last night's story, before he heard behind him the whirr of roller skate wheels again. He knew what had happened.

"Those little tykes waited until I sat at the steering wheel with my back toward them and then they just hooked on again and let me pull them on their rollers," said the rabbit to himself. "I can tell without looking, by the noise their rollers make, that they are hitching on again. I told them another car might come up behind and bump them, but that didn't seem to scare them. Now, what can I do to make them know it is dangerous to play this way? What can I do?"

All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily looked ahead, down the road, and he saw a puddle of water. It wasn't a very big puddle, nor very deep. In fact it was just the right kind of a puddle for what he was going to do. Mr. Longears laughed and twinkled his pink nose when he saw it.

His auto, or pullomobile as the children called it, was still rolling along slowly. Uncle Wiggily had not stopped it when he heard, behind him, the whirr of the roller skate wheels and knew the children were hitching on, though he had begged them not to. So all the while he was thinking of playing a trick by a splashy ride, the car was slowly moving. Behind, holding fast by their front paws, while on their hind paws were roller skates, Jingle, Jangle and Baby Bunty were having what they thought was a dandy ride.

"It's just wonderful!" said Baby Bunty.

"Grand!" said Jingle.

"And so exciting!" exclaimed Jangle. "I don't believe anything will happen like what Daddicums said."

"No," agreed her sister, "he just said that to scare us!"

"I wish Unkie Wig would make his pullomobile go faster, though," said Baby Bunty. "I like to ride fast."

"So do I," said Jingle. "It makes your paws feel so funny when you roll fast over little bumps in the road."

"And it's so much easier to be pulled along on roller skates than it is to push out with your legs and ride yourself," said Jangle.

The little rabbit children thought they were having a grand time. But, really, as Uncle Wiggily had told them, it was dangerous fun. Now he was going to show them why on this splashy ride.

Nearer and nearer he steered his auto to the mud puddle. It was in the middle of the road, but though Uncle Wiggily could see it the bunny girls could not. For they were close up behind the auto and you can't see through the back of an auto, unless you're up on the seat and look through the glass window.

So Jingle, Jangle and Baby Bunty, not knowing anything about the puddle they were coming to, held on and laughed as their wheeled skates rolled along. Uncle Wiggily drove straight for the puddle and before they could let go those three, rather bad little rabbit girls were dragged right through the middle of the water and mud.

"This is terrible! Look at me!" cried Jangle for she had been pulled through the deepest part of the puddle and some of the water and mud had splashed up on her nose and she looked very funny. But she did not feel very funny.

"My goodness! Were you children hitching on behind my auto again, after I told you not to?" asked Uncle Wiggily, stopping the car and jumping out. "My goodness! Such a surprise!" He pretended to be surprised at seeing them.

"Oh, Unkie Wig! Look what you did! You pulled us right through the puddle!" said Baby Bunty.

"Dear me! So I did!" cried Mr. Longears, pretending to be more surprised. But he wasn't a bit. "Now I'm going to do something else," he said. And what it was you shall learn to-morrow night. Then the story will be called Uncle Wiggily and the silly fox. But please don't let the rubber ball fall in the bottle of milk or it might drink it all up.

Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1931

According to astrology this is rather an unlucky day. While this configuration prevails it is well to be careful in all important business transactions.

There is an aspect conducive to snap judgments and wrong decisions. The mental vision may be blurred under this direction of the stars.

The mind should be sternly disciplined against the entertaining of despondent or depressing thoughts. Under this sway suicides are usually more numerous than usual.

The age is to be celebrated for tremendous engineering and architectural feats, many of which will bear the stamp of 1931.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes. They should keep in beaten tracks as much as possible.

Children born on this day may be sensitive and high strung, persistent and successful. The subjects of this sign usually pursue an ambition with diligence.

Among those who celebrated it as a birthday was Thomas C. Platt, 1833, United States senator.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE— —By AHERN

OUT OUR WAY— —By WILLIAM

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

EAR MISS DIX—At the age of sixteen my mother died and I left school to keep house for my father and an afflicted sister. My father is very well , but I do all the housework, make all of our clothes and take care of two ws, as we live in the country. My her is good to me except that he is t willing for me to have any easure. I am a girl of twenty-one, od looking and popular with the ys, but he will not allow me to entain my friends in my own home cause we keep him awake. He abutely refuses me permission to atd a dance, and when I go into town the movies, as I do occasionally with boy, he creates horrible scenes if we not return before 11 or 12 o'clock. Now, Miss Dix, I am a good girl and go with nice boys, and I only desire have a few of the amusements that long to my time of life. What shall do? Lie to my father about where I ? Get married just to get away from me? Leave my father and sister to e care of a hired housekeeper and t a job, as I could easily do, or what? could you say something that would ake my father be a little more lenient to me?

PHYLLIS.

Answer—I am afraid I can't say anything that would change your father's point of view because his attitude is inspired by selfishness and jealousy and obstinate stupidity, and these make him shut his eyes to the injustice that he is doing you.

He does not want boys to come to see you because he is afraid that you ght fall in love with one of them and leave him, and that would interfere th his comfort. No doubt he loves you and he realizes how lonely and dreary e home would be without your bright presence in it. Besides, you are cheaper d much more efficient than any servant he could hire.

And he isn't considering your happiness or welfare at all. It doesn't even occur to him that you are sacrificing your youth to him and your afflicted sister, or that it is hard for a young girl to have laid upon her weak shoulders the burden of a family that only an older woman is strong enough to carry.

I think there is no more pathetic situation in life than that of the girl in r teens who, through her mother's death, is suddenly thrust into her mother's ace and forced to assume duties and obligations that are not of her making.

Many a time I have felt like weeping when I have seen little girls struggling to hold a household together, cooking and washing and scrubbing when they should have been playing themselves, and mothering younger brothers and sisters when they need mothering as much as the youngsters.

That is what you have done, Phyllis, and I wish that I knew of some way making your father see what a heroine you have been and what a good sport u have been in standing by him in his necessity. I wish still more that I uld make him see how unfair he is in not being willing to let you have all e good times you possibly can as poor pay for all that you do, and I wish most all that I could make him see that now is your time to make your matrionial hay, and that if he keeps you from marrying, as he will if he drives all the young men away, he is dooming you to a lonely old age.

I do not believe that any child is called upon to sacrifice his or her whole life to their parents. Undoubtedly, children owe a great duty to their fathers and mothers, but it does not involve their giving up their every chance of happiness and prosperity to a father or mother's whim. So I think that if your father refuses to let you go out with nice young men and have nice young men come to see you in the proper way, you will be justified in leaving him to the tender mercies of a hired housekeeper while you get yourself a job and work for an employer who does not consider that he has the right to tyrannize over you.

But don't get married just to get away from home. That is jumping out of e frying pan into the fire, because very often husbands are just as bossy as thers.

DOROTHY DIX.

* * * * * * *

EAR MISS DIX—I am a senior in college and desperately in love with an adorable girl. I wish to secretly marry her and have only her immediate mily know it, but her father and brother object, even though we have the nsent of her mother. I wish to take up a three-year law course and then nounce our marriage. We are so much in love that we do not feel that we n wait until I am through school to marry. Please advise me what to do.

A LONELY SENIOR.

Answer—If you are so much in love as all that, I should certainly advise you to get married, but do it openly and honorably and publicly and not have any hole-and-corner business about it.

What is the objection to getting decently married? There is nothing to event a married man from attending a law school. There is nothing to keep girl from keeping on with her job and supporting herself after marriage as e is doing before marriage if she is a business girl. And if she is a domestic rl she can still live at home with her parents who, I should think, would uch prefer to have her respectably married, and everybody know about it stead of everybody guessing about her relations to you, and putting scanlous interpretations upon them, as they would be bound to do if you were cretly married.

The idea that you and the girl could be married and still keep up the pretence of just being an engaged couple is preposterous. If you were only going to make a discreet call upon her, and take her out for an hour or two now and then, there would be no object in being married. Men and women get married because they want to be together. And unless it is publicly known that they have a perfect right to be together it sets every tongue wagging.

The girl's father and brother are perfectly right to object to a secret marage, and they show their knowledge of the world by refusing to consent to e. There is always a little smear of scandal about a secret marriage, and body ever quite believes in a belated marriage certificate.

Lots of young people who are desperately in love with each other feel that they cannot afford to marry, but they cannot settle the problem by a secret marriage. Far better for them to have the courage to go into the adventure openly and boldly, and for the girl to go to work and help finance the romance that, in that way, they can keep clean instead of dragging it through the mire.

Speeding Over the Water

How fast can man travel on water? If you have ever rowed a boat in n effort to get somewhere in a hurry, ou know the rowboat is slow. More han once, while rowing a boat, I have elt it might be a good idea to get ut and walk—if the water were not o wet.

An Outboard Motorboat

In 1927, Yale made an excellent ecord in a race against Harvard, the ale crew covering two miles in 9 inutes 23 4-5 seconds. The best ecord in an Oxford-Cambridge race as made by Oxford in 1911. The xford crew rowed four and a quarter iles in 18 minutes and 29 seconds. hat was even better time per mile han the Yale crew made, but the Oxord students were traveling barely ourteen miles per hour.

The old blustering wind has carried hen faster over water than they have ver rowed. Sailing yachts do not nake very fast records—seldom more than eleven miles per hour—but the clipper ship called "Sovereign of the Seas" covered 437 miles in a single day, an average of eighteen miles per hour.

To find really striking speeds, however, we must turn to power-driven ships.

You might suppose the fastest ships would be the great ocean liners, but that is not the case. Most ocean liners travel less than twenty-five miles per hour. Even the speedy Europa and Bremen average less than thirty-three miles per hour.

It is the small motorboat which leads in speed records. Motorboats began to come into use forty-five years ago. One early motorboat was placed on a lake in Germany in 1886. It carried eleven persons. What the speed was, I do not know; but it could not have been great, for the engine was of only one horsepower.

Since that time, motorboats have been greatly improved. Many launches which can average sixty miles per hour are being turned out now.

While I was in England during the late spring of 1930, Sir Henry Segrave made a world's record for motor boats when he traveled more than ninety-eight miles per hour. Shortly afterward, while he was trying to break his own record, Segrave was fatally injured. He was speeding at the rate of more than 122 miles per hour when his boat capsized.

Such a programme as this, added to that of the Royal Theatre, and augmented by special attractions at the many miniature golf courses and bowling alleys in the city will make these two days outstanding over any previous celebrations ever held in Victoria. PRICE SPREAD IS QUESTIONED

B.C. Growers Ask Governmental Inquiry Into Potato Price Range

While wholesale early potatoes were quoted at $70 per ton in Winnipeg, $80 in Regina and $120 in Saskatoon on July 3, British Columbia Coast growers were receiving $12.50 per ton for their produce, according to a formal complaint with the Provincial Government by the Vernon Fruit Union of Associated Growers.

Huge disparity between the prices quoted to growers and the wholesale prairie range is revealed in official reports of the Federal Department of Agriculture, it is claimed. Investigation of this spread has been asked.

While the domestic supply in B.C. was quoted at $20 and $25 per ton, the huge rates prevailed on the prairies, it was claimed. Moreover the $12.50 received by Coast growers was only half the production cost of the potatoes, they say.

DOMINION THEATRE

In a bitter clash of love and passion, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer South Sea island romance, "Never the Twain Shall Meet," which opened at the Dominion Theatre on Saturday, is a story which moves swiftly from heartthrobs to thrills and from thrills to laughs.

Directed by the veteran South Sea island director, W. S. Van Dyke, who made "The Pagan" and "White Shadows in the South Seas," both taken at Tahiti, there is never a pause in the powerful story. Freshened after his return from the heart of Africa, where he filmed "Trader Horn," Van Dyke again turned to the Polynesian group, that mysterious and romantic section of the globe that he knows so well.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Gloria Swanson in "Indiscreet," which opened yesterday evening at the Capitol Theatre, finds a way to overcome that situation with a highly colorful dramatic performance providing good entertainment with a decided emphasis. The film brings to mind the star's earlier success, "The Trespasser," having a central character who risks her own happiness to save another from heartbreak. It all comes about because of a former admirer of shallow affections, who gets himself engaged to the girl's young sister.

COLISEUM THEATRE

"From 'School Marm' to Screen Star" reads the biography of Medeleine Carroll who plays the leading role in "The W Plan," now current at the Coliseum Theatre. Madeline taught readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic to little English school children before she gained prominence on the stage and silent screen and later in the talkies.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

The little theatre was the ladder to success for both Ann Harding and Harry Bannister. She started with the Provincetown Players in New York and he was appearing in the New York Theatre Guild's production of "Strange Interlude" when he was selected for a screen role. Both appear in "Girl of the Golden West," now at the Columbia Theatre.

CLAIMS WALKIE WEDDING LEGAL

Dr. Clem Davies, in Sermon Here, Opposes Attorney-General's View

The first walkathon wedding performed at Vancouver and declared invalid by Attorney-General Pooley was quite legal, though its circumstances were disgusting, Rev. Dr. Clem Davies of the Victoria City Temple declared in his sermon here Sunday evening.

"Of course the walkathon wedding was legal," Dr. Davies said. "The Attorney-General, while an excellent man, does not decide the law in this country."

The courts, Dr. Davies explained, must rule on all points of law ultimately and the Attorney-General's views are only his own opinions. The Marriage Act, he said, provides that a wedding must be held with open doors but does not say that no fee for admission may be charged. People are really married in law when they have secured a marriage license and presented it to the officiating minister, Dr. Davies argued. Registration of the marriage afterwards has nothing to do with its legality or otherwise.

ON PAR WITH SOME WEDDINGS

Dr. Davies deprecated the fact that the walkathon wedding was performed before thousands of witnesses in a spectacular fashion, but he considered it only on a par with some of the larger society weddings where the crowds are often so large that the police must be called into maintain order. This, he said, had often happened in Victoria. There is no religion in such weddings, he asserted.

As for walkathons, apart from weddings, Dr. Davies declared that the medical profession, having appointed itself guardian of public health, should protest against these exhibitions on health grounds. Whatever arguments might be used to the contrary walkathons were bound to prove a danger to health by using up the reserves of strength which their participants would need between the ages of forty and seventy.

REAL SUCKERS ONES WHO PAY

"If we allowed dogs, horses or donkeys to undergo the same torture the Society for the Prevention of Crulety to Animals would step in and have those in charge arrested," he asserted.

He added that walkathons seemed to be a device by which "cheaper elements" from across the line came to Canada "to get some of our good Canadian dollars." The real suckers, he said, are those who pay to see these exhibitions.

NOT PUBLIC, POOLEY MAINTAINS

Asked about the statement of Dr. Davies, Attorney-General Pooley at once agreed that he had no power to decide legal points which must be left to the courts. But he reiterated his assertion that a marriage held in a place where admission is charged cannot be valid under British Columbia statutes. Such a place is not public, according to the law, he stated.

Playhouse Walkers Pass 500-Hour Mark

At noon to-day there were still five and a half couples in the Playhouse Walkathon. Although all the contestants are looking remarkably well and are gaining in weight, it looks very much as if the contest is drawing to a close, as these couples have now been on the floor for over 500 hours. According to the management this is going to be an exciting week at the Playhouse. Every one of the couples left is determined to fight it out for the first prize.

Sooke

The annual meeting of Sooke Superior School district was held in Sooke Hall on Saturday evening, with Alexander Campbell in the chair. Thomas Wright was elected to the school board for three years, replacing R. J. Mugford, and A. Kohout was re-elected auditor.

The financial report was read by Charles Thompson, secretary, and expenses for the coming year were appropriated by the ratepayers.

A report on the work of Miss H. Kelly, district nurse of the Esquimalt rural nursing service, was read and her services again engaged.

The chairman was instructed to discuss with the Department of Public Works the approach to the Sooke River bridge, this being considered unsafe for school children walking to and from school. Among other subjects discussed were consolidation of the schools in this district and beautifying the school grounds by planting of shade trees.

A vote of thanks was tendered R. J. Mugford, who acted as school trustee over a long period of years. The motion was offered by A. Kohout and seconded by A. Campbell.

NEW LABOR SCHEME

Hamilton, Ont., July 14.—Organization of self-contained labor camps in the north of Canada is proposed in a resolution passed yesterday evening by the Central Hamilton branch of the Canadian Legion. The resolution, which will be presented at the forthcoming provincial convention in Oshawa next month, suggests each community produce its own food and other necessities.

LIVELY EVENTS PROMISED FOR THIS WEEK-END

Travelers Arranging Many Attractions For Diamond Jubilee Celebration

With the dog parade past, and voted on every hand as an outstanding success, the United Commercial Travelers now turn toward the last of the preparations for the great gala festival of the B.C. Diamond Jubilee Celebrations, which they are sponsoring for two days on Friday and Saturday of this week.

An official communication from Capt. E. J. Spooner, R.N., confirms the announcement that the concert party of the H.M.S. Dragon will put on an attractive programme at the Royal Theatre both nights.

Good music, hilarious comedy turns and a display of exceptionally clever acrobatics and juggling will be included in the performance.

At the Crystal Garden during these days there will be constant entertainment, the scheduled programme for the Friday and Saturday evenings being carefully planned to leave no dull moment. Water polo, swimming races, fancy diving and exhibition swimming drills will be featured during the early part of both evenings, the Victoria Girls' Band rendering selections during the intervals between swimming events. At 9 o'clock dancing will commence to the orchestras of Messrs. Hunt, Acres and Findlay. In between the dance numbers the pupils of Dorothy Wilson will put on turns which include Oriental and tap dancing, together with tableaux. The floor committee will be Harold Brynjolfson, Bill Newcombe, Eric Badminton and Frank Partington. The arduous post of master of ceremonies will be filled by Sam Winterbottom.
